Intricate System Maintained at Naval Observatory

Series of Precision Clocks Used in Radio Service

School of Air Broadcast Scheduled by KHJ

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m., presents Dr. Frank McCoy, health expert, and Miss Jennie Durkee, instrumental soloist.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT.

Demands for highly accurate time signals keep Uncle Sam on his toes these days. The time for the United States is transmitted by telegraph from the Naval Observatory and retransmitted by radio from Arlington and other radio stations. If these signals are received directly and automatically, the error is seldom as much as 2b of a second with the average error less than 5b of a second.

Three high-precision clocks are maintained in an underground vault at the Naval Observatory in Washington in a constant temperature and pressure. These clocks record sidereal, or star time, and are compared at frequent intervals with the passage of certain stars over the meridian. They are so accurate that they never have to be reset unless an accident interferes with their running.

STILL ANOTHER CLOCK

Another clock operating on mean solar time is maintained at the observatory for transmitting time signals, since the length of the mean real day does not agree with that of the solar day, which is used in everyday life. It is compared daily with the sidereal clocks and corrected to agree with mean solar time computed from the times of star passages. It has a special code by which time signals may be transmitted, and it is these signals that are heard by radio.

KHJ at 11:30 a.m. will present the American School of the Air. The time it is to be the story of William Brewster, first ruling elder of the Pilgrim colony that founded Plymouth in 1620. CHAUTEMPS LOSES OUT

French Ministry Falls Again

Hundred Deputies Cast 300 Ballots Amid Wild Confusion

Cheered and Deemed Probable Choice for Premiership

Feb. 25. (AP)—France's tottering government met defeat at its first appearance in the Chamber of Deputies under attack from the opposition.

Camille Chautemps, declaring that it was important for France to send a delegation to the London naval conference, won a vote of confidence by a margin of 313 to 277.

Even the official figures that were contested in the official chamber and were established only two hours after the vote.

PREMIER CHEERED

For the first time in the history of the republic the Chamber rose to give the incoming Minister a hand, after cheering Premier Tardieu on his entrance. M. Chautemps, for whom the downfall of his predecessor in order to "give the Socialist party a chance to accept portfolios."

Political opinion in Paris today was that Andre Tardieu or Aristide Briand will be called by President Doumergue to form a new government, however, already has declared his disinclination to accept the Premiership in any government willing to take the portfolio of Foreign Affairs. Premier Tardieu therefore is expected to have an excellent chance of coming back as Premier when the Chamber that defeated him votes a week ago.

DIVERSE SCENE

The vote took place amid great excitement inside and outside the Chamber, where the proceedings was carefully watched by nearly an hour, while the corridors and the lobbies were the center of excitement.

Thousands of curious persons filled the environments of the Seine in the vicinity of the Palais-Bourbon to [illegible] the vote. When Premier Tardieu and his Ministers left the building on their arrival to tender their resignations to President Doumergue the crowd cried "Tardieu"—"long live Tardieu"—"long live the Cabinet called Poincare a little before

PLEA MADE BY HOOVER

People Urged to Aid Economy

President Says Many Needed Projects Must Wait Till Some Future Time

Appeal Follows Demand to Congress to Co-operate; Debate in Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—President Hoover directed the demand for government economy to the people today in an appeal that they support Congress in curtailing expenditures.

Expanding a statement issued at the White House after a breakfast conference yesterday between the Chief Executive and Congressional leaders, Mr. Hoover said that only a small percentage of the proposals to spend money is originating from members of Congress.

On the other hand, it is his opinion that the proposals are arising from groups all over the country. Many of the proposals, he said, eventually should be undertaken and many no doubt will be undertaken some time in future years.

SUPPORT ASKED

"I hope," Mr. Hoover said, "that the people at home will realize that the government cannot undertake every worthy social, economic, military and naval expansion, increases in pay to government employees, expanded pension systems, or public improvement projects, and will support the members of Congress in their co-operation with the administration to hold down these new proposals for additional expenditures.

"We have enough resources to take care of the budget and such necessities as marginal cases of disability among veterans and the speeding up of public works that we have undertaken to assist employment and some proposals of lesser importance, but this is no time for general expansion of public expenditures."

The White House statement was coincidental with heated discussion in the Senate over the purposes of Monday's breakfast conference between President Hoover and the Republican Congressional leaders, which resulted in the demand for government economy. Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, told the Senate that Congress has pared down the recommendations of President Hoover for appropriations by $30,000,000 so far this season. He added:

"STRAW MAN SET UP"

"There is no amateur who has the remotest knowledge of the legislative processes of Congress

BOMB SCARE IN SENATE

Wing of Capitol Under Guard

Curtis, Copeland, Moses and Watson Receive Letters Threatening Attack

Members' Talk of Dry Spies Causes Leader to Tell Reason for Officers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. [Exclusive]—Warnings of a plot to bomb the Senate have resulted in the adoption of war-time precautions to guard the Senate wing of the Capitol, it was revealed today.

A corps of special plains-clothes detectives, augmented by Department of Justice agents, has been policing the lobbies and corridors for nearly a week, it became known, and the north door of the Senate wing has been locked in order to compel persons entering the building to pass through a single main entrance guarded by uniformed policemen.

COPELAND WARNED

Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, admitted today that he received warning of an attempt to blow up the Senate while it was in session and while they refused to confirm the report, it is understood that among others Vice-President Curtis, Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, president pro tem. of the Senate, and Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, the majority leader, received similar letters.

The sensational disclosure, which created intense excitement throughout the Capitol Building, came in the midst of indignant protests by Senators who, unaware of the warnings, had linked the appearance of mysterious strangers in the corridors with the recent arrest of George Cassidy, "the man in the green hat," and had come to the conclusion they were being trailed by dry agents.

NOT "DRY SPIES"

Persistent demands for explanation of the barring of the north door and published reports that the Senate sergeant-at-arms had resorted to counter-espionage to protect the Senators from the supposed dry agents, led Senator Watson to admit that the precautions were taken as a result of letters warning "several" Senators it would be well for them to leave the Capitol and particularly the Senate wing, as early as possible each afternoon.

The Indiana Senator declared that an exhaustive investigation indicated that neither the Department of Justice nor the Prohibition Bureau has assigned agents to trail Senators or lurk in Capitol corridors to nab bootleggers.

WATER PAILS SOUGHT

"I received reports that Senators were being trailed," asserted Senator Watson, "and I ordered an investigation. Such a situation would be intolerable and I was gratified to find the reports were utterly false. But these letters caused some anxiety and while I believe them to be the work of a crank, it was thought well to take some precautions."

Senator Watson refused to name the Senator who, he asserted, was so agitated by one of the warning letters that he actually suggested that pails of water be placed in the Senate chamber in the hope that a bomb dropped from the galleries might be thrown into the water before it could explode.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Feb. 25. [To the Editor of The Times:] We got Calvin talking at a Chamber of Commerce dinner. He attributed California's climate to the fact they had insurance companies, but as usual "Gracious Grace" pulled the evening out of the fire. She was seated next to one of those things they call "the speaker of the evening." While he was trying to tell "why 1930 would be greater than any other 1930 we had ever enjoyed," he had laid his watch on the table. You see he was speaking against time and not ideas. She copped the watch and hid it in her New England grouch bag. With the watch gone the poor fellow couldn't tell when he was through, so Mrs. Coolidge will go down in history as being the only person that ever got anything out of a Chamber of Commerce speech.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TEMBLOR SHAKES UP IMPERIAL

Valley Towns Feel Shock as Does Baja California; No Damage Done

CALEXICO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Imperial Valley of California and the northern section of Lower California in Mexico were visited by two local earthquakes tonight. Neither did any damage.

The first shock, at 6:25 p.m., was of sufficient intensity to cause some concern in Calexico, Imperial, El Centro and Brawley, Imperial Valley towns, and in Mexicali, capital of the Northern District of Lower California, across the international line from here.

Residents ran into the streets, fearing that the fifteen-second jolt was the forerunner of a heavier shock. Nothing followed, however, until 7:50 p.m., when a second and much lighter shock was felt.

Immediate inspection of buildings which had been swayed perceptibly by the first tremor did not disclose damage to any of them.

The shocks were not reported in any direction outside of Imperial Valley and the Northern District of Lower California.

TAPIA CURBS DIVORCES

Mexican "Hurry" Decree Banned

Lower California Governor Says Gaming Will Go on; Saloon Slash Likely

American Prohibition Aided; "Special Favor" Rumors Indignantly Denied

MEXICALI, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) As a mecca for Americans who seek to evade the rigid requirements of California marriage and divorce laws, Lower California offers no inducement. This fact was stated with emphasis by Gov. Tapia in an interview with Mexican and American newspaper men at the Territorial Palace here today. "A recent investigation has disclosed an amazing amount of graft and illegality in the granting of divorces at Tia Juana," Gov. Tapia said, "and I want you reporters to broadcast the news that there will be no more of it. I have appointed Joaquin Gomez as new judge of the Court of First Instance at Tia Juana with instructions to require strict compliance with Mexican laws in the future."

The recent investigation, Gov. Tapia said, disclosed that divorce papers were being granted by Francisco Miranda, a justice of peace with no authority under the Mexican laws to sign such papers.

"I learned of one instance where a divorce was given over the telephone at midnight," Gov. Tapia said. "I want it understood that this kind of business is at an end."

GAMBLING PROBLEM

During his interview the Governor discussed many problems of interest to both American and Mexican citizens. Referring to the recommendation of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio that gambling licenses be revoked throughout Mexico, Gov. Tapia stated that Lower California will not be affected by this restriction at present.

"We want to encourage American tourists to visit our district and the game concessions are one of the inducements that brings them here," he said. "However, it is the Federal policy to discourage gambling among Mexican citizens and we do not intend to issue any additional gambling franchises in Lower California. We also expect to reduce the number of saloon licenses."

Referring to the operation of smugglers who use Mexican territory as a base for the carrying of contraband liquor into the United States, Gov. Tapia declared that it will be his policy to co-operate with American prohibition authorities in stopping liquor running both across the border and up the coast from Lower California seaports.

LIQUOR INSPECTOR

"An inspector recently has been appointed to keep an accurate record of all alcoholic liquor in this district," the Governor said, "and through his office we expect to check up on the destination of all liquor leaving the distilleries and warehouses. We are organizing a special police patrol to see that none of this liquor is diverted to the United States."

The Governor stated that since he assumed office in January he has been besieged by various kinds of agents seeking special concessions in Lower California.

"They want me to grant rights which are not authorized by Mexican laws and offer all kinds of inducements," he said. "I want both Mexican and American citizens to know that no special privileges are being given to anyone. I have been told that certain persons have collected fees from American and Mexican concerns on the representation that they are close friends of the Governor of Lower California and could exert a special influence with him. Such assertions are absolutely false. I have no privileged friends and there are no concessions to be granted except as authorized by law."

The Governor emphasized this statement with a showing of tem-

Freedom Group Plans to Battle Against All Firms That Oppose Liberty

MANILA, Feb. 25. (AP)—A boycott of all American and other foreign firms that oppose Philippine independence is proposed in a resolution unanimously adopted today by the labor section of the Philippine Independence Congress, which is holding sessions to promote the islands' freedom.

The Jones law was attacked in the political section by Senator Sandiko, who said the organic act is of no benefit to the islands and offers no autonomy if the Governor-General sees fit to exercise the power given to him.

There is no real sense of nationalism among the Pilipinos, it was decided by the congress' educational section. Revision of school courses was recommended, with a view to developing the spirit of Filipino patriotism. The present system was criticised as placing too much emphasis on George Washington and other American heroes.

While asking Dr. Newell as to the duties of National Guardsmen in the quarantine area, Chairman Wood queried whether the plant commissioner was "aware that they have been sealing up cars of liquor with the government seal and permitting it to be shipped through the country by bootleggers?"

Dr. Newell said he had not heard of any specific instances of that kind.

DIVORCE BRINGS UP OLD TRAGEDY

Start of Journey Marked by Shocking Accident

Children Plunged to Death Under Mother's Eyes

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Fate with cruel persistence has again tapped upon the slim shoulders of the luckless former Barbara Guggenheim and to a succession of tragedies befalling her has added a second divorce. A dispatch from Paris today announced that the copper heiress has been granted a decree from Dr. Milton Sylvester Waldman, London writer.

That she planned such action came to light at the time of the fatal plunges of the two Waldman children here in October, 1928. It was disclosed then that the daughter of the late Benjamin Guggenheim, who was lost with the Titanic, and her second mate had agreed to disagree at a conference abroad only eight days before the double tragedy. She had come back to New York to reclaim the babies from a Connecticut farm where they were being cared for and take them back with her to Paris for the duration of her divorce residence there.

Their deaths occurred but a day or two before she was to sail with them. What happened has remained more or less a mystery, since there was no witness but the mother and her version was hysterically incoherent. These facts were established, however:

Mrs. Waldman, with the children, had gone to visit her friend, Mrs. Cornelius R. Love, who resided in a penthouse atop the Hotel Surrey, and as Mrs. Love was not at home but expected back shortly, according to servants, she took the babies out on the roof of the sixteen-story building to enjoy the late afternoon air.

She said she seated herself on the low roof parapet with her youngest child Benjamin, 14 months of age, in her arms, while Terrence, 4, played about her. Then the older boy clambered up beside her, she said, and suddenly lost his balance. She clutched at him and he caught hold of the baby, her clasp on whom she had momentarily loosened. The next instant, she said, the two children plunged thirteen stories to the top of a three-story building adjoining. Both were killed.

Border Entry Granted Actor

NOGALES (Ariz.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Fred T. Walker, Hollywood motion-picture actor, was allowed to enter the United States from Mexico tonight when his citizenship was established to the satisfaction of immigration inspectors. He had been denied admittance yesterday.

Boris Karloff and Gibson Gowland, who were accompanying Walker, still are being held on the Mexican side of the line. The three said they had been on location at Mazatlan, Sin., during the past month.

GAS KILLS MOTHER AND CHILD

HIGH COURT TURNS DOWN SNOOK PLEA

Supreme Tribunal Refuses to Review Case of Man Doomed to Die Friday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—James Howard Snook, former Ohio State University professor under sentence of death on Friday for the murder of Theora Hix, today was denied a review by the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court yesterday waived its rules and permitted the filing of the petition asking a review after Justice McReynolds, in charge of the circuit in which Ohio is located, had refused to take action.

The action of the court today apparently removes the last hope of Snook for a judicial review of his conviction. Gov. Cooper of Ohio recently refused to stay the execution.

In asking the Supreme Court to review the case and set aside the death sentence Snook asserted that he had been deprived of constitutional rights in the trial which resulted in his conviction. In asking a new trial he declared the minds of the jurors had been prejudiced by the conduct of spectators at the trial, that he had been forced to trial before he was ready to present his defense and that he had been tried by a jury to which he had objected.

HOOVER SEEKS MORE ECONOMY

who could not have told the President that he was setting up a straw man merely for the purpose of knocking him down."

Senator Watson, Indiana, Republican leader, asserted that the Monday White House parley was urged by House leaders with a view to bringing pressure to bear "to stem the tide" for additional appropriations.

The earlier Senate debate attracted many. Senator Borah of Idaho, a leader of the Republican independents, said he does not know whether he can be called an administration Senator, but gave assurance that he is going to stand by the economy program.

Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, another Republican independent, insisted that if the Treasury finds itself in a delicate situation, it is because of the $160,000,000 tax reduction. For that, the Executive must resume the responsibility, he said.

ATTENTION FOCUSED

Senator Watson expressed a hope that the debate and the White House conference have focused attention on the many bills for increased appropriations now before Congress.

"No intimation was given at the conference yesterday," he asserted, "of extravagance on the part of Congress in what it has done so far on appropriations. In fact, it was specifically stated that the budget of appropriations for the next year must be carried out and some leeway given to take care of unavoidable expenditures such as those for flood control."

When Senator Glass read the President's statement, Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, the chairman of the lobby investigating committee, remarked:

"I presume, then, that what the President wants us to do is to read that warning to the lobbyists, and the lobbyists are to 'lay off' until next year."

Child Stealing Charged to Pair

WOOSTER (O.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Charges of child stealing were preferred against Charles Hannah and Earl Conold in probate court here today.

The charges accuse them of stealing Melvin Horst, 4 years of age, from Orrville, O., December 27, 1928. The body of the boy has not been found.

HOME WRECKING LAID TO CULTIST

Angeleno, 85 Years of Age, Named in Divorce

Architect Says Teachings Made Wife "Idiotical"

Repugnant Rituals Described as "Raving and Silly"

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—An 85-year-old leader of a health and religious cult in Los Angeles was blamed today for breaking up the home of Herman R. Huber, architectural draftsman, who filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Anna C. Huber, 50 years of age, a follower of the cult.

The cult leader was described as "Ottoman Adusht Hanisch, Master Mind Hanisch of the Mandazans," whose temple is in Los Angeles.

Huber, in his suit, said his wife had become "fanatical, idiotical and unreasonable by following the repugnant rituals of moaning, raving and silly actions of the cult." He said the power that the "master mind" holds over women makes them think more of his teachings than they do of their homes and families.

CULTIST PREVIOUSLY IN DOMESTIC ENTANGLEMENTS

Ottoman Zar Adusht Hanisch, 56-year-old cult leader, named by Herman P. Huber, Chicago, architectural draftsman, suing for divorce from Mrs. Anna C. Huber, 50, has figured before in domestic troubles.

The self-styled "Ottoman Zar Adush Hanisch, Master Mind Hanisch of the Mandazans" in May, 1928, sought a complaint against Louis H. Arens, former German army officer and then American representative of a German metal company here. Hanisch asserted Arens had him "set upon by ruffians." Arens, however, said his wife, Mrs. Hilwig Arens, and his two children, had been "stolen" from Germany through "Hanisch's power."

Previously the "master mind" was questioned by authorities as the instigation of relatives of Mrs. Ellen Marie Shaw of Boston, and by a Mrs. Adolph Dittman, but nothing came of the inquiries.

WOUNDED GANGSTER RELEASED

Chicago Gunman Shot in Hospital Duel Sent Home Despite Police Protest

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Frank McErlane, gang leader, gunman, killer and torturer, who was shot three times last night by avenging gunmen in the German Deaconess Hospital, was released today and taken to the home of his parents.

The release was permitted by the State's Attorney over the protests of Chief of Detectives Stege. Stege thought McErlane should be indicted for "having a concealed weapon on or about his person or within easy reach," an offense punishable by one year's imprisonment.

"McErlane had two guns handy when the gunmen invaded the hospital last night to kill him," Stege said.

Sergt. John McArdle and members of his squad, who called at the hospital, where McErlane was registered as Charles Miller and who failed to identify the man who was wounded by invading gunmen as McErlane, were transferred today from the detective bureau to an outlying station and ordered into uniforms.

TAPIA ORDERS DIVORCE CURB

UNEMPLOYMENT FEARED

Gov. Tapia discussed the labor situation in Lower California in detail. There is a possibility that there will be considerable curtailment in the cotton acreage in the district during the coming season due to the low price of cotton, he said. If this occurs there will be between 3500 and 4000 idle laborers in the district.

"The situation should be made clear in the news dispatches so that Mexican workers in California and in other parts of Mexico will not come here," he said. "There is a possibility that we may ask the American authorities to deport Mexicans who are now being sent out of the United States in large numbers to some other point on the border. If the cotton acreage is reduced we will have a serious problem in taking care of the workers already here."

Gov. Tapia reaffirmed his desire to co-operate with California authorities in every way. He stated that there are many border problems of interest to both nationalities and it is his desire to aid the Americans whenever he can do so.

DENVER, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Representatives of twenty-two Greek letter sororieties are endeavoring to solve the various problems which confront their organizations and are holding their discussions under the supervision of Miss Irma L. Tapp of Fullerton, Calif., chairman of the National Pan-Hellenic Congress, which is in session here. Miss Tapp also is president of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority.

The delegates to the congress represent sororities from virtually all sections of the United States and many campuses in Canada. The meetings are scheduled to come to a close Friday.

DEPUTIES VOTE CHAUTEMPS OUT

10 p.m. and handed in their resignations. On leaving President Doumergue, M. Chautemps told waiting newspaper men, "I am leaving with rancor and bitterness toward none. I have seen grouped around me in a democratic fervor that promises victory in the near future all the best elements of the real republican France."

EXCESS BALLOTS

The official counting of the vote was laborious. The Deputies had stuffed the ballot boxes with more than 1000 ballots, though there were only a few more than 600 Deputies entitled to vote.

An intense electioneering campaign was made on behalf of the government by certain members of the ephemeral Cabinet. This took place even on the floor of the Chamber during the whole session and the pressure brought to bear on waverers in the lobbies was even stronger.

The entire Center and the Right remained solidly behind former Premier Tardieu, who yesterday persuaded his group of sixty-four Deputies not to give their confidence to the new government.

The tone of discussion was acrid in the Chamber. When M. Chautemps asked for support in order to send a French delegation back to London the opposition shouted him down with the retort, "What about Tardieu? He was there before you stabbed him in the back." The Chautemps Cabinet was one of the shortest-lived in French Parliamentary history, lasting only five days.

Victim of Gang Mum on Slayer

DETROIT, Feb. 25. (AP)—Refusing to name his assailants or make any statement regarding his shooting, Roy Gennaro, 25 years of age, died at the receiving hospital today, apparently the victim of a gangster execution.

Gennaro was found lying on East Grand Boulevard near Kercheval avenue at 1:45 a.m. by a taxi driver. There were two bullet wounds in his back and one in his head.

CARTER HARRISON'S DAUGHTER DIVORCED

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Edith Harrison Manierre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, was awarded a decree of divorce from Cyrus Edson Manierre, president of the Stockyards Transit Company and prominent Chicago clubman, in Waukegan today on grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Manierre was permitted to retain custody of the two children, Cyrus Edson Manierre, Jr., 10 years of age, and William Reid Manierre II, 6, with the provisions that their father be allowed to see them at any time.

LONDON FACING ANOTHER DELAY

Fall of New French Cabinet Affects Naval Session

Chautemps Defeat Blow to Hopes for Speed

MacDonald Believes Further Pause Not Harmful

LONDON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Adjournment of the London naval conference for another week was expected tonight to be the immediate result of the fall of the Chautemps Cabinet in France.

The defeat was a blow to the hopes for speedy renewal of negotiations, but conference leaders were fully prepared for it and will proceed along the lines Prime Minister MacDonald and Col. Henry L. Stimson of the United States planned in their week-end conference at Stanmore.

FRENCH NEWS WATCHED

Under their plan, the Prime Minister will summon the chief delegates to London—Col. Stimson, Reijiro Wakatsuki of Japan and Dino Grandi of Italy—to Downing street tomorrow for consideration of the situation. Grandi was nearing London on his return from Rome when the fate of the Chautemps Cabinet was sealed. Col. Stimson is under medical care with a severe cold. Wakatsuki accepted the news stoically.

The chief delegates of the various nations awaited the vote of the French Chamber with as much interest tonight as if it were on a major political issue in their own countries.

MEMBERS OPTIMISTIC

The first reaction after the result was learned was to minimize the disappointment at further delay as much as possible. It is Mr. MacDonald's sincere belief that another week of delay can be weathered without disastrous effects—that, in fact, it may result in no loss, as was proved by the last week, when much valuable technical work was accomplished by the experts.

The question worrying the delegates is whether the French political situation can be stabilized within a week and whether, after that interval, the return of the French delegation to London can be definitely counted upon. If it is not stabilized the ultimate effect of the French party turmoil on the naval parley is a subject that even those closest to high conference circles would not dare to speculate upon tonight.

Americans Win Paris Divorces

PARIS, Feb. 25. (AP)—Three American wives were granted divorces today by French courts from their husbands.

Barbara Hazel Guggenheim Waldeman was given a divorce from her husband, Milton Sylvester Waldeman.

Marie Wiener Ball, known as Medla Derdzina, was granted a divorce from Theodore Ball. They were married in the United States July 3, 1919.

Gertrude Munde Mausoll was divorced from Otto Hermann Mausoll. They were married in New York April 21, 1925.

STEEL MAN DIES IN CAR

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 25. (AP)—Fred H. Fitch, 60 years of age, vice-president of the Kansas City Structural Steel Company, was found dead from monoxide gas fumes in his automobile at a downtown parking station today. A rubber tube had been fastened to the exhaust pipe of the automobile and brought inside the car through a window.

Youthful Diplomat Pleads With Hostile Camps

Peace Asked in Name of United States

President Vasquez Reported in Plan to Resign

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—A 28-year-old diplomat, John M. Cabot of Cambridge, Mass., stood between two hostile camps in the Dominican Republic today and asked for peace in the name of the United States.

He was sent to the turbulent city of Santiago by Charles B. Curtis, American Minister.

Curtis reported his selection of a peace maker to the State Department, saying at the same time that the revolutionists had not yet advanced upon Santo Domingo, the capital city. There President Vasquez spent last night safe from attack in the government fortress, surrounded by loyal troops.

Curtis told the department he believes further revolutionary activities are stilled, awaiting the outcome of Cabot's negotiations in Santiago.

President Hoover's only comment on the situation today was that he has no information of any danger to the life or liberty of American citizens in Santo Domingo at the present time.

PRESIDENT VASQUEZ MAY QUIT POST

SANTO DOMINGO (Dominican Republic) Feb. 25. (AP)—An insurgent movement against the government of President Horacio Vasquez today held almost all the northern part of the Dominican Republic. Meanwhile Charles B. Curtis, the American Minister, moved to bring about a peaceful settlement between the disputing parties.

A provisional government controls the rich country of the ancient Spanish Vega Real, north of the Sierra de Cibao. It has the support of the Dominican Guardia, which disarmed the police and the government sympathizers. Santo Domingo itself is threatened by the advance of the insurgents.

The National Assembly of the republic will meet Thursday to consider the situation.

The insurgent movement so far has been free from excessive violence and has not taken on the character of a revolutionary attempt to overthrow the Vasquez government. Its leaders have demanded that the Presidential elections in May be free from political juggling and the satisfaction of this demand will go far to calm them.

The leaders of the government met President Vasquez today to study the means of placating the insurgents. It has been reported that President Vasquez, about whose personality much of the trouble centers, will present his resignation. He has held office two terms and had his second term extended two years.

TAMMANY "PRINCESS" WEDS

Rites Performed in Brilliant Setting

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund M. McCarthy

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Few brides, no matter how wealthy or socially prominent, have had a wedding so impressive and beautiful as that today of Miss Veronica Curry, daughter of John F. Curry, the leader of Tammany Hall, to Edmund M. McCarthy of Springfield, Mass. Cardinal Hayes performed the ceremony in St. Patrick's Cathedral before 5000 of the great and the near great.

A princess could have wished for no more brilliant and colorful setting, with the cardinal in his robes of crimson and gold and his high gold miter and golden staff; the monsignors in their crimson and white and altar boys in white and scarlet.

There were fourteen ushers to escort the wedding party down the aisle; twelve bridesmaids in big yellow picture hats, their arms full of tulips to lend it color; maids of honor and oodles of other attendants and functionaries. Enough even for a "Tammany princess."

GIRLS' FIGHT STIRS TOWN

Deputies Patrol Streets, School Head Quits and Dad of Pupils Makes Death Threats

WEST HELENA (Ark.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies, summoned after a schoolgirls' quarrel had aroused this town of 3500, patrolled the streets of West Helena today.

Residents attending a mass meeting yesterday protested the resignation of George Cromwell as superintendent of schools, which Cromwell said had been caused by threats on his life by Lawrence Brown, father of two young girls who were disciplined after a dispute with another girl.

Brown, according to Sheriff Barlow, threatened Cromwell's life unless the latter disciplined the third girl. Cromwell declined to act against the other pupil.

Sheriff Barlow said he deemed it advisable to have his deputies on duty, both to protect Brown against possible violence of the citizenry and to prevent Brown carrying out his asserted threats against Cromwell.

Brown pleaded insanity in 1927 when on trial for first-degree murder. He is out on parole from the State Hospital for Nervous Diseases at Little Rock. He previously had been tried for two other killings.

The corporations include the Standard Oil Company of New York, the Sinclair Refining Company, the Beacon Oil Company and the Cities Service Refining Company.

Primo de Rivera Duel Postponed

MADRID, Feb. 25. (AP) — It was learned today that the "affair of honor" between Miguel Primo De Rivera, son of the former dictator, and Capt. Rexach, Spanish aviator, has been postponed but not settled.

The trouble arose when Miguel Primo De Rivera took exception to remarks made by Capt. Rexach concerning the elder Primo De Rivera. The postponement has been caused by the exile from Spain of the son of the ousted dictator.

The seconds for the parties concerned, it has been disclosed, have made arrangements for a saber duel, probably to be in France.

UTILITIES WILL CONSERVE GAS

Electric Companies to Burn Surplus Quantities

Use for Generating Power Will End Wastage

Substantial Saving Likely, Says Rail Board

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission announced here today that arrangements have been completed whereby the Southern California Edison Company, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and other similar utilities in Southern California will use surplus natural gas as fuel for the generation of electric power instead of blowing the gas into the air to be wasted.

"The utilization of this surplus gas," the commission said, "will result in a substantial economic saving, both in the conservation of the natural gas itself and also in the cost of operation of the gas and electric utilities involved. The consummation of this arrangement is in line with the policy of conservation now being so aggressively sponsored by State, Federal and industrial agencies."

Southern California Edison will use surplus gas it now purchases under a year-around contract with producers in the Ventura and Long Beach fields in its large generating plant at Long Beach, the commission said.

Not only will large quantities of the gas be conserved but, the commission pointed out, a great saving of water stored by the hydroelectric units of the utilities will result as well.

The commission did not give the names of all the companies involved in the arrangement.

Foes of Senate Executive Session Lined Up

Smoot Continues Customs Censorship Fight

Cutting Leads Battle for State Reviews

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Senate, after all, may settle its controversy over foreign book censorship without ever sampling the concoctions Senator Smoot of Utah has selected as examples of what should be barred from America's literary diet.

Leaders of opposing forces on the issue of whether customs officials should act as dieticians in control of the foreign book menu today stood ready for a preliminary battle to decide whether the Senate should meet behind closed doors to discuss the question.

Senator Cutting of New Mexico announced he would wage a fight against an executive session for consideration of the salacious passages Smoot has picked.

"Everybody knows there are indecent books," Cutting said, "but discussing them behind closed doors is no way to handle the question."

Smoot, however, is determined to have an executive session to read passages "too vulgar" to be pointed to openly. He said, in fact, that they were so vulgar, he would not read them unless his colleagues decided to hear them in private.

The conflict began when Cutting proposed revision of the present tariff law to void its provision for exclusion of indecent and obscene foreign books. Under the present law customs officers administer the censorship. The Senate accepted Cutting's proposal by a narrow margin.

Leading a demand for another vote on the issue, Smoot asked the Treasury for books excluded under the present law. He proposes to read passages from them to prove his contention that censorship is necessary for the nation's welfare.

WILL DEMAND NEW VOTE

Unmoved by a suggestion that "expurgating shears" should begin their snip-snapping in brochures and other documents of the Mormon Church, Smoot said he "certainly would demand another vote and an executive session preceding it." He met the suggestion regarding Mormon literature with a shrug and a reference to its source.

"Everybody knows the people's legislative service."

Smoot said he had examined books sent him by the Treasury, marking passages "too vulgar" for open repetition.

"I will read them," he added, "but only in executive session."

MATERIAL IRRELEVANT

Asserting that the material is "irrelevant," Cutting said he would oppose the executive session on the ground that the fundamental issue was not the character of the books, but the manner of dealing with them.

"The Senate hasn't gone into executive session to conduct legislative business since the 1790's," Cutting continued, "and this is no time to do it."

JAPANESE ENJOY TALKIES

Censors Have Double Duty in Editing Film and Dialogue to Conform With National Concepts

TOKIO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The invasion of Japan by American talking pictures has put new furrows of care on the brows of the detachment of the metropolitan police assigned to keep watch and ward over the thoughts and morals of the citizenry through censorship of motion pictures.

There was trouble enough with the silent films, what with ideas about romance, osculation, patriotism, monarchy and such to guard against, but how simple then compared to now.

The method of the Tokio censors is something like this: First, the "talkie" is run off for the police censors to see and hear. If the censors' keen eyes detect nothing subversive the test proceeds to the words. A stenographer takes a verbatim report of all dialogue in English, including the words of the theme songs, a translator turns this report into Japanese, sometimes a laborious process and not until then can the censors pass final judgment.

In view of the difficulties involved the proportion of imported films thrown out by the censors is not large. Importers say this is because they do not bring in a picture that obviously cannot get by. Pictures that take liberties with orthodox Japanese concepts of monarchy, patriotism, property and romance are those most likely to be banned.

It is explained that one reason young Japan is flocking to the "talkies" is his desire to learn English.

WOMEN BREW POLITICAL TEA

Six "Ladies of House" Will Seek Another Term

Ruth Hanna McCormick in Campaign for Senate

Mrs. Oldfield of Arkansas Only One to Retire

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—With many kettles on the boil, the "ladies of the House," with one exception, want to continue their legislative cookery in Congress.

Mrs. Pearl Peden Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas, will not run for re-election. She made that statement quietly, and with as little explanation as it was once made by a former President.

But all seven of the others are in the midst of plans for further law-making futures.

ONE EYES SENATE

True, Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican, Illinois, will not try to succeed herself as a Congressman-at-large. But that is because she is campaigning for a seat in the Senate. A train took her westward from Washington today for another speech-making whirl.

Representative Katherine Langley, Republican, Kentucky, who succeeded her husband, and whose further candidacy had been somewhat in doubt, today definitely said she will be a candidate for re-election. Any suggestion that her husband might wish to return to his old seat in Congress was thus set at rest.

"I am interested in several pieces of legislation for my Kentucky mountain district that I wish to complete," said Mrs. Langley.

Dark of hair, bright of eye, colorfully clothed, Mrs. Langley was as cheery as the pretty calendar ladies that hang on the walls of mountaineers' homes as she told of her plans for her people—postoffices, a toll bridge at Hazard to be made free by legislation; flood protection for Salyersville on the Licking River; locks and dams on the Big Sandy; creation of a third Kentucky Judicial District for greater convenience in court proceedings.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER ACTIVE

Back from making a keynote speech at a meeting of the Democratic State Committee in Jacksonville, Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, was all enthusiasm for the June primaries. Mrs. Owen's first election, contested on a citizenship basis because of her marriage to a British army officer, is still under consideration by a House Elections Committee. But she is ready to run again, basing her campaign on bills passed and bills pending.

With a Federal banking bill, a disabled soldiers' bill, and a bill for books for the blind pending, Ruth Baker Pratt, Republican, New York, frankly wants to come back to the House of Representatives and finish what she has begun.

Already veterans of three campaigns, Representative Mary Norton, Democrat, New Jersey; Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, and Representative Florence P. Kahn, Republican, California, are planning to swing into the fourth with customary zest. Mrs. Rogers, who has much veterans' legislation to sponsor, will avoid wasting time by using an airplane wherever possible in her campaigning. Mrs. Kahn, whose motherly face and manner did much in winning for the Gold Star mothers their trip to France, wishes to see the completion of the memorial voyage which she has sponsored. And Mrs. Norton, having won a hospital for her home district, now wants to further her bill for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

CANADIAN ELECTION UNLIKELY

Premier Denies American Tariff Bill Will Result in General Vote for Nation

OTTAWA, Feb. 25. (AP)—In reply to an attack by the opposition, Premier Mackenzie King told Parliament yesterday that the outcome of tariff legislation now before Congress in the United States will not bring about a general election in Canada.

R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, in a speech attacking the government, demanded a general election before the next imperial conference, charging that the present government is not truly representative. In the course of his remarks he referred to the United States pending tariff bill.

In his reply Premier Mackenzie King said:

"My friend states that I have said that an election would depend upon what takes place at Washington. I make no representation of that kind. But I will tell him this, that I can imagine a situation arising in connection with the tariff of this country which might very well be the occasion for an appeal to the people of the Dominion on the part of the present administration.

"The government will reach its own decision with respect to what in the public interest it deems the best time to make an appeal."

Mr. Bennett in his remarks on the tariff protested against Canada being "ullied" by the United States or any other power on fiscal issues.

TARIFF ON OIL TO BE DEBATED

Senate Agrees to Call Up Proposal Friday

Major Battles on Free List Articles Due Today

Action Virtually Ended on Rate Section Changes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Senate completed action today on virtually all individual amendments to the tariff bill's rate sections and paved the way for a renewal tomorrow of many major contests over articles on the free list which certain Senators would make dutiable.

Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee announced after the day's session that he expected the free list to be reached tomorrow, and that previous votes denying duties on hides, leather, shoes, shingles and lumber will be opened to reconsideration then.

An agreement was reached today to consider Friday the proposals for a tariff on crude oil and refined petroleum products, including gasoline, which are advocated by independent oil producers. These commodities also are now on the free list.

Nine amendments to the silk, papers and books and sundries schedules were adopted today, and two were rejected.

Senator Blaine, Republican independent, won approval of an amendment to restore the present duty of 60 per cent on silk wearing apparel of all kinds not specifically mentioned in the bill. The measure proposed an increase of 65 per cent.

Chicago Garage Turns Out to Be Whisky Plant

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Quite by accident, a huge still and seven 10,000-gallon vats filled with mash were found last night on South Michigan avenue, half a mile from Federal prohibition headquarters and on the edge of the Loop district.

The distillers had disposed of their cooked-out mash down a sewer. Heavy rains and melting snows had caused the sewer to back up. The odor of fermented grain filled the air so that guests of the Stevens Hotel and persons as far south as the Illinois Central Station noticed it. Federal agents finally traced the odor to a large garage.

Fires were still burning, but the stills were deserted. The value of the whisky-making equipment was estimated at $50,000.

Murder Charge Faced by Three in Dry Slaying

TULSA (Okla.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Assistant County Attorney Coffey said today murder charges probably will be filed against W. F. Wolverton, M. E. Craig and Henry B. Jones, Federal agents, in connection with the death last night of George Lewis Redding, who was shot by Wolverton during a liquor raid.

The assistant county attorney said his investigation tends to indicate the killing was justifiable. The charges will be to prove the innocence of the three officers, Coffey said.

The men will remain in custody of Federal officers pending outcome of the investigation, Coffey added.

THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

...olds from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with a dual action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and increases the body's resistance to germ growth. Many leading druggists everywhere use creosote in their own families for coughs from colds, and recommend it highly because creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Craft With Lights Doused Patrols Wild Seas

 This is the second of a series of four articles on activities of the United States Coast Guard. By special permission of Rear-Admiral F. C. Billard, commanding the service, a North American Newspaper Alliance reporter and photographer spent several days with the land, sea and air forces of this branch of the government.)*

BY IVAN H. PETERMAN

CAPE MAY (N. J.) Feb. 25. (NANA)—Base No. 9 was enveloped in an aura of secrecy as evening drew on. Seven patrol boats had scurried out of the inlet here during the afternoon, each boatswain having his orders. Code messages continued to flit through the air.

"Something was up," and no mistake.

We waited outside the commandant's office some time, eager for the next move, while petty officers hurried here and there with much whispering, exchange of notes and expectant smiles.

MYSTERY DEEPENS

"I intended to send you out this afternoon, but developments have made it advisable to delay until evening," Capt. William H. Shea, commanding the base, told us. Commander Henry Uike bringing the message. Lieut. Anderson, who had scouted the coast line with me in the plane, went into conference with the commander. Then Boatswain Cutler was called in. At 6 o'clock he emerged, nodded to us, and we started.

Coast Guard patrol boat No. 112 is like 193 other boats of its type, just seventy-five feet long, trim, sturdy, but scarcely stable. Ordinarily she carries a crew of eight, but with "Mac," the photographer, and me, there were nine aboard, one man being on leave and not replaced.

The boat is powered with two 250-horsepower Sterling Coast Guard gasoline engines, powerful things that drive the small craft through mountainous seas. Bunks for the crew are forward, in the very prow of the boat, where lashing waves like roaring tomtoms beat wild refrain to tormented dreams. The skipper and mate sleep amidships, back of the galley, if they sleep.

DECEPTIVE SMILES

It was to this galley Cutler led us, and there we signed the log. The crew sat around, smiling in a way which caused me to wonder.

"You boys haven't had much to eat," said Cutler, ordering Willie, the colored boy, to shake up some sandwiches. Willie did even better, he shook up two fried eggs, potatoes, bread and coffee. All unsuspecting, we ate heartily, and as we ate Coast Guard patrol 112 jerked away from the dock. We finished the eggs to the pulsing throb of two propeller shafts beneath the galley floor.

"All lights out!"

The order sounded down a hatch and we noticed Adolph Stamer, chief bos'n's mate, and Dick Coffey busily folding newspapers. These they hurriedly slipped over the portholes, clamping the shutters over. The engine-room was wark; so was the pilot house. Not a light showed on the CG-112 as she nosed out of the harbor!

WHAT HAPPENS THEN?

"What happens if another boat comes along?" I asked Cutler as we stood at the wheel. "We dodge 'em, they have lights," said he. "Suppose a smuggler is out there, also without lights? Or a fisherman? You might run him down."

"If they don't have lights it's too bad," said the skipper, twisting the brass spokes so the craft headed due east. Through the aft windows the lights of Cape May and Wildwood receded in the inky night. It was dark as a conjurer's curtain.

"We'll be out three days and three nights," Cutler told us. "May get some rough weather. It was pretty rough last time, and one of our engines died." That, we decided, was hardly a comfortable thought.

"Can you anchor?" I asked.

"Sometimes. If we get bottom. We used to go way offshore, 100 miles or more. They stopped that."

ROUGH TRIP

The craft chugged on, the seas grew rougher. Vainly I peered into the blackness trying to see something. Only the occasional ghostly tip of a white cap, licking at the rail, rewarded me.

"Where are we going and what'll we do when we get there?" I broke the silence which for ten minutes filled the pilot house.

"Out to sea. Cruise around."

Bos'n Cutler is a young man of few words. An interesting fellow, too. In command, he is probably not yet 30. He has been in the service since 1924. For that matter, not a man of the crew seemed beyond that age. Seven boys and a boat with a mission that each would strive to the last for. Why? Simply orders.

Somewhere in that opaque void beyond lurked a smuggler's ship. As it was filled with illicit goods its owners would use every resource to escape. If, however, the patrol boat caught a small boat making contact, it was up to the Coast Guard to give chase and seize the small boat. Otherwise they would dog the foreign craft around the sea.

EVER-READY GUN

Dimly, its skeleton tripod collecting an ever-thickening coat of ice, the one-pounder with which all Coast Guard boats are equipped came within my vision. A canvas protected the gun. Beyond it was a machine-gun mount.

"Will these birds shoot at us?" I asked.

"Never have."

"But if they do? Do we shoot back?"

"They won't shoot."

A row of lights rose out of the sea, twinkling dots blotted out at intervals by a rising wave.

"Steamer off the port bow," said Harry Northam.

We churned on. Fifteen minutes more and we were almost upon the ship. She didn't see us; if we continued our course she would run us down.

TIME TO RETIRE

"Go around her stern." Cutler said quietly, and Northam put the helm over hard, the C-G 112 shuddering as it rolled quartering over a wave and dived into the trough. At this stage I decided to go below.

Charles Bradford, seaman, and Johnny Friel, motor machinist's mate, with Willie, the cook, were trying to interest Mac in navigation. He looked a bit sallow. We sat around the galley table watching the walls dance up and down. Funny, those walls. And the deck and ceiling seemed to want to exchange places. Hot down there. Phooey!

"I bet I get seasick," said Mac. We all laughed at the idea. Seasick. Great joke. "No disgrace in that, on these tubs," said Friel. "Some of the fellows still get it."

OUT OF TURN

"I've never been seasick. I don't think it bothers me." I volunteered. A moment later I would have swallowed the remark. A peculiar headache was taking hold. How those walls did bobble!

"Guess I'll go on deck again. Cooler up there." I lurched toward the companionway, hauled myself up. The boat was rolling around like a cedar pole in a millrace. Waves sloshed and hampered over the deck and the darkness, if possible, was worse.

There is about two feet of space between the hatches and the rail on a patrol boat. The hatches afford little in the way of gripping objects. And the rail isn't really a rail, but a steel cable supported by slender steel rods which rise only thirty inches or so above the deck. Hand over hand I dragged myself along this cable while the boat rocked and dived. I was feeling very poorly.

I reached the pilot house again, and Cutler, Northam and I stood in silence, only the occasional squeak of the radio, exchanging messages in code, breaking the monotony of up and down.

"About twenty miles," said the skipper when I asked how far out. The waves were much worse now. "Probably won't be any business tonight," somebody said. "Pretty rough." Again I decided to go below.

This I found the minute I reached the galley was a bad tactical error. The headache, throbbing quietly in the pilot house, now became a raging demon.

For the benefit of victims of mal de mer (high hat for seasickness) the Coast Guard has amidships and forward comfort rooms for those in distress. We had always been told this was distinctly a matter to be taken up at the rail. But not on the C-G boats.

"You'd be swept over the first heave," they told me.

Somehow I reached the precious little room. Nice little room. So handy.

SLEEP AT DISCOUNT

The skipper generously told me I could have his bunk. "I never sleep on these patrols. Very little sleep on a patrol," he said. How true. For an hour I lay, wondering why the boat hung together. Mac came in.

"So you were the guy who doesn't get seasick?" he jibed. "I knew I . . . I guess . . . I'll be next." And he was. The bos'n's mate kindly turned over the opposite bunk to Mac. We groaned in unison. The sea got rougher.

Did you ever watch a cork on a windy pond? A Coast Guard patrol boat on the ocean is the same. Between trips to that wonderful little room, Mac and I agreed a sailor's life is not an easy one. The Coast Guard, said we, was entitled to any credit it gets. These boys earn it on patrol.

Coast Guard's Life on Ocean Wave No Sinecure

"Heave To!"

BUS SUPERVISION MEASURE APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The House Interstate Commerce Committee today approved the Parker bill to place motor busses operating in interstate commerce under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The measure will be reported to the House tomorrow with minor perfecting amendments, and will be brought up for consideration next week. The Neglected Masterpiece

You know the story... The dusty old attic where no one ever went... then one day (probably a rainy one), some restless spirit deciding on an exploring trip. Up the creaky stairs, through cobwebs, stumbling over boxes and old trunks.

What discoveries have been made this way? Perhaps a broken spinning wheel in that corner... a great-grandmother's Paisley shawl in one of those funny old trunks. Perhaps a dingy old painting in a disreputable frame... collecting dust for a generation or two. But if the explorer is a person of vision and taste he may see through the dust the dim marks of genius. The painting is taken down, cleaned and reframed, and behold... a masterpiece!

Old Jewel Boxes... have many surprises, too. There are fine diamonds, pearls and other gems hidden away ...not only hidden from sight, but their beauty hidden as well, by old mountings that make them tawdry and pathetic. When brought to life by beautiful modern mountings, skillfully designed to enhance every ray of charm, these jewels gleam more thrillingly even than before.

A Renaissance... of jewelry designing has come about in the last few years. Something of the spirit of the great fifteenth and sixteenth centuries has revived fine craftsmanship. The styles, of course, reflect the trends of today... swift, clean lines, daring simplicity or clever intricacy. It looks as if there may be a revival of the old pride in the "family jewels," due to this new artistry in settings.

Is there a... "neglected masterpiece" in your collection? Why not give it a new role to play and give yourself a new era of enjoyment in its recaptured distinction?

Highly trained... adroit craftsmen of our staff remount cherished old gems entrusted to them with the utmost care. They know the value of choice things. They are expert, too, in bringing to light the best points of a jewel in the effective modern settings which transform many a stone that appeared ordinary in its old dress into a veritable "masterpiece" in a new one.

Convenient Credit... is available in this service, too, at Slavick's. If you should want to select a new gem or two to combine with an old one in the new mounting, you will find the credit plan of great benefit to you. We shall be glad to advise you.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you 90 per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Tiny Island Hasn't Money or Locks on Doors

Girls Lacking for Some of Young Bachelors

Residents Consider Stories of Autos Just Myths

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 25. (AP)—There are fourteen girls of marriageable age on the lonely South Atlantic island, Tristan da Cunha, which is so far removed from the rest of the world that a ship goes there but once a year.

There are twenty-one young men of marriageable age from which those fourteen girls may pick husbands. Those not chosen, through necessity, probably will remain bachelors, since few ever leave the island, and few go there to live.

Rev. Philip Lindsay, who has just come here from three years spent in mission work on the island, and whose mother lives at St. Albans, Vt., says 157 inhabitants live on Tristan da Cunha with almost unbelievable simplicity.

REGULAR UTOPIA

They still dress after the early Victorian manner, and doubt the existence of airplanes and automobiles, of which he has told them. They cannot even understand how men can ride bicycles, the like of which they have never seen.

The community, which is self-governing and communistic, has but one firearm, an old blunderbuss. There is no currency, and alcohol is unknown. No doors have locks and there is no crime.

The principal crop is potatoes. They used to raise wheat but ravages of swarms of rats prevented success of the crop and now the islanders eat potatoes and such fish as they can catch. Every man works his own potato patch and does his own fishing. There are some cattle and sheep.

CROP HAS FAILED

When Lindsay first arrived on the island in 1927 he found the potato crop had failed and famine conditions prevailing. There was a good crop in 1928, but this year again the single crop has failed and the inhabitants are threatened with distress. Half the population suffered in an influenza epidemic last June, and one died.

Lindsay says the predominant characteristics of the people are their good humor, simplicity and industry. Though they have greatly intermarried their mental soundness has not been affected. They love sports, and play football and cricket according to their own rules. Running and jumping races also are frequent.

Tristan da Cunha is a British possession settled about 1816 by English, Some Americans, Scottish, Italians and South African negroes since have gone there. White characteristics prevail. There are three islands in the group.

FOUR JAILED AS FILIPINO RIOT SEQUEL

Eight Watsonville Youths Draw Sentences But Only Half Will Serve Terms

SALINAS, Feb. 25. (AP)—Eight Watsonville youths charged with rioting in connection with racial disturbances between whites and Filipinos several weeks ago were sentenced in Superior Court here today to serve two years in San Quentin prison, and in addition four of them were sentenced to thirty days in the County Jail. The penitentiary sentences of all then were suspended.

The four receiving the County Jail sentences, Fred Majors, Theodore Spangler, Charles Morrison and George Sias, are more than 21 years of age. The others, George Barnes, Raymond Davis, Edward Fry and Raymond Smith, are under 21.

The youths were accused of breaking into a Filipino bunk house on a ranch near Watsonville during the riots and to have terrorized Filipino workmen. They were arrested by officers who found them there preparing to load the Filipinos into automobiles.

At their preliminary hearing the youths contended they had gone to the bunk house to escort the Filipinos to the Watsonville City Hall, where they might find safety from anti-Filipino rioters. They were held for trial but several days ago changed their pleas from not guilty to guilty.

Seven Now in Alabama Race for Governor

CAMDEN (Ala.) Feb. 25. (AP)—A seventh candidate for Governor of Alabama, B. M. Miller of this city, former State Supreme Court justice, is in the field with an announced platform carrying "anti-Klan rule," and "chain-store regulation" planks.

In a statement Miller said both of Alabama's United States Senators are Klansmen and declared "the time has arrived for a re-establishment of a government of the people, by the people and for all the people and not as we have now in Alabama, a government by, of and for the Ku Klux Klan."

Miller said he approves of the action of the State Democratic Executive Committee in barring "bolters" of the 1928 Presidential ticket as candidates in the coming primary. He advocated regulation of chain stores by a graduated system of taxation based on the number of stores operated.

SANTA MONICA WOMAN TO SHARE IN ESTATE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Mary E. Drake of Santa Monica, Cal., is to receive a $3000 bequest and share with Julia M. Carroll, Hollywood, in the residuary estate of their sister, Sarah Drake Jones, who died April 26, 1929, a transfer tax appraisal filed here today showed. The estate was estimated at $241,522 gross and $230,203 net.

BYRD'S VESSEL CLEAR OF ICE

City of New York Sights Open Water Ahead

Strong Wind Helps Ship to Break Through Pack

Good Time Made on Trying Voyage Amidst Floes

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1930, by Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

ABOARD BARK CITY OF NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Wednesday) (Exclusive)—The City of New York, carrying the Byrd expedition homeward, today is running west toward the whalers outside the northern edge of the pack. We have just left the heavy pack, which toward the end was broken in large floes and the ship is steaming along with clear water ahead. For hours she had been winding her way through leads and occasionally pushing huge cakes of ice aside. Sometimes she brought up with a jar that made her tremble, but she slid around the ice and took up her course again.

We have been extremely fortunate When the south edge of the pack was reached, the ice, although not heavy, was tightly packed and under a cold south wind was joined by new ice. But no sooner did the ship begin to slow up than a stiff wind from the south with gusts hit the ship astern and we took advantage of it. Forestays were set and with this pull added to the work of the engines the ship slowly worked her way through the most closely consolidated part of the pack and came out into a larger open lead.

From that time on she drove ahead before the strong wind, breaking rotten ice three feet or more thick with little trouble. Sometimes she would be brought up short by a heavy cake of hard ice, but always she wiggled around it and got going again. The ship made at times as much as five knots through this stuff and late yesterday hit a wide lead running north up, which she ran as through a river.

Last night the lead narrowed again and as darkness came on the ship was hove to for about three hours until the light again enabled the ice pilot to pick his way from lead to lead. The wind is still southerly and this morning the New York was running easily north and west with heavier ice to the northwest. Now no ice can be seen to the northwest from the crow's nest.

MEMORIAL TO HONOR GREAT PATRIOT

Vincennes Plans New Tribute to George Rogers Clark

This Will Keep Alive Memory of Dauntless Soldier

VINCENNES (Ind.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Old Vincennes, site of that epic in the winning of the old northwest soon to be commemorated in the imposing George Rogers Clark Memorial, will be restored so far as its tradition-awakened present-day residents can do so.

A year ago today the sesquicentennial of the capture from the British of the Vincennes military post, Fort Sackville, by Clark's militiamen, was celebrated with State and national dignitaries participating. Tonight a banquet attended mostly by the home folk revealed plans for an organization to be known as the "Old Post Association for the Preservation and Restoration of Historic Vincennes."

A committee, named last December, reported on a survey of sites, buildings and institutions here which played their part in the Northwest's history. These will be marked, preserved and restored by the association.

The gathering tonight honored again the heroism of Clark's men who on this midwinter day, 1779, waded through flooded lowlands to fall on the unsuspecting British and end a serious threat to American rule.

UNLAWFUL RIGHT GIVEN GOVERNOR

Attorney-General Rules State Cannot Take or "Restore" Citizenship

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Section 1579 of the Penal Code, that purports to empower the Governor to restore citizenship to a person convicted of a felony is wholly without effect because the State has not the power to deprive a person of citizenship, Atty.-Gen. Webb ruled today in an opinion given Dist.-Atty. Tinning of Contra Costa county.

"While the State may not deprive a person of citizenship," declares Webb, explaining that citizenship is fixed by the Federal Constitution, "it may deprive a person of certain political and civil rights, and those rights may be restored by the State at its pleasure."

In this connection Webb advised Tinning that under Section 673 of the Penal Code, the civil rights of a person convicted of driving an automobile while drunk are automatically restored upon the person's discharge from State prison.

BANK THEFT ADMITTED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Erminio Chiappetta, former bookkeeper of the Bank of Italy's branch in Yreka, Siskiyou county, today pleaded guilty before United States District Judge Louderback to a charge of violating the National Bank Theft Act and was sentenced to serve two years in the Siskiyou County Jail.

ELEVEN JEWISH LEADERS FREED

Foreign Office of Soviet Confirms Release

Three Still Prisoners and Names Kept Secret

Charges Against Liberated Group Published

MOSCOW, Feb. 25. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—The Russian Foreign office has officially announced that eleven of the fourteen arrested leaders of the Minsk Jewish community have been released, but the names of the three still under arrest have not been made public. The Cummunist press in Minsk today prints the names of those arrested and the charges against each one. The name of Chief Rabbi Henachem Gluskin, however, is not mentioned.

The individual charges against the men are given as follows: Benjamin Sakowiski, "a preacher with a crooked Talmudical mind who was sentenced to be shot in 1919 because of stock speculations, but escaped. When business was bad he began trading with God, giving sermons and preaching 'save our children from the fire that is destroying the Jewish people.'"

Jacob Mizes, head of a rabbinical seminary, is accused of having directed a number of illegal seminaries. Simon Kabakov is charged with being a bourgeois leader. Krengel, an ex-jeweler and silversmith, is said to have utilized confiscated metal for making spoons and forks.

REVOLT AID CHARGED

David Schachor, "an important ex-trader, was the organizer of clerical unions and rabbinical seminaries" while David Salomon "is president of a society of rabbinical students that is an outspoken counter-revolutionary organization whose object is to fight the soviet. At their meetings antisoviet speeches were made."

Rabbi Asher Kirshstein is said to be a "speculator who established loan societies that supported nepmen (traders profiting by the so-called 'new economic policy' of Lenin,) an enemy to the workers and an active supporter of the illegal rabbinical clique."

Moses Gabrielow, "Rabbi Gluskin's right-hand man, became chairman of the Jewish community when the white Poles arrived and hanged a revolutionary."

Iwiaaski, an ex-merchant, is accused of being "an industrialist in whose house the searchers found correspondence with foreign Jewish counter-revolutionary organizations." Braude is "an ex-millionaire banker, who is furious at the Bolsheviks."

REBEL "NERVE CENTER"

Of Rabbi Pevsner it is said "all illegal meetings took place in a house belonging to him. He was the nerve center of the rabbinical antirevolutionary organization, maintaining and receiving instructions from the Fascist Zadik Lebbavitcher Rebbe, who sent instructions as to how to conduct the counter-revolutionary campaign in the Soviet Union and how to create illegal rabbinical seminaries.

"Such instructions were found in Pevsner's house signed by the Lebbavitcher Rebbe. The Fascist Zadik from Riga supplies all anti-soviet organizations with information regarding the soviet and his Minsk confederates transmitted the necessary material."

Rabbinovitch is charged with being a "well-known itinerant preacher and a cunning person who camouflages his poisonous counter-revolutionary sermons with examples and stories," and Gordon with being "a leader in the students' organization, who preached that the Jewish position is no better than in Egypt or in Spain under the Inquisition."

Moses C. Levine is accused of being "a preacher who created a rabbinical seminary in Preobrank, a suburb of Minsk. A copy of a letter addressed abroad was found in which he said, 'I repeatedly requested your help. You must know that the Jewish population is suffering hunger, need and troubles. Why have you deserted us? Save us.'"

HIGH SCOTTISH RITE OFFICIAL SUCCUMBS

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Charles E. Rosenbaum, 73 years of age, second highest ranking official in the southern jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masonry, died at his home today after a brief illness. He was Lieutenant Grand Commander of the southern jurisdiction and a Thirty-third Degree Mason. He was a native of St. Louis. He suffered an attack of heart disease upon his arrival here several days ago from Washington, where he participated with other members of the Supreme Council in conferring the Thirty-third Degree upon Gen. Pershing.

CHANCE APPEAL TO KING FOR MERCY FREES SLAYER

[Copyright, 1930, Chicago Tribune]

ALESSANDRIA (Italy) Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—An impromptu chat between royalty and a humble locomotive driver six weeks ago has just turned out to be one of those strange freaks of fate which do not happen twice in a lifetime. As a result of that unexpected conversation white-haired Carlo Sasselli, 76 years of age, was today liberated from a prison cell where he had served thirty-four years of a life sentence for murder.

It all happened like this: When King Albert of Belgium came to Rome early in January to attend his daughter's wedding he strolled into the locomotive of the royal train in order to see the inner workings of the railway engine. Here he met Sasselli's son, who had been chosen to drive the royal train because he is one of Italy's best engineers. The King paused to chat a while with the engineer, who finally gathered courage enough to ask him to intercede in behalf of his aged father.

Immediately interested in the case, King Albert promised to mention it to King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, taking down the prisoner's name. Although nothing further was heard, it was demonstrated today that the King kept his word and King Victor Emmanuel was willing to accede to his request to release the murderer who has already passed three decades and a half in a lonely cell.

Milk Bottle Fragment Used to Slay Wife

COLUMBUS (O.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Evelyn Frances Edington, 19 years of age, wife of an oil-cloth company employee, was found slain in her bed at her home here today. Her throat had been slashed by a fragment of a milk bottle that authorities found near the body.

The body was found by Lawrence Edington, 20, her husband, when he returned from work early today. He was working at night and told police he last saw his wife alive about 6 p.m. yesterday.

Police said that stains were found on the floor of the bathroom and that stains also were on a faucet. The couple lived in a one-room apartment.

CHAIN BANKING SURVEY BEGINS

Comptroller Pole Proposes Decentralization

Would Restrict Expansion to Local Trade Area

Views Given at Hearing by House Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Decentralized branch banking, to be developed by permitting national banks to extend branches into their respective trade areas, was advanced as an answer today by John W. Pole, Comptroller of the Currency, to the demand for slowing down the centralization of banking resources.

Appearing as the first witness in the House Banking Committee's study of group, chain and branch banking, Pole recalled the depressing influence exerted by the large number of bank failures in various sections of the country in the past ten years and explained his conclusion that "our small independent unit banks are no longer fulfilling the purposes of their creation."

Decentralized branch banking, he contended, would not result in concentration of capital in New York, but would bring about a "regional concentration with local characteristics," through development of strong banking centers over the country.

"Branch banking extended by metropolitan national banks into their trade areas," he said, "would naturally give to these outlying rural communities and smaller cities a strong metropolitan banking service."

PARTY LEADERS LOBBY TARGETS

Senate Hears Plan to Sway Hoover and Smith

Convention Platform Plank on Muscle Shoals Asked

Activities of Farmer Group Aimed at Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—How Claudius H. Huston, now chairman of the Republican National Committee, conferred with a representative of the Tennessee River Improvement Association concerning a proposed Muscle Shoals plank for both the Democratic and Republican platforms in 1928 was described today before the Senate lobby committee.

The witness, Chester H. Gray of the American Farm Bureau Federation, testified he and J. W. Worthington, chairman of the executive committee of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, had conferred about the proposed plank and that Worthington had discussed the question with Huston.

TO SUPPLY WORDS

Gray also testified that after the conventions had nominated Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, he and Worthington conferred concerning what each candidate would say on Muscle Shoals and that Worthington said he "had contacted with Huston on the same point."

Huston at that time was president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, which has opposed government operation of Muscle Shoals and advocated the proposal of the American Cyanamid Company to lease the power and nitrate plant. He resigned his position when elected chairman of the Republican National Committee a few months ago. The lobby committee expects to call him as a witness.

Gray explained that the plan agreed upon was to have the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which has cooperated in advocating the Cyanamid bid, offer resolutions on Muscle Shoals at both the Houston and Kansas City conventions. He said he drew the resolutions, which were changed by the directors.

NO STONE UNTURNED

Other activities of the Farm Federation were described in a letter from Gray to H. R. Hibler, director of information of the federation, in July, 1928, which said:

"I learn that Senator Norris is trying to get both Presidential candidates to approve his government operation plan for Muscle Shoals. I do not think that he has a ghost of a chance getting either candidate committed on such a proposition, but as a sort of check on him it seems advisable to issue a statement reiterating the A.F.B.F. position and giving some observations generally upon the Muscle Shoals matter."

The letter inclosed a copy of a statement for publication the following week, which presented the federation's views on Muscle Shoals legislation.

The name of former President Coolidge again was brought into the testimony through a telegram sent in 1926 by Gray to E. A. O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Board Bureau Federation. The telegram said:

"President Coolidge suggests you come to hold southern Senators firm for Muscle Shoals resolution."

Questioned about the telegram, Gray said the suggestion was made at a White House conference and he thought O'Neal came to Washington, but he was not certain. He added that the federation had a "fine contact" with Coolidge.

Canadian Sees Shakespeare As Coming Author After Viewing "Shrew" Film

(Copyright, 1930, New York Times)

LONDON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Miss A. Justins, Mayoress of Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's birthplace, has received a cablegram from a Toronto man addressed:

"William Shakespeare, care Mayor."

It states the sender has seen the film, "The Taming of the Shrew," and wishes to know how much the author wants for the rights to any plays he has written or may write in the future.

Miss Justins has not yet replied.

BAY BRIDGE APPEAL TO BE DENIED

Supreme Court Indicates it Will Reject Protest on Golden Gate Span

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Supreme Court today indicated that it will dismiss the appeal of C. L. Crawford of Mendocino county, California, who attempted to prevent the organization of the Golden Gate bridge and highway district and the construction of a $30,000,000 suspension bridge.

Questions by members of the court indicated they were unable to see that the controversy presented a question within the court's jurisdiction. For that reason counsel representing the district was not heard.

This means in the practice of the court an early order dismissing the appeal for want of jurisdiction.

TWO PROJECTS WILL HAVE BUILDING RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Dismissal by the Supreme Court of an appeal filed to prevent organization of the Golden Gate bridge and highway district will lift the starting barrier on a bridge-building race involving a $30,000,000 and a $15,000,000 structure.

POWER BOARD RUMPUS GROWS

Plan for Independent Body Meets Stiff Opposition

Commission of Assistant Secretaries Proposed

Senate Committee Learns of Internal Strife

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—While charges of maladministration and internal strife in the Federal Power Commission received further airing in a Senate investigation today, opposition developed to the administration proposal to remedy the situation by setting up an independent commission of civilians in place of the present group of ex-officio members drawn from the President's Cabinet.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee learned that more than $27,000,000 appearing on power companies' accounts as assets or expenses is questioned by accountants of the commission, who contend the amount represents "illegitimate" charges.

Democrats on the committee made known at the same time they will oppose vigorously an independent commission such as is proposed in a bill by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, in line with a suggestion by President Hoover.

Senator Couzens himself said that, although he is not yet ready to amend his bill, he is much interested in substitute proposals. He suggested that a commission composed of assistant secretaries in the Departments of War, Agriculture and Interior might "remove some of the suspicion that the administration is trying to unload this power problem" on an independent group.

Democratic leaders then asserted they will oppose an independent commission on precisely that ground—that it would leave the administration free to deny responsibility for poor administration. They asserted that they will not accept any reorganization plan that does not envisage "full responsibility" on the part of the President and officials close to him.

The committee made public a summary presented by F. E. Bonner, executive secretary of the commission, showing major items questioned by accounts and auditing reports submitted with applications for development permits.

Taking note of earlier testimony by Charles A. Russell, commission solicitor, that Bonner is prejudiced in favor of "the power companies," and that he has discouraged close accounting, the executive secretary attacked Russell for having "bad debts."

Russell, who was present at the investigation, was allowed to reply. He said he suffered a "financial crash" before coming to Washington from Montana. The solicitor explained that his affairs are "being straightened out as soon as possible," and that sums owed him by his legal clients more than equal the amount of his debts.

Your FORTUNE FOUNDATION

HENRY FORD plans to devote a hundred million dollars to education of American youth along vocational lines.

And he wants no advice from "persons who have never made or saved a dollar."

Not that Henry Ford measures success by how many dollars a man may make or save. He says—"Money in itself is nothing. Its real value lies in what it enables you to do for others."

But he evidently sets value on one's ability to save a part of what he makes. Without that saving one will be able to do little for others—even for those to whom he owes most.

Everyone wants to save. It is lack of a convenient plan that keeps many people from it.

We have devised the convenient plan—simple, safe, regular. It is called the Fortune Foundation Plan for Saving. Let us tell you about it.

GIANT COTTON DEAL CLOSED

Anderson Clayton & Co. Buy Brittingham Interests

Mexicali and Mexico City Plants Taken Over

Purchase Price Quoted as $3,000,000

MEXICALI, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Marking the end of negotiations which have been in progress for several months, announcement was made here today that Juan F. Brittingham and his sons, pioneer cottonseed oil producers of Mexico, have disposed of their holdings in the Pacific mills in this city to Anderson Clayton & Co., well-known cotton concern with headquarters at Houston, Tex.

The deal includes the purchase of the Brittingham interest in the Mexicali cottonseed oil mill, refinery and gins in Mexicali and a refinery in Mexico City. The purchase price of these holdings is quoted as $3,000,000.

A. H. Lamberth, manager of Anderson Clayton interests in the West, engineered the transaction and becomes president of the Cia. Industrial Jabonera Del Pacifico, S. C. L., the name under which the Mexican corporation operates. Associated with Lamberth on the board of directors are Dudley C. Johnson, who will be manager of the mills in Mexicali; J. C. Allison, J. C. Dillinger and Harry Chandler.

Brittingham with his sons as associates erected the mill here three years ago, coming here from Torreon, Mex., where they owned and operated one of the largest cottonseed oil mills and refineries in the world. The eldest son, Juan G. Brittingham, Jr., stated today that he will remain with the new organization in an executive capacity. Other members of the family plan to devote their time to extensive holdings in Mexico and the United States.

Anderson Clayton & Co. operate in all parts of the cotton-growing world and recently have acquired extensive holdings in California. In addition to the management of the Pacific mills and gins, they will be associated with J. C. Allison in the development of additional cotton acreage in the delta of the Colorado River.

The oil mills here purchase the cottonseed from the Colorado River Land Company on the 150,000 acres that are planted to cotton. Most of the cotton and oil mill products produced here are marketed in Mexico or shipped to foreign countries.

Comptroller of Texas Resigns Post Under Fire

AUSTIN, Feb. 25. (AP)—State Comptroller Terrell resigned today in the midst of a hearing by the House of Representatives on impeachment charges against him, asserting irregularities in office.

The resignation brought the hearing to an end and it was indicated the House will take no further action.

Testimony today asserted that Terrell had attempted to replace in the State Treasury and remit to other sources a total of $11,522, representing escrow items which had been placed in a bank, but never released to the Treasury or returned to the taxpayers.

CAPITAL BREAKFAST LIVELY

Mrs. Hoover Enters Into Spirit of Gayety at Affair Given by Congressmen's Wives

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Autographs were exchanged freely at the breakfast given in honor of Mrs. Herbert Hoover today by the Congressional Club.

Between the courses of filet mignon, French pastries and fancy ice creams and salads, daughters of Congressmen sneaked out to the balcony of the Pan-American Building, where Rudy Vallee and his orchestra were eating and obtained autographs from the crooner of love songs.

It was an informal affair. Mrs. Hoover entered whole-heartedly into it and at its conclusion congratulated Vallee and posed with him and Mrs. Porter Dale, president of the club, before a battery of camera men.

She arrived promptly at 12 o'clock and chatted animatedly throughout the breakfast with Mrs. Dale and Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur, wife of the Secretary of the Interior, who were seated beside her. She wore a green-and-black flowered chiffon velvet dress and small black hat.

Vallee and his orchestra came from New York to furnish music for the affair, and before journeying to the Pan-American Building, the orchestra leader went to the White House, where he was presented to President Hoover.

DEATH OF PURNELL CONCEDED

House of David Manager Admits, After Three Years, Failure of Immortality

BENTON HARBOR (Mich.) Feb. 25. (AP)—"King" Benjamin Purnell, who died three years ago, according to State records, was pronounced dead today by H. T. Dewhirst, successor to Benjamin, temporal manager of the Israelite House of David.

The "king" who taught there would be everlasting life for the Israelites, and whose body has been held in state since his death, awaiting resurrection, is gone forever, Dewhirst admitted. With his demise an accepted fact, the lure of immortality has been effaced from the teachings of the colony.

Despite the loss of the tenet which was credited with bringing more members to the cult than any other single thing, and in the face of internal dissension which has torn the membership and property in two, the organization will attempt to carry on—divided in business affairs, but together in adherence to the fundamentals of the Israelite faith.

The so-called official faction, headed by Dewhirst, will continue to operate the Benton Harbor colony, its amusement park and allied enterprises, he said. "Queen" Mary Purnell, former consort of Benjamin, has been allotted valuable farm lands and some colony property in Benton Harbor.

Two Ship Lines Seek Mail Right on New Route

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Postoffice Department announced today that the Consolidated Navigation Company of Baltimore, and the Roosevelt Steamship Company of New York have posted competitive bids for the ocean mail contract on the new route from Baltimore to Hamburg.

There was only one bidder for each of the contracts on five other ocean routes.

The bids were: Baltimore to Hamburg, Roosevelt Steamship Company; New York to Puerto Colombia, the Colombian Steamship Company of New York; San Francisco to Puerto Colombia, Panama Mail Steamship Company of San Francisco; New York to Southampton, United States Lines, Inc.; New York to Hamburg-United States Lines, Inc.; and New York to London, United States Lines, Inc.

TUT CURSE ON HEARSE KILLS BOY

Vehicle Bearing Corpse of Lord Westbury Runs Over Lad in London Street

LONDON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Two more deaths, which the superstitious are inclined to associate with the opening of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb, are attracting attention here.

As a hearse was bearing the body of Lord Westbury to a crematorium today it knocked down and killed an 8-year-old boy, Joseph Greer. Lord Westbury committed suicide Saturday and his act was ascribed by many to the curse of the Pharaohs. His son, Richard Bethell, died last November after serving as secretary of Howard Carter, who opened the tomb.

The other death today was that of Edgar Steele, 57, a worker in the British Museum, who had cared for some of the relics from the tombs of Luxor.

A museum official scouted the suggestion that there was anything sinister in Steele's death, however, and Mr. Carter declared the curse is nothing but a myth.

Mexican Rebels Cannot Go Back

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25. (AP)—Minister of the Interior Portes Gil, in response to a question, told the press today that no Mexican who had participated in any revolution in the last few years will be permitted to return to Mexico.

This answer settled reports that several former rebel leaders would be allowed to come back.

TWO MEN ENTOMBED BY CAVE-IN OF TUNNEL

TACOMA, Feb. 25. (AP)—Workmen employed in construction of the second unit of the Tacoma municipal power plant on Lake Cushman attempted to extricate the bodies of two men buried in a tunnel cave-in today. The entombed men, believed to be dead, are O. Hallstrom, 39 years of age, and Ray Ward, 41.

LEGGE PLEADS FOR STABILITY

Farm Board's Efforts Tied to Hoover Program

Statement Designed to End Wheat Fluctuations

Markets Rally Under Force of Government Buying

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Two hours after a conference at the White House with President Hoover, Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, issued a statement intended to check the sensational fluctuations in the wheat market. Tying the farm board's program up to the President's effort to stabilize business generally, Mr. Legge declared that the "grain trade in particular is interested in the maintenance of stability and the board earnestly hopes for their co-operation in the measures now being taken for restoration of the grain markets." He added significantly that the board will stand firmly on its wheat loan policy and that he is confident its co-operative agencies "will get the loan figure out of their wheat," namely, $1.18 a bushel at Chicago.

Although he expressed his belief that the present price of wheat is abnormally low, considering prices over the last fifteen years, and that the market will rebound at least to the $1.18 figure, the board chairman was cautious in his remarks concerning the action of the board to stabilize it. He explained that approximately 15,000,000 bushels of wheat has been purchased thus far by the Farmers' National Grain Corporation and the stabilization corporation, but refused to be drawn into a prediction of how they will buy in the future.

Asked the direct question, "what can the board do, if anything, to stop the declining price of wheat?" Mr. Legge replied, "The Farm Board has the power and the money to buy every bushel of wheat on the American continent. That's something, isn't it?"

PANIC IN MARKETS STEMMED AT CLOSE

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Pandemonium reigned in the wheat markets of the American continent today as further declines of from 5 to 8 cents a bushel buried futures prices nearly 2 cents under $1, only to meet a sudden spurt of buying in Chicago, said to be led by the Federal Farm Board's Stabilization Corporation. Closing quotations indicated rallies in both Canadian and American markets that practically offset the day's declines.

MAN FIGHTS WIFE TO DIE

Wealthy Former Oil Company Executive Overpowers Bride and Plunges Eight Floors

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—For half an hour today Mrs. Richard Howland Jones pleaded and finally struggled with her husband, a former naval lieutenant and wealthy oil company executive, to prevent him carrying out his intention of committing suicide.

The unequal contest ended when Jones, a powerful man, weighing over 200 pounds, struck his wife on the head with a lamp pedestal and plunged to his death from the bedroom window of their apartment on the eighth floor of 1050 Park avenue.

The suicide followed a recent physical and nervous breakdown which forced Jones to resign his position as assistant sales manager of the Tidewater Oil Company. He had returned only last night from a sanatorium in New Jersey and before entering it he had taken a voyage to Panama with his wife, to recover his health.

Jones was 35 years of age, a graduate of the Naval Academy, of the class of 1916, and a member of the Army and Navy Club of Washington, the Engineers' Club and the Nassau Club.

His wife, who is 20, is the former Louise H. Conkey. They were married April 30, last, in the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church at Annapolis.

National Study Conference Meets in Illinois

Plea Will be Sent to Naval Session in London

EVANSTON (Ill.) Feb. 25. (AP)—A recommendation that missionaries in China do not ask for protection in time of disorders, if such protection involves the use of military force, is to be submitted to the third national study conference of the national committee on the churches and world peace.

The recommendation was embodied in a resolution adopted today by the round table on churches, the Kellogg pact and the Near West.

A second round table, on the church, the Kellogg pact, and peace policies, adopted a statement to be cabled to the American delegation at the London naval conference, requesting that the American delegation's policy be based on the Kellogg pact and that negotiations call for positive active reduction of armaments.

Lubrication in Early California

Protecting the beauty of fair skins has not been the only function of the humble soap bar. The rude carretas or oxcarts, that shrieked and rumbled over Southwestern trails from 1800 to 1840, relied upon soap for their lubrication. A larger pail of thick soapsuds was carried along for this purpose, being emptied from time to time into the axle box. Pillowed upon cushions of hay many a lively señorita and her duenna traveled in this springless contrivance as far as 30 miles in a day to attend a fiesta or ball.

TIRE MEN CONFER HERE

Bringing with them an encouraging record of substantial sales increases for last year over the year before and bright predictions for success this year, five executives of the General Tire and Rubber Company arrived in Los Angeles yesterday for their annual conference here.

F. S. POOR.

The visitors, here to confer with Arthur H. Rude, president of A. H. Rude & Co., Ltd., distributors, and with other members of the Southern California sales organization, are F. S. Poor, general sales manager; Ben Hert, assistant sales manager; Frank Gabla, factory engineer; John Harvey, director of the company's sales school, and L. A. McQueen, trade sales manager.

Mr. Poor declared that he looks forward to totals for 1930 setting an all-time record for General tire sales throughout the country, basing his predictions on the consistently increasing business through 1929, which was continued into this year.

"Gross sales for last year amounted to $27,200,180, or an increase of 4 per cent in dollars and cents over 1928," Mr. Poor stated. "Unit sales for the year showed an increase of 20 per cent over the preceding year.

"Net profits for 1929 were $1,970,000. During the year dividends totaling 24 per cent on the par value of the common stock were paid and the usual preferred dividend requirements were met."

New Automobiles Differ in Many Ways from Cars of Other Days

With 24,000,000 motor cars registered in the United States, the automobile today, when placed in show settings, attracts just as much attention as it did years ago when the first displays of the then young industry were being made. This is again shown by the attendance and interest of the crowds at the present automobile show this week.

Of course, with modern progress, entertainment features have been added to tickle the ear as well as the eye. And the decorations, which always have given Los Angeles' shows distinction, are worth in themselves a visit to the show.

"How far the motor car has advanced from the time of the first shows is so obvious that there is no news in recalling that," said Harold W. Tuttle, general manager of the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles and also chairman of the automobile show committee of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association. "But it is interesting to see the completeness of the present-day car and then run back in memory when a large share of the equipment was 'extras' and cost the purchaser additional money.

"When the first shows were held even the windshields, which had not come into general adoption, were extra. Headlamps also meant additional expenditure. It was something like starting to furnish a house.

"There were no payment plans in those days by which motorists could purchase from their incomes. Then it was a straight cash transaction and there was no trading of used cars. So the merchandising methods have advanced along with style and mechanical improvements.

"It must be apparent to every visitor at the show that their dollar today is buying more automobile value than ever before. In our twenty-five years' distributorship of the Buick we know that the models of today represent the greatest values. Sales indicate that this same opinion is shared generally."

THEY RAN AT LEAST A BLOCK

Files of "Times" in 1910 Reveal Laughable Character of Autos in Early Days With Funny Motors; No Windshield or Extras Unless Buyer Paid—and Paid

The automobile is such a commonplace part of every-day life that it is hard to realize the changes and progress made in the greatest industry in this nation. A reminder of these changes, a lot of fun, and some surprises are furnished by a review of the files of The Times twenty years ago in 1910. These following paragraphs picture the motorist and the motor car of that day.

The files of 1910 reveal that automobiles had no self-starters, no bumpers, no electric lights. Tops windshields and speedometers were extra. The steering wheel was on the right side of the cars instead of the left as of today, with the exception of some foreign builds. The hand brake was a stout, lengthy contrivance attached on the outside of the body on the right.

One dispatch declared the registrations for 1910 proved that there were 886 registrations in the State of California, 447 of them in Southern California.

J. G. Bayerline, an official of the Warren Motor Car Company of that period, declared that the predictions of lower prices on automobiles in 1911 were unwarranted, but on the contrary an actual shortage of automobiles was more than likely to occur as the demand was surpassing the production and supply. Dealers of that day made it quite plain in their advertisements with large type that certain models were "Now on Hand" "One Only" of such and such a type and never more than "Three Only" of another type.

Another dealer, E. Roger Stearns, had returned from a trip, which included a trip through the Ford factory at Detroit. Stearns stated that the average price on Fords would remain around $1000, but that the roadster would sell at $770. Stearns also had decided to enter a Ford car in the annual Phoenix road race, the most gruelling grind for an automobile in the world.

A local dealer, W. D. Howard, handled an automobile known as the Winton Six—a car advertised as "only self-cranking motor in the world."

The Phoenix road race that year was won by a Kissel car. This machine, with the dust, mud and grime from its triumphant trip to the Arizona capital, was placed on display at one of the two automobile shows held that year. It was the center of attraction, racing and endurance qualities being the best advertising an automobile could get.

Publicity men in the old 1910 period used stunts that are still being used and probably will be kept right on being used. Automobiles pulling two-story houses on rollers down the street or a loaded freight car at the railroad yard were quite common stunts in the 1910 days.

A close-up picture of a car in publicity or advertising was never complete without the bevy of beauties, some seated in the tonneau and others seated or standing on the running boards. The difference between them and now is in the wearing apparel and is laughable. Milady then wore exceptionally wide brimmed hats with plenty of hair, both false and real peeping from beneath the brim. The dresses were

Big . . . roomy . . . commanding in performance . . . impressive in appearance . . . a true Dodge Brothers product in dependability—these are the qualities that are sweeping the new Dodge Brothers Six into instant popularity everywhere. The more carefully you judge this car by what it is, and what it can do, the more you marvel at the fact that it is the lowest-priced Six—the lowest-priced closed car—the lowest-priced car with safe, silent Mono-piece Steel Body—the lowest-priced Six with weatherproof 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—ever offered by Dodge Brothers.

Evaluate the new Dodge Eight-In-Line first from the standpoint of engineering. Study its down-draft carburetion, mechanical fuel pump, air and oil cleaners, the power it delivers from its 220.7 cubic inch piston displacement, the matchless action of its big internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes. Then consider the advantages in comfort, luxury and safety of hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers, pillow-type upholstery, exquisite modernistic appointments, low-swung, silent, safe Mono-piece Steel Body. The sum of all these features at such a price can only be described as sensational value.

. . . there must have been some good politicians in that strain.

The Dodge remains the great commoner, standing firm upon its plain service record and declining all aristocratic titles. Like Gladstone, it prefers no handle or hyphen to its name.

The modest middle-class Auburn, however, has vast ambitions for its offspring, wherefore it fathers the new Cord, with its dashing front drive . . . which means that it now boasts "pull" and need no longer be vulgarly "pushing."

Certain matrimonial alliances have changed the prestige of the Paige. It married the Graham, a stylish, haughty dame . . . just like a solid American husband, whose wife has a taste for aristocratic society.

CHRYSLER SNOOTY

The Chrysler is the only car that repudiates its relations. Meekly, in my genealogical research, I asked a Chrysler salesman whether the Plymouth and the De Soto are branches of the family. "Don't mention them in the same breath," he implored me. So I was careful to take two breaths between. But for my part, I think the Plymouths and the De Soto are pretty nifty youngsters and there's no good reason for Chrysler to get snooty about them. I'm a good Democrat myself and would admit them to any party of mine.

Packard has kept clear of all entangling alliances and remains its haughty exclusive self . . . even if some of its progeny are distinctly sporty, and the entire family can be very affable and democratic.

HUDSON PROUD OF ESSEX

Hudson, aristocratic old bird that it is, nevertheless takes a fond pride in the Essex and boosts it as a fond father should.

One thing one notes in all the more youthful modern progeny of these fine old families . . . the coupes and roadsters . . . those that have a nice big space behind for baggage, etc., which can be transformed into a rumble seat on occasion. I hunted the show through for one in which the lid would open by just pressing a button, so that nice ladies wouldn't have to perspire and strain and get their gloves dirty and mess up their dresses opening the thing. The only car that seems to have solved the problem is a Peerless. One just shifts a little lever inside the car and presto, the rear end opens like magic. Wherefore it justifies its name, according to my notion.

I don't care how aristocratic all the rest are . . . if anyone wants to present me with a new car . . . please buy me that lever.

FACTORY HEAD OPTIMISTIC

BY W. S. KNUDSEN
President and General Manager
Chevrolet Motor Co.

In considering the prospects for 1930, I take an optimistic point of view. The general forecasts appearing from so many sources, indicating business recession due to last year's stock market adjustment, are, in my opinion, premature.

The economic readjustment had little effect on the automobile business, coming, as it did, at a period of the year where the production curve of the industry generally bends downward. The plans for the new year were practically matured and inventories adjusted in anticipation thereof.

Nineteen Hundred and twenty-nine was the biggest year in the industry; 1930 will, in my opinion, come close to being as big. History has shown that the low-price field is the least affected by good or bad years, the surplus this year is practically chargeable to one manufacturer making part of his 1928 output in 1929. With all factories in standard shape as to production, the output in the coming year will follow close to the actual demand of the field.

As to this demand, it can only be influenced by the values offered. The product which gives value at the price will sell in quantity equal to last year or possibly slightly better. The industry will have to demonstrate to the buying public that it is ever progressive and desires to please the owner, whether he buys a new car or is in the market for a used one. The automobile has become a part of the economic life of our country to such an extent as to make the yearly fluctuations in sales a very small ratio to the total.

Dodge Official Leaving Today

John R. Lee, assistant to the president of the Dodge Brothers factory, leaves Los Angeles today for Portland, from where he will go to be present at the latter part of the Seattle Automobile Show. Mr. Lee came to the Pacific Coast to attend the automobile shows, stopping first in San Francisco, then coming to Los Angeles.

JOHN R. LEE

At the Biltmore yesterday he expressed himself as more than pleased with the way the public has accepted the new Dodge six and the Dodge Brothers straight eight, which has given the sales organization four distinct lines of Dodge cars in as many different price fields.

PLANE SCHOOLS HERE RATE HIGH

Flying Instruction Given to Many Students

Government Sets Approval on Curriculum

Advanced Training Offered by Institutions

The rapid development of commercial aviation has aroused widespread interest among young men for entrance into this field of employment and as a result aviation schools have been exceedingly active in this part of the country. A recent report revealed that there are twenty-six schools in Los Angeles and vicinity devoted exclusively to giving flying and other aeronautical courses. Data received from ten leading schools in this group showed that they had a combined enrollment of 1851 students on January 1, 1929, compared with 554 students on January 1, 1928, or an increase of 179 per cent.

The same schools reported that 613 students completed their training during 1928, compared with 264 in 1927, an increase of 132 per cent. In September, 1929, it was estimated that more than 1800 students were enrolled in Los Angeles county aviation schools.

OLD FLYING SCHOOL

One of the oldest established flying schools on the Pacific Coast is the one operated by the Aero Corporation of California, known as the Standard Flying Schools. During the last six and one-half years in which this school has been actively engaged in teaching aviation, it has grown to be the largest aviation training institution in the entire West. The Standard School was the first aviation school in Los Angeles county to be approved by the United States government, and to receive an accredited rating from the Department of Commerce.

Enrollment at the Standard Flying School has consisted of students from practically every corner of the globe. More than thirty countries as well as thirty-seven States have been represented at this school.

The natural advantages of this community that are so readily adaptable to aviation enable the schools in this section to have a constant enrollment during the year around. Adverse climatic conditions in other sections of the country and which are unknown here, have continued to attract students from the eastern States, especially during the winter months, to aviation training schools in this part of the country. This, together with the fact that the aviation schools here are the best to be found anywhere in the country, has tended to attract the foreign student and consequently increase the enrollment here each year.

MANY SCHOOLS HERE

There are more flying schools in Southern California that have the Department of Commerce approved rating than in any other section of the country of an equal area. At present there are twenty-two government-approved flying schools in the whole United States. Five of these are located in Southern California. In July, 1929, when the school rating first came into effect, three of the first five schools in the country to become accredited schools were located in this section of the country—one of which was the Standard Flying School in Los Angeles.

Another item of importance that has attracted the investigations of the potential student and the attention of already licensed pilots to the schools here is the advanced training that is offered by these schools which is not duplicated at any other school in the country.

Model of Graf Flies Distance

FERNIE (B. C.) Feb. 22. (AP) A miniature dirigible, patterned along the lines of the round-the-world Graf Zeppelin, launched from Toronto, was found by a trapper fifty miles from here.

Inside the tiny cabin of the eight-foot model was a note bearing a Toronto address, requesting the finder to return the dirigible. A reward was offered.

The direct air line between Toronto and the point where the craft was found is approximately 1800 miles.

Pickwick to Cut Air Time to Mexico

With a two-day service north from Mexico City to Los Angeles already in successful operation, Pickwick Latin American Airways about March 1 plans to inaugurate a similar schedule for southbound planes, eliminating the overnight stop now being made at San Diego, it is announced by Thomas E. Morgan, general manager.

Fourteen and one-half hours will be cut from Pickwick's present flying time for southbound planes under the new schedule, which provides for a single overnight stop, at Los Mochis, Sinaloa. Application for permission to make the schedule change was filed recently in Mexico City and is expected to be granted shortly by postal officials there, Morgan said.

Coincident with this anouncement Mr. Morgan said a new passenger and express tariff schedule is being worked out, effecting substantial reductions in both express and passenger rates over the Pickwick Latin-American line. The lower tariffs are expected to go into effect also about March 1.

Making his second tour of inspection of the triweekly mail, express and passenger air line since its inauguration last August 1, Mr. Morgan plans to leave today by plane for Mexico City, Guatemala City and San Salvador. He will spend about two weeks on the 5000-mile air tour.

Bus Service Starts Over Malibu Road

New transportation facilities for cities along the coast from San Clemente to Oxnard, are in operation today with the inauguration yesterday by Pickwick Stages System of the first through motor coach service between San Diego and Santa Barbara via Malibu and Seashore highways.

One new two-way schedule was placed in operation between San Francisco and San Diego and two two-way schedules between Santa Barbara and San Diego, it was announced by H. A. Wooster, general traffic manager, of San Francisco.

More than two score communities are thus fare linked with the nation wide transportation system represented by these motor coach lines. Many thousands of tourists are brought into California annually over the Pickwick bus system.

Six Models in Stinson Plane Company Line

Six models will make up the 1930 line of the Stinson Airplane Corporation. All models will be of the inclosed cabin type.

Three models of the Stinson-Detroiter Junior, a four-place cabin model, will be available, the feature model being equipped with a 210-horsepower Lycoming engine. One of these models will be equipped with a 225-horsepower Wright engine and the third with a 300-horsepower Wright.

Two models will be available in the Stinson-Detroiter senior type. One is a six-place cabin plane, equipped with a 300-horsepower Wright engine and the other an eight-place cabin type with a 425-horsepower Pratt & Whitney Wasp.

A tri-motored plane is now in production and deliveries will be made about the first of April.

FISHING FOR STEELHEAD LURES LOCAL ANGLERS

Steelhead fishing in the lagoon at the mouth of the Santa Clara River has been the big drawing attraction among local rod and reel swingers during the last couple of weeks. Quite a number of fishermen went to this location last Sunday and had more or less success, according to Fred Klein.

Klein, an angler who makes a study of the subject, is of the opinion that better steelhead fishing than has been had at the Santa Clara lagoon this season should be had during the coming week. He bases his conviction on the fact that a bar at the river's mouth forms this lagoon and that during the last three days abnormally high tides of 7.3 feet have been coming in. These high tides make it possible for thousands of steelhead to get over the bar into the lagoon.

BEST LURE OFFERED

A nickel-plated spinner has proven the best lure so far used by the many anglers going after steelhead. The fish are putting up plenty of fight and those anglers hooking on to one are in for a lot of sport.

Earl Wilcox at the Western Auto Supply Company received word from Rainbow Gibson at Grants Pass, Or., declaring that thousands of steelhead are now in the Rogue River. Also that the river is nice and high and that he is expecting an early run of Chinook salmon. In preparation for the big salmon run, he has eight new boats in readiness.

That sharp competition among barge fishermen may be expected this spring and summer was indicated last week when it was learned from San Pedro that eight barges are being fitted up to be anchored off Redondo soon. The veteran Olympic barges, of course, will ply off Hermosa, and at Santa Monica several barges will be anchored.

Four jewfish were caught last Sunday by anglers specially hooked up for these fighting monsters off Catalina Island. The largest jewfish of the year was caught by John Grant of Los Angeles from the Olympic barge.

Grant took about forty-five minutes to land the big "black." He used a twenty-one-strand line.

After the battle, the fish was brought to the deck of the ship and weighed, scaling slightly more than 400 pounds.

Capt. Anderson of the Olympic barges declares that fishing has improved recently, perch, sandabs and mackerel leading the daily catches being made from his barges, from the pier and in the surf.

QUAIL LIMITS BAGGED

T. C. Palmer, Charlie Horton and Cliff Carew are back from a hunting trip in Lower California. The trio, all local business men, hunted in the vicinity of the Old Mission Gun Club and bagged a limit of quail apiece. The Mexican limit on quail is twenty-five birds. To avoid the red tape at the border, regarding the bringing in of game out of season in California, the hunters had their game prepared at Tia Juana, where several delicious feasts were had.

George C. Thomas III and party are back from a deep-sea fishing trip along the coast of Lower California. Thomas reported having excellent yellowtail angling.

Both pier and surf fishing has been bringing out a good many anglers the last week. To the anglers not familiar with Southern California, good pier fishing can usually be had at Santa Monica, Redondo, San Pedro and its breakwater, Long Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport and Balboa. Fish caught are halibut, mackerel, surf, croakers, smelt, herring, perch.

For surf fishing best bets are the beach below San Juan Capistrano and points south as far as the Mexican border. North of Capistrano, fishing along the sand coves of Laguna will be found good, also along the beach at Balboa, Newport, Huntington Beach, Bolsa Beach, Sunset Beach, Seal Beach and its lagoons, Long Beach, Redondo, Hermosa, Manhattan and north of Santa Monica clear to Ventura.

BEAUTIFYING OF ROADS ATTRACTING ATTENTION

Roadside beautification is attracting attention not only in every State, but of national organizations, it is revealed in reports reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California. The organization is observing this tendency with deep interest as it has been consistently advocating cleaning up and beautifying California's highways as a business proposition.

One of the most recent and far-reaching actions for road beautification was at the last convention of the American Association of State Highway officials. Relative to this subject the convention said:

"There is a growing realization of the fact that in the best highway development there is found, in addition to construction and maintenance, a recognition of the aesthetic values present on or near every highway and that it is a proper function of the State highway departments to engage in highway beautification and in the preservation and development of natural and scenic attractions and aesthetic values made available by the highways; and as the construction of highways through natural scenic areas often spells the doom of the natural beauty and attractiveness of the area by making it accessible for commercialization and denudation and realizing that certain highways are thereby robbed of the very features for which they were built; and as it appears practicable in many places to preserve roadside strips of natural country, which may be held for the enjoyment of all the people; and as in many places the natural beauty of the country side is made uninteresting or invisible by the presence of distracting advertising signs:

It was ordered "that the executive committee of the association appoint a committee on roadside beautification to deal with problems and studies relating to roadside parks, strips of natural timber screen, roadside advertising and beautification."

NEW PLANES ADDED TO STUDENT FLEET

Standard Flying Schools have ordered three new consolidated fleet training planes from the Aero Corporation of California to be used for primary flight training at its school in Los Angeles. Standard Flying Schools have taken delivery on a new four-place monocoach cabin plane powered with a Wright J-3 engine to be used for cabin plane training at this school.

The car with SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE developing one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight

Because it has an 85-horsepower engine which develops one horsepower for every 37 pounds of car weight, the New Oakland Eight is unusually fast. Few cars at any price can match its speed, its climbing ability, or its acceleration in traffic.

Its smoothness, too, is exceptional because of a complete down-draft carburetion and manifold system—a new type cylinder head insuring uniform combustion,—a short, rigid crankshaft—and laminated steel spring and rubber engine mountings.

The New Oakland's power plant is also one of remarkable basic soundness. It is unique in its extreme accessibility of parts, particularly of the valves, which are accessible by the removal of two conveniently located plates.

Likewise, Oakland's new bodies by Fisher will, we believe, impress you most favorably because of their low, long lines, full-flare fenders with safety marker lamps, and smart, beautifully finished interiors.

Inspect and arrange to drive this car which offers so much satisfaction for its moderate price. We are confident that a few minutes at the wheel will make you a staunch admirer of the New Oakland Eight.

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list [f. o. b.] price when comparing automobile values . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

BUSINESS MEASURE

With the motor vehicle now one of the most important necessities of American life, and its manufacture the country's largest industry, the various motor shows take on an economic and social significance far exceeding in importance that of any ordinary merchandise display.

These annual displays form one means the industry takes to keep America informed of the tremendous work constantly being done to better the country's personal transportation. It is one part of the great advertising activity that has aided in making he manufacture of automotive vehicles the country's first industry and in turn given America the opportunity of enjoying its billions of miles of freedom.

A DEMOCRATIC INDUSTRY

The automotive business owes much of its success to advertising. In the past year the manufacturers of cars, trucks and busses told the public of their products in 63,000 pages of advertising in the leading newspapers, magazines and farm journals, not including local advertising in thousands of small communities. These figures include 394 newspapers, ninety-eight magazines and twenty-seven farm journals. In addition there are thousands of lines in papers of smaller circulation. The pages in the large dailies totaled close to 61,000 and in the general and farm publications more than 2100.

The motor industry believes in advertising as a most efficient aid to low cost distribution, but possibly the most striking fact about these advertising pages is their indication of the democracy of motor transportation. Motor cars are sold to individuals. Some are owned by corporations, but 90 per cent of the machines on the road are family cars. That represents the achievement of the human desire for individual freedom and prosperity. The people who throng the motor shows do not need to seek the permission of some overlord, company or other arbitrary authority in order to own this facility.

Every year the automotive industry finds its initial market in the number of cars which are worn out and have to be replaced. With a total of 26,000,000 or more motor vehicles on the road, statisticians estimate that the total demand from this source will be not far from 3,000,000. Exports are running at approximately 1,000,000 and the sales to new buyers and two-car families should approximate another million.

The replacement market is the most important factor. Statistically speaking, the average life of a car thus far has been about seven years. This formula, however, has been affected by the fact that we have only recently come into large production years according to present standards. The figure of 3,000,000 may not be too small for 1930.

CONTINUOUS AIR DATA WEATHER BUREAU GOAL

Every effort is being made by the aeronautical meteorology service of the Weather Bureau to extend continuous day-and-night weather advice to pilots, it is announced in a report by C. F. Marvin, chief of the bureau.

"The greatest hindrance to this policy is lack of funds," reads the statement of Mr. Marvin. "The rapidly increasing number of city and commercial airports is far beyond the increase in our appropriation, but it is generally believed that Congress will alleviate this deplorable condition.

"The Weather Bureau's appropriation, however, is always made to put into operation a definite program of work, laid out several months in advance for airways and airports designated by the Department of Commerce as official.

"The bureau is always glad, however, to give consideration to special situations and occasionally some arrangements can be made to meet peculiar conditions."

NEW UPKEEP PLAN GIVEN MOTORISTS

Car Buyers Can Obtain Coupon Service Books at Purchase Time

At least 80 per cent of all ills that occur in the operation of automobiles are caused either by lack of lubrication or lubrication that is faulty, according to the Reo Motor Car Company, who announce a new service plan for Reo owners, designed to eliminate this problem.

The plan as promulgated by the engineers is to be co-operative between the manufacturer, dealer and the car owner. It is known as the Reo Protective Maintenance Record and entails the purchase of a coupon book simultaneously with a new car. The book gives complete service and inspection coverage during its first 10,000 miles of operation. Another book may be purchased for the second 10,000 miles.

The cost of the service may be paid in installments at the same time the monthly car payments are made.

As an incentive to have the car serviced every 1000 miles, the plan provides for a rebate of 10 per cent of the service price if the owner brings his car in for service within 150 miles of the specified mileage on the various coupons.

"Free service plans and many others that manufacturers have adopted in the past have not been successful in their missions," it is claimed in announcing the service, "but Reo is hopeful that its new plan will come closer to this accomplishment than the others have, in the interest of increasing efficiency of new cars and prolonging their life."

Gene McEver, halfback on the University of Tennessee team, is the leading football scorer for the 1929 season. He piled up a total of 130 points.

TRAIL BLAZED TO LA PAZ

Automobile Club Party Returns from Survey Trip to Lower California District

Blazing a trail to the capital city of the Southern District of Lower California, a quartet of experienced highway scouts of the Automobile Club of Southern California have returned with complete charts and data for maps and signposting this little-known section of the world. In the party were D. C. (Dusty) Rhodes, field engineer; Ceph Salisbury, manager of the outing department; G. M. Duckworth of the touring bureau, and C. B. Harrison of the outing bureau. D. Gless accompanied the party as interpreter.

The road down the peninsula previously had been explored to Mulege, nearly 700 miles below the border, and signs in English and Spanish have been placed.

LA PAZ REACHED

The recent trip, which occupied four weeks, took the party to La Paz, more than 1400 miles from Los Angeles, the ancient capital and principal seaport on the Gulf of California. This little city teems with romance and history, as it was here that the early pearl fisheries were developed that attracted the adventurers, pirates and sea rovers of several centuries ago. La Paz was "strutting its stuff" before Father Serra entered California to build the first of its chain of missions.

Although the principal point of the trip was La Paz, there are good roads extending farther south some 125 miles to San Jose del Cabo. There are numerous little towns in the southern part of the peninsula, but these have been isolated for centuries until the present road was driven through from the north.

ROAD OPEN TO MOTORISTS

Although the road now is open for motorists, it is not a trip for the average driver, according to Rhodes. Only experienced motorists accustomed to mountain and desert driving should undertake the trip, which totals 2840 miles from Los Angeles and return. It is necessary to be equipped for cooking and sleeping out and to take plenty of supplies. The best plan is for two cars to travel together so that if one gets out of commission, the other will be there to aid.

Within a few weeks the club will have a map of the entire highway system of the peninsula available for members and visiting motorists. Before the trip is attempted, it is recommended that full information be obtained from the touring bureau of the club, as the motorist is practically "on his own" for several hundred miles through "no man's land" in the central part of the peninsula.

Spark Should be Retarded

If for any reason the driver is compelled to crank the car, due perhaps to a run down battery, he should not forget to retard the spark. Cranking when the spark is advanced may result in serious injury when the motor fires, throwing the crank handle in the opposite direction. On latest model cars, where automatic spark is employed, a spark control on the wheel or dash will retard the spark. The automatic spark does not work when the motor is not running.

Elimination of Grade Crossing Aim in France

The government in France is taking an active interest in the elimination of grade crossings, according to reports reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California. It is stated that several hundred of the most dangerous grade crossings in the republic will be eliminated during this year.

Navy's Aircraft Carriers Will Hold Practice

With the departure of the battle fleet from Southern California for annual winter maneuvers, the Navy's three aircraft carriers, Lexington, Saratoga and Langley, are expected to play an increasingly important part, due to emphasis laid on aviation phases of the cruise.

When the carriers departed they had aboard their normal complement of fighters, observation and bombing planes, totaling 144, and the majority of fighters were Wasp powered Boeing pursuit ships equipped with arresting gears, permitting them to land on the decks of carriers, and also flotation bags which enable the planes to remain on the surface if forced down.

These fighters are powered with 420-horsepower air-cooled Wasp engines, and are part of the Navy's five-year program of aircraft development.

The air squadrons will perform various missions during the cruise. Fighting planes will be called upon to defend carrier decks against "enemy" planes, scouting planes will help locate the "enemy" and the bombers will drop 2000-pound bombs on their decks. One of the principal services performed will be aerial direction of the battleships' gunfire, performed by the scouting planes catapulted from the decks of the battleships.

You are paying for a Packard —why not own one?

The first cost of an automobile does not determine ownership costs.

A car which sells for half as much as a Packard Standard Eight does not get half rates on gasoline, oil and tires. Nor on license, insurance, garaging and repairs.

If the car is similar in size to the Packard it costs at least as much to operate it and maintain it. No advantage here, for a lower-priced car.

There is no advantage for the half-price car on first cost, either—provided the Packard is kept twice as long. For here is where depreciation must be figured in.

Simple arithmetic proves that depreciation on a Packard is no greater than on a half-price car when the Packard's useful life is twice that of the lesser vehicle.

And Packard cars are kept far longer. Comparison with lower-priced cars traded in on Packards proves it. Owners know that their Packards are built for long life, and that their characteristic beauty is not depreciated by frequent and needless changes in design.

It is literally true, therefore, that if you are driving a car of comparable size to a Packard Standard Eight you are undoubtedly paying Packard ownership costs.

Isn't it logical, then, to ask—"Why not have the Packard?"

The price of the most popular model of the Packard Standard Eight—the five-passenger Sedan—is but $2485 at the factory. Ten other body styles are available on the 127½ and 134½-inch wheelbases at from $2425 to $2885.

Let us appraise your present car, and tell you about the convenient Packard Payment Plan. A telephone call will bring our representative to your door.

THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

A TOTAL ECLIPSE

AUBURN NEW SERIES VALUES 1930 AUTO SHOWS

Nothing Compares With;

The importance of Auburn's amazing program for 1930 is the automobile sensation of this year. Although barely announced, already the public demand is widespread and growing. This quick recognition on the public's part of the outstanding values obtainable only from Auburn, completely vindicates Auburn's policy. In this, the most competitive season of the industry's history, Auburn decided to go to extremes, never before undertaken by any manufacturer. Auburn decided to simply pour quality into its different models; to grasp this opportunity to add strength, increase efficiency, improve and refine and better the Auburn cars in every way—and then—to do the most different and daring thing ever done, by offering these greater values for the most startling low prices. We invite you to inspect the Auburn Sixes and Straight Eights, and when we say inspect, we mean INSPECT; compare, analyze, and drive. The more you know about automotive engineering, about materials, design and construction, the more you will appreciate Auburn's extraordinary achievements, and the MORE you will get in value for a lesser investment.

at the shoe tops. Collars on waists came just beneath the chin.

A road race at Santa Monica held in 1910 was won by the late Teddy Tetzlaff. The annual Phoenix road race was also held and late in the year Ascot Park, a horse-racing field in the southeast part of the city, now the site covered by the Goodyear Rubber Company's plant, was turned into a special dirt track for automobile racing featuring Barney Oldfield.

In those old days Oldfield had a racing car called the Blitzen Benz.

At Ascot he raced against E. Roger Stearns, the latter driving a Ford car. Barney was after a new mile record. He held the mark of 51 4-5 seconds for a mile and was out to make it fifty seconds flat.

During those old Ascot Park racing days, a special novelty race was held for trucks. The Reliance truck versus the Randolph.

The sudden death of autoists laid to heart failure was declared wrong by medical authorities in 1910. The M. D.'s declared that excessive speed may have forced carbonic acid gas down the throats of the motorists. They sounded warnings that the faster the speed the more danger there was of the carbonic acid gas poisoning.

Big copper and brass cannisters were strapped to the running boards of cars of twenty years ago, these tanks containing carbide gas for the two headlights. Dash and tail light used kerosene.

Automobile license plates were one only, which was placed on the front of the car.

Just prior to the automobile shows of 1910, cars were after non-stop records. The Flanders and Warren-Detroit cars were after marks. Six days and six nights of continual running was the goal.

"The Drive" was particularly advertised in those remote days of gas buggies. Some cars were chain driven. Others had direct drive shafts and one car, called the Petrel, was advertised as the revolution in automobile perfection. The Petrel possessed a friction drive.

"The Greatest Average of Power in the world for the least money, $1100 to $2250", was the feature phrase of the Cutting Car ads. The ad further declared that the car rated thirty horsepower, would do sixty-five miles an hour, a new record for cars of 300 cubic inch displacement and under.

To warn pedestrians to get out of your way, a healthy sock or squeeze had to be applied to a rubber bulb on the right side of the front compartment. This bulb, with hose attached, fed air to a curled brass horn.

Windshields and tops were real luxuries. A windshield cost as low as $40 and a top could be purchased as cheap as $50. Windshields, too, were enormous affairs, reaching from just above the driver's shoe tops to a foot or so above his head. They were plate glass, brass bound, and with plenty of guy ropes for safe anchoring and bracing against the wind. The bracings consisted of small bars or leather straps.

Steam-driven cars were about on their last pins. The White Company, famous in the old days for its steamers and now for its trucks, ran an ad late in 1910 announcing it had come out with a gas-driven car, the horsepower running from forty to sixty.

Bullocks, then a young, coming mercantile establishment, had ads telling of automobile robes, dry cells and tires. Local sporting goods stores advertised women's motoring wear with accompanying sketches. No woman motorist was complete without a long linen duster, tightly buttoning to the chin. Accessories were gauntlet gloves and a huge veil to tie around the hat and face.

Men's motoring garb consisted of tan-colored leather caps with ear flaps buttoned at the top when not in use, the linnen duster and goggles and the inevitable gauntlet gloves.

Just before the year of 1910 closed a dispute of some sort came up among the local dealers as to where the annual automobile show should be held. The dealers finally split into two factions. One show was held at the old Shrine Auditorium, since destroyed by fire, December 12 to 17 under the auspices of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association. On Christmas Eve a second exhibit was held in a tent at Fiesta Park, now the site on which stands the Olympic Auditorium, under the auspices of the licensed Motor Car Dealers' Associations. Both shows were successes.

Thermos bottles were commencing to get recognition. Ads read, "Just the thing for picnics, or on long motoring tours" The prices on thermos bottles in the old days were rather high, compared to the present.

Four-door models of 1911 cars were on display, torpedo types and new makes of landaulets and limousines. The torpedo types did not resemble that death-dealing instrument of war. They looked more like a bath tub on wheels. The torpedo types were the first to have a cowl between the hood proper and the dash, the cowl sloping upward to where the windshield would be placed.

Some of the dealers' displays at the Shrine show were Bekins Motor Company, W. J. Burt Company, Chanslor-Lyon, Corbin Motor Company, Cutting Co., Dorris Car, Ford, Hawley-King, Haynes Company, National Auto Company, Owens Company, Petrel Company, Reliance Company and Warren-Detroit.

The show advertised fifty makes of cars on display and over 100 models. Music was rendered by Ohlmeyers Grand Concert Band, the selections being from Oscar Strauss's "Chocolate Soldier," twenty years ago being at the height of its popularity and now the same Strauss is here in Hollywood to have his great work done over into a talkie.

Speaking of music, a popular song of 1910 with the automobile as the theme was "Get out and Get Under."

Olive, Flower and Hope streets between Eighth and Pico were then known as "Automobile Row" all dealers having space in that vicinity.

A truck on display at the auto show held at the Shrine Auditorium, known as the Grabousky, boasted of holding the world's long-distance loaded-truck record. It had made the unthinkable record of fifty-two hours between Detroit and New York.

The famous Vanderbilt Trophy was won by the Alco car that year and a replica of the winning car was on display. Oldfield's Blitzen Benz had a prominent place, as did the Petrel racer and the Phoenix road race winner, the Kissel car.

The second automobile show opened on Christmas Eve and among the dealers on display and still in business were Howard Automobile Company, dealers in Buicks, and Ralph Hamlin, dealer in Franklins.

DECISIONS DUE TONIGHT

Final decisions concerning the winners in the old horseless-carriage contest will be announced this evening at 8 o'clock.

The judges are three officials of the Society of Automotive Engineers, Inc., connected with the Southern California branch. They are F. C. Patton, vice-chairman; J. Jerome Canavan, treasurer, and Ethelbert Favary, governor.

Three prizes are offered. The first is $100, second, $75, and third, $50. Age and mechanical condition are the only factors which the judges will consider.

NORMA SHEARER TONIGHT

Tonight, Norma Shearer will be the guest artist. Conrad Nagel will accompany her as master of ceremonies.

Last night John Barrymore held the crowd with his rendition of the soliloquy from "Richard III."

Dolores Del Rio will be the guest artist tomorrow night. The University of Southern California Trojan Band, the Men's Glee Club, the Women's Glee Club, the Trojan Trio (women) and the Varsity Four (men,) will appear tomorrow night. Bebe Daniels and John Boles will be present Friday night, and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Joan Crawford Saturday night.

The show will end its run Sunday night.

READJUSTMENT IN RADIO LOOMS

Lull in Programs Expected in Next Six Months

Large Ensembles of Voices Have Had Their Day

Broadcasting Overdone by Developers' Zeal

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m., presents Arthur Miller, art critic on "Art." World-wide news, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m. (Please note change in news broadcast from 4:30 to 4:45 p.m.)

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

A lull may be expected in radio during the next six months.

This does not mean that the programs will not be as excellent as they have been in the past. A natural readjustment is in order for broadcast, now a showman's game, has been overdone in the same way that motion pictures in the earlier development of that industry overdid productions. We have passed through what might be termed a radio splurge. The various chain broadcast companies have been competing with each other in the magnitude of their programs rather than quality. Large organizations such as fifty-piece orchestras and expensive ensembles of voices and musicians have had their day except in rare instances such as grand opera and feature productions.

The instrumental soloist has been almost ignored in the recent tide of radio broadcast and it is anticipated that the reaction which has set in will reintroduce the flute, oboe, bassoon, clarinet and brass in solo renditions.

The piano solo which played such a dominant part in the early stages of radio has been entirely out of the picture during the past year except on minor stations where it has been used as a filler. It has been missed by the public, for a piano solo in expert rendition, such as Claire Mellinino, locally, constitutes a feature which is fully appreciated.

A definite trimming is taking place in the large staff organizations of the major broadcasting stations throughout the nation. The tendency will be to get away from heavy broadcast. It has been learned that smaller organizations of picked musicians produce a unity and harmony on the air that cannot be obtained by larger groups. The definite change which is forecast should prove beneficial to radio.

DIAL LONG

KHJ at 4 o'clock this afternoon will bring Bernhard Levitow and ensemble orchestra in selections by Liszt, Dvorak, Schubert, Saint-Saens and other great composers. At 7 tonight Ben Alley and Helen Nugent will join an augmented ensemble, which will bring the music of "The Love Parade" over the Columbia network. John Barclay, well-known baritone, will sing the numbers originally presented in the picture by Maurice Chevalier. Lois Bennett will be the featured soloist of the hour. At 8 tonight the "Show Boat" will moor to your dial and present N. S. Woods's "The Boy Detective," an American melodrama, throughout which the hero and the villain vie for honors. Elvia Allman's "Surprise Package" will come to you at 9:30 tonight. Her program tonight is concerned with a girl named Sally. June Parker will sing.

KFI at 7 o'clock tonight will present over the national network the Chicago Little Symphony in the works of famous composers; while at 8:30 tonight a miniature edition of "The Count of Luxemburg," by Franz Lehar, will be heard. At 8:45 p.m. The Sunkist Serenaders, with June Purcell singing blues will entertain you. At 9:30 tonight the Etude Chorus of thirty mixed voices will give vocal ensembles of negro spirituals and concert compositions.

KFWB at 8 o'clock this morning will broadcast a program from the Breakfast Club. Prince Frederic Leopold of Prussia, Lady Margaret Spring-Rice, famous English feminist leader, and other notables and artists will attend and help make it an outstanding program. At 7 tonight the Pacific Salon Orchestra will honor "The Green Goddess" production. Lal Chand Mehra, Hindu technical director of the picture, will speak of the Orient.

Introducing the presentation of the artistry of the ukulele, guitar, banjo and mandolin, Miss Jennie Durkee, gave the first of a series of programs on The Times Forum period at 1:30 o'clock over KHJ yesterday afternoon. Miss Durkee featured the ukulele and presented such numbers as the quartet from "Rigoletto," "Country Gardens," by Percy Grainger, and "I Hear You Calling Me." Next Tuesday she will feature the Spanish guitar.

Denver Holds Record for Few Stolen Autos

Fewer automobiles are stolen and a greater percentage are recovered in Denver than in any city in the country, according to an announcement reaching the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It is said that residents of Denver have been trained to look after their cars and thus are an aid to the authorities in keeping thefts at a low ebb. The following advice, which is handed out to Denver citizens, may be applied to any locality in the country.

Lock your car—lock it every time.

Most of the cars stolen last year were stolen because they were parked unlocked!

Men are more apt to forget their cars than women.

First Glider Airport Built

That gliders are fast gaining as a sport is indicated in a recent report that Harry Kuchins, a furniture manufacturer of St. Louis, who has for the past two years been a glider fan, has leased a tract of land near St. Louis for the building of the first exclusive glider airport in the United States.

This tract is a natural amphitheater, and gliders may be flown at all times regardless of wind direction as the gliderport includes hills approximately 100 feet high surrounding the entire tract.

Kuchins is now organizing a glider club and already has fifty members. The club will use this new gliderport for instruction on all types of gliders as well as for the general use of its members who have won their glider pilot's license.

Desert Wonders Lure Travelers

The lure of the desert in full bloom at this season is attracting travelers in increasing numbers to Southeastern California, Southern Nevada and Arizona and New Mexico, according to transoprtation executives.

Dozens of varieties of cacti and innumerable varieties of desert flowers and shrubs which carpet the waste lands during the late winter and early spring transform the desert spaces into a veritable paradise that proves an irresistible lure for thousands annually.

MARMON PROMOTES OFFICIALS AT FACTORY

The advancement of three Marmon officials to new executive positions, effective immediately, has been announced. C. J. Sherer, for the last five years Marmon treasurer, has been elected vice-president and director, and his former position is filled by the promotion of E. C. Badger from assistant treasurer, recently in charge of production operations. John W. Anderson, long identified with the Marmon manufacturing organization, is advanced to the position of general-works manager, thus taking over the direction of all factory and production operations.

ALBERT C. ESSIG FLIES TO ST. LOUIS

For the purpose of conducting a survey of the aeronautical market for the Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation, Albert C. Essig, president, and John H. Kunkel, general manager of the Essig Company, Los Angeles advertising agency, flew to St. Louis this week.

Union Service Stations Take on New Color

Union Oil Company service stations throughout the Pacific Coast are blossoming forth in a new color scheme of orange, blue and white, which is making them more readily visible and attractive to motorists. The colors supplant the blue and white combination which has been in use for a number of years. The new color scheme specifies orange roof and foundations, blue band above the foundations and from the top of window head line to four inches below the soffit. The body of the station is white. All other buildings on the lot are painted in the same manner.

CANAL WORK STARTS

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 22. (Exclusive)—Making their headquarters in Porterville, several engineers from the State Department of Public Works are working in the district north of here, mapping out the proposed canal which would bring water from the Kings River country, under the proposed State water project.

DETOUR ELIMINATED

The detour which was necessary due to bridge construction at Farmsville has been eliminated, according to information received by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Latest figures by R. L. Polk and Company, showing total registrations of these cars

In state after state, Buick has outsold every one of the fifteen makes of cars in its field, by 2 to 1; and official registration figures prove that America is driving 700,000 more Buicks than any one of these fifteen other makes. Moreover, during the past several months, motorists have given Buick even greater preference by awarding it from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of ALL cars in its price class. A record tribute to BUICK'S greater value!

UNION OFFICIAL OPTIMIST ON OIL

St. Clair Cites Rosy Outlook at Annual Meeting

Asserts Prosperity Hinges on Curtailment Plan

Other Executives Sanguine on Industry's Progress

Sounding a cheerful note as to prospects of the oil industry in California, officials of the Union Oil Company of California at the annual meeting yesterday told the stockholders that for the first time in the history of the industry in this State it looked as if production would be placed under control.

L. P. St. Clair, executive vice-president, after briefly referring to the past efforts in behalf of curtailment, declared that if the plans for control were successful, the industry could look forward to prosperous times. He said this statement was made with the qualification that this did not mean that prices were going to be rigged up and the consumers made to bear the burden.

CHEAP GAS UNDESIRABLE

After showing how vital a part the oil industry plays in the economic welfare of the State, Mr. St. Clair made it clear that cheap gasoline produced without a fair return to the industry is not desirable and that the people of California should be made to understand this fact. In this connection he pointed out that two-thirds of California's $750,000,000 annual petroleum output is shipped outside the State while the money received for it flows back here. With the oil industry on a healthy basis affording well-paid employment to its army of workers, other industries are stimulated, Mr. St. Clair pointed out.

"I believe that we have educated the oil industry to the point where the operators will work for proper control," said Mr. St. Clair, after asserting that the producers were the key to the situation. "We are now well on the road to stabilized conditions."

P. N. Boggs, vice-president in charge of production, told the stockholders that the independent operators for the first time in the history of the industry are fully awake to their responsibilities and that he personally was more optimistic regarding the future outlook today than he had been for years.

BUSINESS DIVERSIFIED

R. D. Mathews, vice-president in charge of distribution, outlined the diversification of the company's activities, reporting that 40 per cent of the Union output went to foreign markets, 55 per cent to the Pacific Coast territory and 5 per cent to the Atlantic seaboard. This diversification is one of the elements of strength of the company, he asserted. The company is expecting to increase its domestic output while at the same time keeping full maintenance of the foreign business, according to the official.

When one stockholder asked about the government's suit against the oil companies in San Francisco, Paul M. Gregg, general counsel of the company, said that as yet the detailed charges had not been received but apparently were based on the activities of the companies in connection with the last gasoline price war. Mr. Gregg declared that so far as the Union Oil Company was concerned it had acted openly and fairly and injured no one and had helped to avert a serious condition.

W. L. Stewart, Jr., director of manufacturing, described some of the technical operations of the company, informing the stockholders that in the belief of the company's

ROCK ISLAND BOND ISSUE ANNOUNCED

Shareholders to Have Subscription Privilege to Convertibles

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company tonight announced plans for a $32,228,000 issue of 4½ per cent convertible thirty-year bonds to be offered to common and preferred stockholders at 95.

The issue is subject to approval of the stockholders at their annual meeting on May 1, next, and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Proceeds of the sale will be used for additions and improvements, including the road's construction program now in progress in the Southwest.

Shareholders of record March 7 may subscribe up to 25 per cent of their shareholdings. Rights will expire May 9. The bonds are to be convertible into common stock at $125 a share between May 1, 1931, and May 1, 1940. Rock Island common closed at $129 on the New York Stock Exchange today.

Rail to Pay on Common After Lengthy Lapse

BOSTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Directors of the Boston and Maine Railroad today declared a quarterly dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, placing the issue on a $4 annual basis. This is the first declaration since 1913 on the common stock.

Quarterly dividends of $1.75 on the prior preferred and first preferred C, $1.50 on 6 per cent preferred, $1.25 on first preferred A, $2 on first preferred B, $2.50 on first preferred D and $1.12½ on first preferred E were also declared. All dividends are payable April 1 to stock of record March 8.

Following the declaration of the common dividend, a preferred stockholder filed a bill in equity seeking a preliminary restraining order against the payment of the common dividend on the grounds that the preferred stockholders are entitled to dividends for the years 1925, 1926, 1927 and 1928 before any dividends are paid on the common. The company issued a statement that it is expected an arrangement will be made so that there will be no interference with the payment of the common dividend as declared.

Phillips Oil Profits Jump

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Consolidated net profits of the Phillips Petroleum Company and subsidiaries for 1929 were reported here today at $13,212,891 after all charges, including intangible drilling costs, equal to $5.39 a share on the average number of capital shares outstanding, as against $5,980,171, or $2.48 a share on the average outstanding in 1928.

Directors declared only the regular quarterly dividends and stated that due to the recent crude oil price cuts it is too early in the year to estimate earnings and consequently consideration of a stock dividend was deferred. Three months ago a 5 per cent extra in stock was paid.

Insull Put on Utility Board

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company at the annual meeting today increased the directorate from five to seven members with the addition of Edward F. Swift and Samuel Insull, Jr.

As has previously been announced, Samuel Insull, Sr., stated that at the organization meeting of the board tomorrow, he will become chairman of the company, Samuel Insull, Jr., vice-chairman, and George F. Mitchell, president.

BRILLO NET OFF

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Brillo Manufacturing Company, Inc., today announced net income of $304,103 for the year ended December 31, last, equal after regular Class A preferred dividends, to $1.56 a share on 160,000 common shares, as against $342,003, or $1.75 a share on the common in 1928.

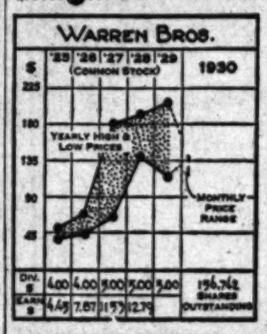
DATA ON CHAINS EXPECTED

Advocates of Nation-wide Banking Believe Hearings Will Show Need of Wholesale Change in Laws

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Some interesting data on the ramifications of bank holding companies is expected to develop in the investigation into banking problems opened yesterday in Washington by the House committee on banking and currency. Bankers familiar with the situation venture the prediction that holding companies will be found to have made such progress that only legislation permitting nation-wide branch banking will reconcile banking laws with actual conditions.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



WARREN BROTHERS

Warren Brothers Company manufactures bituminous paving and paving equipment which is patented under the name of "Warrenite-Bithulithic Pavement." The company is also an important road-building organization, and either directly or through subsidiaries has constructed a large number of highways in the United States and a majority of the countries in South America. A contract in Cuba calls for $53,000,000 of work, which progresses as payments are made. The Warren Brothers Finance Corporation will finance future sales and contracts.

Net income for the eight months ended August 31, 1929 was double that for the similar 1928 period, amounting to $2,167,774 or $13.18 per share on the common in 1929 and $1,126,521 or $6.53 per share in 1928. Common dividends were accordingly increased to a regular $8 basis, beginning with the January 2, 1930 quarterly payment. An extra of $1 was also paid at this time.

Tone Quiet on London Market

LONDON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a quiet tone today with little business transacted and prices irregular, reflecting weakness in the New York stock market. Issues of trans-Atlantic interest were dull. Talking machine issues had a quiet tone. Tobacco, artificial silk and textile securities were quiet. Match shares were lower, with margarine and molasses issues easier. The rubber list was steady. The oil group had a dull tone and mining issues were lower. Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted around £2½, Brazilian Traction ordinary around 27½, and International Nickel around 38.

The gilt-edge division had a strong tone on reports that another reduction would be made in the bank rate on Thursday. Home rails were dull, while Argentine rails were steady.

Rule Leaving on Trip Abroad

O. Rey Rule, president of the Pacific Finance Corporation, accompanied by Mrs. Rule, left last night for New York, whence they will sail March 6 for Naples on the steamship Roma. Following a trip through Italy and along the Mediterranean coast, they will go to Paris and will return to Los Angeles about May 1.

Following his custom of interviewing the leading bankers in eastern cities each spring, Mr. Rule will make this personal financial survey of the country on his return. This European trip marks Mr. Rule's first vacation in six years and follows the recent enlargement of the executive staff of the Pacific Finance Corporation, according to Lee A. Phillips, chairman.

General Asphalt Net Sharply Up

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Consolidated net income of the General Asphalt Company and subsidiaries for 1929 was reported here today at $1,757,093 after all charges, as against $930,506 in 1928, an increase of $836,587 or more than 90 per cent.

The 1929 earnings are equivalent, after allowing for dividends on $6,628,200 par value preferred stock retired near the close of the year, to $3.45 a share on 413,333 common capital shares now outstanding. This compares with $2.79 a share on 210,087 common shares outstanding in 1928.

TRANSAMERICA ANALYZED

R. L. Dunn, Jr. & Co., has issued an analysis of the Transamerica Corporation, it was announced yesterday.

Comptroller of Currency Pole is advocating regional branch banking, or the extension of branches within recognized economic boundaries, as the logical adjustment to modernize banking legislation. At yesterday's hearing he described the proposed regions as "metropolitan trade areas," or a geographical territory "which embraces the flow of trade from rural communities and small cities to a large commercial center."

WISDOM QUESTIONED

Other banking authorities believe the setting up of economic boundaries will be found impracticable, and productive of considerable dissension. Ideas on the proper boundaries to circumscribe for branch systems are certain to differ, it is pointed out, since there are only a few instances in which definite data are available to show where one economic territory starts and another ends. Arbitrary fixing of limits it is further argued, would probably work a good many injustices.

Restriction of branch-bank systems to Federal Reserve districts is most frequently advocated by the expansionists as the wisest solution of the boundary problem. This group suggests that it is better to compel branch bankers to develop their organizations within certain definite areas before permission is given to launch into nation-wide expansion, with its accompanying problems of organization and management.

CHAINS EXTENSIVE

But this program of limitation to Federal Reserve districts, as well as the suggestion of economic boundaries, ignore the fact that bank-holding companies already control chains stretching into all parts of the country. These chains, as the Congressional investigation will undoubtedly develop, boldly extend across Federal Reserve lines and so-called economic boundaries. To obtain the benefits of branch banking it will be necessary to include all banking controlled by holding companies under the proposed legislation, so advocates of nation-wide branch systems argue.

Operation of chains by holding companies, they contend, does not permit of the same degree of centralized management and supervision that branch systems enjoy. Nor are holding companies subject to Federal or State examination as are the branch systems.

Agitation against large business combinations may interfere with the possibility of nation-wide branch systems at this time. A limitation of branch expansion to Federal Reserve districts may be accepted as a compromise, and legislation adopted to bring bank-holding companies under the authority of bank examiners. But the nation-wide enthusiasts are certain that their day is not far distant.

Rio Grande Head Optimistic Over Outlook in Oil

In addition to expressing himself as optimistic over the outlook for the oil industry in California as a result of the progress of curtailment efforts, Charles S. Jones, vice-president of the Rio Grande Oil Company, yesterday stated that he did not anticipate any further reduction of crude oil prices in the Midcontinent field. Mr. Jones, who has just returned from the East, said that many of the eastern producers felt that the recent reductions in crude oil prices were unwarranted.

He said that with the coming of spring and the consequent increased consumption of petroleum products he did not expect to see any further reduction in Midcontinent prices. Further price slashing in that field, he intimated, would bring chaos to the industry and would necessarily affect the California situation.

The extreme winter that the East has suffered has resulted in a marked decrease in the consumption of gasoline while at the same time gasoline going into storage has shown an abnormal increase, Mr. Jones said. The average reduction in the retail price of gasoline in the East was 1.7 cents a gallon, he said.

Regarding the dropping of the negotiations for the merger with Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, Mr. Jones said there was nothing further to be said at this time.

Neisner Brothers, Inc., Pays Initial

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Neisner Brothers, Inc., today declared an initial quarterly cash dividend of 40 cents a share on the common stock, placing the issue on an annual basis of $1.60. The dividend is payable April 1, next, to stock of record March 15. A stock dividend of 60 per cent was paid on this issue on August 5, last.

Net income of the company for the year ended December 31, last, was $1,025,363, after charges and taxes, equal after preferred dividends, to $4.18 a share on 206,215 common shares outstanding, as against $779,698, or $5.10 a share on 125,000 common shares outstanding in 1928.

DIRECTORS ADDED

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—At the annual meeting today Walgreen Company re-elected retiring directors and added J. H. Johnson of the Schramm-Johnson Drug Company, Walter Schwanke, John McKinley, Jr., and R. G. Knight of the Walgreen Company.

NET OF BLUE DIAMOND UP DURING YEAR

Material Company Per Share Earnings Given at $16.33

Consolidated net profits of the Blue Diamond Company and subsidiaries for 1929 totaled $326,792 after depreciation and depletion and interest but before Federal income taxes and amortization, equal to $16.33 a share on the 20,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, as against $117,953, or $5.75 a share in 1928, according to the annual statement issued yesterday by W. C. Hay, president.

Blue Diamond Company, manufactures and sells a variety of basic fireproof building materials and in addition to the plants and properties of its subsidiaries controls its own source of raw materials and owns properties in Los Angeles, Riverside and Imperial counties.

Net sales for the year aggregated $4,413,693, a slight decrease from sales of $4,500,829 reported for 1928. The balance available for bond interest, after deducting cost of goods sold, operating expenses, depreciation and depletion, amounted to $383,592, or 6.75 times bond interest charges of $56,800 during the year.

Bonded indebtedness to the amount of $40,800 was retired during the year, leaving a balance of $910,000 first mortgage bonds outstanding. Net worth represented by capital stock and surplus totaled $3,593,450 and current assets of $1,069,751, including $274,537 in cash, were 3.38 times current liabilities. Surplus was increased $108,086 to $1,593,430.

Women at Top in Ownership of Securities

With a total investment reckoned in excess of $60,000,000,000, women own well over half and in many instances 60 per cent of the stock outstanding of the leading railroad, public utility and industrial corporations of the United States, according to a statement just issued by the publishers of the Encyclopedia Americana.

Corporations which come directly in contact with the daily lives of women, such as chain stores, department stores, light, power and gas companies, show in most instances, a continual gain in the percentage of women stockholders over men, the statement pointed out.

Women also show more of a tendency to buy and hold securities than do men, who are likely to take a speculative position, it was stated.

Two New Bond Issues Due on Market Today

New financing to be offered for distribution today includes an industrial bond issue and a public utility note offering. The latter is a new issue of $2,000,000 Western Utilities Corporation 6 per cent gold notes to mature September 1, 1931, tendered by a syndicate headed by Central-Illinois Company, and including Freeman, Smith & Camp Co., H. M. Byllesby & Co., and Paul H. Davis & Co. The notes which are listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange, are priced at 99 1-4 and accrued interest to yield 6.53 per cent.

The corporation furnishes through its operating properties water and telephone service in California to cities or towns within the immediate vicinity of Los Angeles and San Diego and its operating properties have been appraised at a net sound depreciated value of $6,704,920.63, which is substantially in excess of $4,180,000 principal amount of total funded debt presently to be outstanding, including this issue.

Eastman, Dillon & Co., and Prescott, Wright, Snider Company are marketing $1,500,000 Sheffield Steel Corporation first mortgage 5 1-2 per cent gold bonds, an additional issue, dated March 1, 1928, and due March 1, 1948, at 97 1-2 and accrued interest to yield about 5.72 per cent.

DEFICIT REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—San Diego & Coronado Ferry Company reported today a net deficit for January of $914 against a net income in January, 1928, of $3587. Operating revenues increased from $20,203 to $21,905 and expenses from $17,322 to $21,877.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—An early advance of some 15 to 20 points on covering and trade buying promoted by relatively firm Liverpool cables was registered for the entire list under renewed liquidation in the cotton market here today. Weakness in wheat is said to stimulate the selling which carried prices into new low ground for the season, with May selling below the 15-cent level. Offerings tapered off somewhat at the decline, however, and the market showed rallies of a few points from the lowest around 2 o'clock.

SOVIET TRADE TOTALS HIGH

Business With American Concerns Declared Heavier Than in Any Other Country

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—In these days American business is not turning the cold shoulder to orders coming from Amtorg, the Russian American Trading Corporation, the most active buying organization in the United States today.

Texas is shipping a $35,000,000 order of cotton to Northern Russia. During the year 1928-29 the total amount of American cotton purchased by Amtorg was valued at $30,000,000—about $22,000,000 less than in the preceding year. Cotton growing areas in other parts of the world caused the decline.

The Allis-Chalmers Company, Milwaukee, has Amtorg orders for tractors valued at $3,500,000. Throughout the United States the total tractor shipments to Russia before the end of March will exceed 30,000 units, valued at about $25,000,000.

Amtorg has bought in the United States this year 17,000 plows, 2000 grain drills and 18,000 special drills for cotton and corn.

"No one not closely in touch with the Russian situation can realize the tremendous amount of money which the soviets are putting into agricultural development—that is, agricultural machinery," says Thomas D. Campbell of Montana, an agricultural adviser to the soviet government in the United States. "I should not be surprised to see $500,000,000 spent in the United States for agricultural machinery in the next ten years."

Soviet Russia, unrecognized here politically, is doing more business now in the United States than in any other country in the world.

When Prof. E. A. R. Seligman of Columbia University completed his study of installment buying, he said that the system had in it the elements of great development, but that it would have to be handled with care.

The world has heard much about American labor buying automobiles, radios, pianos, vacuum cleaners, and many writers have pointed to this fact as incontrovertible evidence of the prosperity of labor.

And during this time the future earnings of American workers were being pledged, through the process of installment purchase, to an extent never before equaled.

Dr. Frank A. Fall, director of education and research of the National Association of Credit Men, has issued figures to show the extent of installment buying in 1928. Later figures are not yet available. He shows that 85 per cent of the furniture, 80 per cent of the phonographs, 75 per cent of the washing machines and automobiles, 65 per cent of the vacuum cleaners, 40 per cent of the pianos, and 25 per cent of the jewelry were bought during that year on the installment plan.

But look at the amazing resilience of American industry! Building and loan associations now have resources exceeding $8,000,000,000; savings-bank deposits aggregate about $28,000,000,000 more. Half of the American people own their own homes while between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 people own stocks and bonds in various corporations. More than $100,000,000,000 of life insurance is carried by 60,000,000 people.

Installment buying carried on for decades within modest limits by several American corporations, notably the International Harvester Company and the Singer Sewing Machine Company, has worked out in an eminently satisfactory way.

But installment buying of every luxury and almost every necessity of life on such an extensive scale as practised during the last few years does present elements of very great danger to business.

Untouched by Changing Investment Fashions

The past few years have seen many changes in investment fashions. Preferred stocks, foreign bonds, convertibles, common stocks, investment trusts have all held the center of interest—only to be supplanted as the next swing of the investment market.

But the popularity of high-grade public utility bonds remains unchanged because it is soundly based on a record of dependability and strength, unequaled by any other type of securities yielding a comparable return.

Our current list contains a broad selection of high-grade public utility bonds chosen from every important investment market. These issues yield from 4.50% to 6.50%. Detailed information regarding them will be gladly furnished on request.

TREND OF STOCK PRICES AIMLESS

Change Negligible at Close of Quiet Market

Rally in Wheat Starts Covering Activity

Total Turnover Slightly Over Previous Day

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Stock prices churned about without definite trend in a dull session of trading anywhere today as speculative attention converged upon the spectacular gyrations in the wheat markets. Trading on the stock market was a little more active than yesterday, sales totaling about 910 shares, but gains and losses were evenly distributed at the close and the price index of ninety leading shares showed negligible change.

Rather active liquidation appeared at times, but a buying movering movement in the last hour was prompted by the sharp rally in wheat. Renewed buying appeared in the last few minutes of trading, however, and the closing market was slipping when the closing gong sounded. Rails were conspicuously heavy, influenced by publication of several January operating income reports, which the main were fully as unfavorable as had been indicated by car loadings reports.

The further collapse of wheat prices, carrying the March option below $1 a bushel, to close to the low levels reached last July, was regarded in Wall Street as marking the latter stages of the liquidation movement, an opinion which was in part borne out by the closing rally of about 5 cents a bushel from the low of the day. About the only favorable aspect of the situation, as far as business, was said to be the fact that the farmers have disposed

DEFAULTED BONDS

LOOK over your list of securities. You may be holding one or more defaulted bonds . . . bonds whose interest is not being paid . . . whose market value has depreciated materially . . . whose future prospects of working out satisfactorily are discouraging.

To holders of such bonds we would like to submit a conversion plan that offers an unusual speculative opportunity . . . not only to recover your original investment, but for speculative profit possibilities as well.

Briefly, our plan suggests the changing of your "defaulted bonds" for the guaranteed government and railway bonds of the Republic of Mexico . . . a nation whose political, economic and financial rehabilitation is assured. This plan is unique and will bear the strictest investigation on the part of the conservative bond buyer.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Trading brightened late today on the San Francisco Stock Exchange, following a dull morning. Weakness early followed the speculative lead of Wall street, but when that market turned upward, following improvement in Chicago grain prices, western operators were quick to re-enter the market for West Coast stocks.

The afternoon pickup in buying sent 79,887 shares at $1,283,619 across the tape, with $23,000 bonds. Despite a drastic drop in bank averages, the general average of twenty stocks given by Bates & Co. gained ground, as did the oil stocks. Utility stocks were mixed.

Pacific Telephone preferred made up 1 point of its loss of yesterday. The common and rights slipped fractionally lower. Coast Counties Gas, selling ex-dividend, fell 1½. Other utilities were steady or showed minor variations.

Schleisinger preferred jumped 3½ points, presumably anticipating the yearly statement expected soon. Other industrial gains were fractional, including those of Calaveras Cement preferred and Aviation Corporation of California which established new highs. Losses about balanced gains, a comparison of stocks making fractional moves showed. Crown Sellerbach 5 preferred lost 1¾ on news that senior financing would likely be floated soon.

Of the finance group, Pacific Finance dropped 3½. Transamerica sold ⅝ lower, as directors remained incommunicative on business transacted by the new executives from Wall street, saying affairs handled were routine in nature. Hopes of extra-dividend announcement received little encouragement from officials. Bank of California, on an odd sale of 5 shares, dropped 15 points to a new low at 285. Bond issues fractionally lower.

No price moves greater than a ½ point were shown by the oils, despite the report of a large increase in California crude production, resulting chiefly from tests of oil well capacity, and therefore regarded as temporary.

Sentiment brightened noticeably in late trading. Cheer was spread by the picking up of trading volume as soon as prices turned upward, indicating a greater tendency to buy for appreciation than to sell before threatened slumps.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Irregular Minor Fluctuations Characterize Local Stock Market Operations

Reactionary tendencies continued to mark trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as the list turned heavy on the liquidating side. The market was not without its support, however, and after early weakness a strengthening tone was manifested with the more popular issues moving in an upward direction toward the close.

Operations in Transamerica Corporation far outclassed the general list as a total of 6400 shares of the issue crossed the board. The stock ranged between 45 1-4 and 44 7-8 and finished at 45, off ½ net. The rights traded at 2 cents and then dropped to 1 cent.

Southern California Edison was the next most active issue and after dipping to 62 3-4 the stock swung up to close high for the day at 63 5-8, for a net gain of 3-8. The rights yielded 5 cents to 3.45. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph traded at 165.

Pacific Western was the most active of the oil shares and turned down ½ to 14 5-8. Richfield after sinking to 23 7-8 recovered to close at 24 1-8, up 3-8 net. Standard of California sold off 1 to 58, while the others held steady on light sales.

Security-First National Bank, recent prominent trader, eased back 1-4 to 114½, while California Bank continued strong with a gain of 1-8 to 115 1-8. Pacific Finance, trading briskly, dipped 1-8 to 38 7-8 and Pacific Mutual, 3-8 to 81 3-4. Rights to the latter slumped 20 cents to 3.00. International Re-Insurance sold off a point to 45½.

Western Air Express on a turnover of 200 shares dropped 3-4 to 38 1-4 and Hydraulic Brake, which sank 5 points on the previous session, firmed up 3-8 to 35 3-8. Emsco dropped 2 points to 18 and Neon of Delaware strengthened fractionally.

Sales totaled 28,234 shares valued at $850,650; previous day, 13,327 shares valued at $410,495.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday held to the quiet pace which characterized the previous session, and on lack of immediate demand the list slipped back fractionally. Among the major issues, Gladding McBean, moving up ½ to 59 was the only stock to record an advance.

Very little pressure was in evidence, however, and the few recessions recorded were of small consequence. Pacific Indemnity dropped off another point to 40 and Cities Service, Diamond Electric, Fokker, Hancock Oil and Intercost Trading eased slightly.

United American featured the penny stocks and with a turnover of 35,250 shares advanced ¼-cent to another new top for the year at 7¼ cents. Tom Reed, which, with United American, featured the preceding session, was relatively quiet and dropped back 3 cents to 72 cents.

Sales totaled 80,833 shares valued at $73,812; previous day, 60,395 shares valued at $82,795.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Further unsettlement in commodity markets was the chief reason for the stock market's irregular price movements today. Gas in the utility group predominated the day's gains of a few points, but there were a few strong spots in the specialties. Dukes retained the gain of 4½ points, Duke closing at 71, a fraction below its high. Niagara Hudson Power A. and Electric Bond & Share lost a point or

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Wash. at Vern'l.—"The Cock Eyed World." Fourth humor and wood comedy; should you care for such. Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe.

Orpheum Circle, Cardiac Center—"Devil May Care." The adventurous romance of Napoleon's days is brought to light by Ramon Novarro in an acceptable musical drama of love and bravery.

Criterion, 6834 South Grand—"Anna Christie." Greta Garbo speaks the lines of Eugene O'Neill's heroine in fine style. Clarence Brown has done some of his best directing.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"Hell's Heroes." A bitter struggle with the desert, well fought by Charles Bickford, Raymond Hatton and Fred Kohler.

Filmarte, 1926 Vine.—"Flames on the Yoga." Russia runs rampant 'round religion in the person of Catherine the Great. Plenty of action, but that's almost all.

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—Mongo Song, Lawrence Tibbett make a powerful impression on screen fans in a vocalized romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"Taming of the Shrew." Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks bring Shakespeare up to date in a rollicking manner.

Loew's State, Bdwy. at 7th.—"Bishop Murder Case." Crime talks in rhyme in this S. S. Van Dine Mystic Mood. Basil Rathbone and a large cast make it fairly exciting.

Million Dollar, Broadway at 3rd.—"Party Girl." Scintillating fun today's Times. Palace, Bdwy. bet. 6th & 7th.—Taming of the Shrew." See above.

Paramount, Bdwy. at 6th.—"Street of Chance." A gamble taken from the life of Rothstein. Excellently played by William Powell and Kay Francis.

Rita, 3200 Wilshire.—"Not for Paris." Another of that eminent humor associated now with Victor McLaglen, El Brendel and Fifi Dorsay.

R.K.O., 7th at 8th.—"The Racketeer." A crook drama without crooks makes an unusual angle and you'll like Robert Armstrong and Carol Lombard.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at 9th.—"Seven Keys to Baldpate." An old time stage success revived as a talkie with Richard Dix suffering no ill effects in the transition.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th.—"Condemned." Ronald Colman somehow finds romance on convict's island; but when you see Ann Harding rest well's wonder.

Warners' Downtown, 8th at 7th.—"She Couldn't Say No." The title, not the play, is transposed to the screen. Gangsters mix with music which is rendered loud and loudly by Winnie Lightner.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"The Green Goddess." Intelligent as might be expected from George Arliss, who holds his role in this.

Westlake, 626 Alvarado.—"The Laughing Lady." Ruth Chatterton demonstrates that a little subtle will go a long, long way, as the laughs of the audience prove. A show for the sophisticated.

STAGE

Belasco, 9th at 11th.—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced unspoiled by an English company.

Biltmore, 8th, nr. Grand.—"Come Hollywood." Pert Kelton is as eccentric as only fairly entertaining revue.

Hill Crest, Hollywood Blvd. nr. Highland.—"Ladies of the Jury." The jury reveals itself as quite a humorous group in this light comedy led by the capricious Mary Boland.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1722 Vine.—"Hallwater." A well staged and nicely enacted comedy of the sea, starring Frank Craven.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th.—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well done, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Houston.

Mission Play, San Gabriel.—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With R. N. Madison as Padre Serra.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Bill of Divorcement." This is Clemence Dane's dramatization of one of England's problems and Ian Maclaren is featured.

President, Bdwy. bet. 5th & 6th.—"Give and Take." No business in a canning factory, with Kelh and Dill arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine.—"The Nut Farm." Hollywood is pictured as something it hardly is which in this case can't matter at all. With Raymond Treacy.

VARIETIES

CURE FOUND AT U.C. FOR FISH PARASITES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—The deaths of 200,000 steelhead trout in California streams have been traced by experts at the University of California's Hooper Foundation for Medical Research to the attacks of skin parasites which ate away the fins and tails. Dr. H. Van Roekel of the California Fish and Game Commission, who studied the situation in co-operation with the university scientists, said experiments show these parasites can be eliminated from hatcheries by giving the fish baths in weak acetic acid or formalin solutions when necessary and by cleaning ponds and troughs with the latter. Following such a bath the fish often seem ready to die from the treatment, it was said, but they recover after a few minutes.

MINERS' UNION REVOLT CAUSES MEETING CALL

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 25. (AP)—The international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America tonight issued a call for an international convention of the union to be held at Indianapolis beginning March 10. The announcement, which followed a meeting of the executive board here today, said: "It is expected that the convention will take action with reference to the rebellion in the union in Illinois, where a rump convention has been called by insurrectionists for the same day on which the Indianapolis convention will open."

DRIVER HELD IN ICY RIVER FIVE HOURS

Fellows Finally Rescue Him From Hole Where He Was Drawn by Current

FITZROY HARBOR, (Ont.) Feb. 25.(AP)—Hector Roy, a diver, is recovering today from the effects of five hours' imprisonment beneath the icy waters of the Ottawa River.

He was drawn into a deep hole in the river bottom yesterday and held there by a strong current when he went down to work on a cofferdam being constructed in connection with a hydroelectric power development at Chat's Falls.

When the efforts of six men pulling on a strong line about his body failed to dislodge him, three fellow divers went down and built a triangular cribbing about him. The cribbing deflected the current sufficiently to relieve the pressure on the imprisoned diver could be drawn up. He suffered chiefly from the extreme coldness of the water.

A month ago Peter Trans, a Danish diver, lost his life when he was caught beneath the waters of Riviere Aux Outardes on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River while engaged in similar work. His body was recovered after he had been under water more than seventy-two hours.

ZEPPELIN'S MAKER ASKS NEW LAWS

No Regulations Covering Lighter-Than-Air Craft Exist, Says Litchfield

Necessity of new legislation as a result of plans to start Zeppelin passenger and freight service between California and the Hawaiian Islands in 1932 with the prospect of an extension of the service later to the Orient was pointed out here yesterday by Paul W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation of Akron, O.

At the Biltmore Litchfield said that laws applying to the merchant marine and heavier-than-air craft make no provision for Zeppelins. Measures granting the Postoffice Department authority to make mail contracts with lighter-than-air carriers and regulating the liability of Zeppelins engaged in foreign trade are among the most important laws seen as essential.

LEGISLATION NEEDED

"Transportation by airships is so new," Litchfield said, "that much legislation is needed before we can make much headway."

Litchfield said that rapid progress is being made on plans for the trans-Pacific service. Engineers have practically completed preliminary drawings for the ships with which the service will be inaugurated, he said. The visitor said the craft will be similar to the ships being built at Akron for the Navy.

Use of helium as the lifting gas will make it possible for the power plant, cargo spaces and passenger accommodations to be inclosed. Only the pilots' observation gondola will be outside the envelope.

Litchfield said it is planned to start the service with one ship, making a round trip every week between California and the Hawaiian Islands. Favorable, prevailing winds will make it possible for the line to make the westbound trip in thirty-six hours. Forty-eight hours will be required for the return journey.

SHIP'S CAPACITY

Approximately 100 passengers will be carried between this coast and the Hawaiian Islands. Sixty to eighty passengers will be carried on the ships to be operated later to the Orient. Between twenty and twenty-five tons of mail and express matter will be transported in addition to the passengers.

The Goodyear president said he believes tire business will be slightly greater in 1930 than it was in 1929, the greatest year in the history of the company. The tire business, he said, was one of the first to feel depression and one of the first to recover. It touched bottom about January 1, he said, and has been gaining since that time. Litchfield said that his firm finds business is keeping closer to normal this year—sailing on a more even keel—than

FILIPINO-WHITE UNIONS BARRED

Judge Rules Malayans Part of Mongolian Race

Change in Opinion on Brown People Cited in Court

Decision May Affect Hundred Couples Already Wed

Filipinos are Mongolians, therefore they are not permitted to marry whites under California's miscegenation law.

This is the ruling yesterday of Superior Judge Smith of Calaveras county, sitting in Department Forty-seven of the Superior Court here when he made permanent a temporary writ of prohibition to prevent County Clerk Lampton from issuing a marriage license to Tony V. Moreno, 24-year-old Filipino, to marry Miss Ruby Robinson, 22 years of age. The petition for the writ was filed by the girl's mother, Mrs. Stella Robinson.

Following the court's decision the County Clerk immediately notified Miss Rosamond Rice, marriage-license clerk, not to issue any more marriage licenses to Filipinos who intend to wed white women. A dozen couples were awaiting Judge Smith's ruling.

OPINION CHANGED

More than 100 marriages between Filipino men and white girls in Los Angeles county, already performed may easily be declared invalid because of Judge Smith's ruling, attorneys pointed out last night.

The law in California forbids marriage of whites to negroes, mulattoes and Mongolians. Filipinos assert they do not fall under the provisions of the act on the grounds they are of the Malay race, and that the law does not exclude Malays.

In recent years, however, according to a ruling of Atty.-Gen. Webb, and all modern scientists, cited at the Moreno hearing on Monday, all the brown races are Mongolians. Early-day scientists, it was pointed out by Attorneys H. G. Harper and Joseph H. Gosling, representing Mrs. Robinson, gave five classes of the human race, Caucasian, Ethiopian, Malay, Mongolian and red men. In later years, however, enthnologists give only three classes, white, black and yellow. Malays and Filipinos, the brown races, they assert, are Mongolians.

DISPUTE NEVER SETTLED

Deputy County Counsel Fenn, representing the County Clerk at the hearing on the writ of prohibition, contended that there has been an endless dispute between scientists over the race classification question which has never been settled.

Circulated reports early yesterday that Mrs. Robinson had suddenly left Los Angeles for parts unknown, were discounted during the day by both Attorneys Harper and Gosling.

"She merely left the city on a business trip and will be back in a few days," they said. "Her departure had nothing to do with the hearing on the petition for a writ to prevent her daughter marrying Moreno."

Steckel Named Police Chief for Sixty More Days

Chief of Police Steckel, who was given emergency appointment to that office on the first of the year for sixty days, following the reduction of former Chief Davis to deputy chief in charge of traffic, yesterday was given another sixty-day emergency appointment by the Police Commission on motion of Drake, seconded by Thorpe.

There is no civil service list of eligibles for chief and the Civil Service Commission has deferred the date of such an examination pending time necessary for Chief Steckel to obtain the experience sufficient for him to take the test.

Knudsen, associate professor of physics at the University of California at Los Angeles, will conduct an evening course in Theory of Sound and its Application for the Extension Division of the University of California. The course will include lectures, demonstrations and group experiments, and is designed for directors and mechanics of moving-picture studios, architects and draftsmen, sales engineers of acoustical materials, telephone and radio engineers and teachers of high school physics.

DOG'S BITE HELD SELF-DEFENSE

Parent of Lad Killed by Canine Denied Damages; Provocation Shown

A dog is legally entitled to one bite—even though it is a fatal one, according to the verdict of Superior Judge Schmidt, yesterday.

Frank Ramirez, father of Rafael, 8 years of age, who died after being bitten by a police dog February 25, 1929, sued Jose Garcia of 10833 Kalmia street for $7500. Testimony showed the boy had thrown stones at the dog and the evidence was not conclusive that Garcia owned the dog, so the plaintiff recovered nothing.

QUEST FOR BEAUTY HAS ITS PERILS

Two Women Seek by Law Reparations for Injuries at Hands of Specialists

Two women, both seeking damages for asserted disfigurement at the hands of beauty specialists, appeared in court yesterday to prosecute their cases.

MRS. GERTRUDE W. HOOD

One of the women is Mrs. Gertrude W. Hood, who is asking $108,980 in an action against Dr. O. Barnes, plastic surgeon. Represented by Attorney Benjamin Lewis, Mrs. Hood asserts Dr. Barnes performed an operation on her eyelids to remove wrinkles. Instead of removing the wrinkles, she asserts, her eyelids were badly scarred and she is forced to wear colored glasses to hide the disfigurement. The case will be called for trial Thursday before Superior Judge Archbald.

MRS. MAGGIE M. BOWLBY

The other woman is Mrs. Maggie M. Bowlby, seeking to recover $35,000 damages from the Sullivan College of Beauty Culture. Her case went to trial late yesterday before Superior Judge Bowron. She contends her scalp was severely burned when drying apparatus in the beauty parlor burst into flames while she was having her hair dressed.

In both actions the defendants assert the women contributed to their injuries, if they were injured, by their own negligence.

WOMEN SEE DEATH LEAP DOWNTOWN

Louis Dolsart Plunges to His Death from Thirteenth Floor of Office Building

While two women watched from a near-by office building in horrified amazement, Louis Dolsart, 60 years of age, of 735 Hartford street, yesterday afternoon, leaped from a fire escape on the thirteenth floor of the Pacific Finance Building at 621 South Hope street to his death in a rear alley.

Police found on the fire escape the man's coat, neatly folded, his hat, cane and two notes. One of the missives, read: "I wish my corpse cremated and the ashes spread to the elements."

In the other note Dolsart said he had suffered financial reverses and was chronically ill.

The women who witnessed the spectacular suicide are Mrs. Victoria Minyard of 1170 Bellevue avenue, nurse, and Mrs. Ella Bennett of 613 East Seventy-eighth street, patient, in a physician's office on the tenth floor of the Roosevelt Building.

CRIME WAVE TO BE TOPIC

Reduction of the crime wave through scientific treatment of criminals will be discussed by the newswriting class of Polytechnic Evening High School at 8 p.m. today. Anthony Pratt, secretary of the Los Angeles Municipal League, will speak.

AVIATRIX OFF FOR MEXICO CITY

West Coast Route Will Be Followed

Before Starting for Foreign Capital

With MEXICO CITY as her goal, Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes, San Marino aviatrix, hopped her two-place Travel Air J-5 biplane from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport yesterday morning. She is accompanied by Mariano Samaniego, student flyer, who will act as interpreter.

Nogales, Ariz., was scheduled as her first overnight stop. She will follow the west coast route to the Mexican capital, going via Tepic and Guadalajara. She was assisted in planning her route by Roy Harding, who recently made a flight to Mexico City and return.

She will stop off at Masatlan and Los Mochis and will be the first woman to set a ship down at the Los Mochis airport, which was dedicated yesterday.

It is believed that Mrs. Barnes will be the first woman to pilot a ship into the interior of Mexico. On her return she will fly up the east coast.

COLISEUM CONTRACT AWARDED

Edwards, Wildey, Dixon Bid $471,589 and Obtain Seat Replacement Job

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for reconstruction of the Coliseum to Edwards, Wildey & Dixon Company for $471,589.49. The work is to be completed by September 1. It provides for reconstruction of the upper deck, which at present is of wood, with steel construction.

The low bidder was the Herbert M. Baruch Corporation, but this bid was found to be irregular, as some of the items were not included. The city and county together appropriated $450,000 for the work. The difference of $21,589.49 is to come from the funds of the Community Development Association, which at present maintains and operates the structure. Zach Farmer, secretary of the association, met with the board yesterday and promised to make up the deficit.

The successful bidder will take the work for $457,858, but the addition of a few items and the architect's fee increase the cost to the city and county.

CANADIANS WILL FROLIC

Canadian and other British tourists will be entertained by the Canadian Society of Southern California at the Hollywood Roof Ballroom, 1549 Vine street, tomorrow evening. Jack Dunn's ten-piece orchestra will play. Col. A. G. Fonseca, president, will act as master of ceremonies.

THREE DIE IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Truck Driver and Girl Skater Killed as Sunday Victim Also Expires

Traffic accidents claimed three more lives yesterday, including one death of an elderly woman who died in the Methodist Hospital of injuries received when she was struck by an automobile Sunday evening.

Crushed in a collision between his milk truck and a Pacific Electric car yesterday, C. Wiby, 50 years of age, 9816 McNerney street, South Gate, died later in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. He was employed by the Golden Poppy Dairy Company. His truck collided at Long Beach and Nadeau avenues with an electric car in charge of Motorman William Colley, 9536 Graham avenue, and Conductor R. J. Nagel, 1838 West Thirty-ninth Place. Wiby's skull was fractured and his chest was crushed.

Struck by an automobile while she was roller-skating yesterday, June White, 8, 2408 Honolulu avenue, Montrose, died within thirty minutes. The child was skating on the street near her home, the Montrose constable reported, when she was hit by a car driven by Catherine May Smith, a nurse employed at 4831 Commonwealth avenue, La Canada. The little girl died in the office of Dr. E. L. Wemple.

Mrs. Clara Eisele, 65, 1855 Sixth avenue, died last night in the Methodist Hospital as the result of injuries received Sunday night when she was struck by an automobile at Sixth avenue and Seventeenth street. Police records show that the car was driven by Howard Schuler of 1547 Sixth avenue.

Charles McFadden, 31, county motorcycle officer, is in the Methodist Hospital suffering from injuries he sustained last Monday evening when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile driven by Mrs. Jane Cushing, 1246 North Laurel

Judge Defends Holding of Getzoff and Berman

Says Dismissal Would be Fraud on Public

Habeas Corpus Writ Will be Argued Today

Asserting that allegations of bias and prejudice against him are "false and untrue," Superior Judge McComb yesterday afternoon filed an answer to affidavits of prejudice presented in court last Friday when he refused to dismiss a bribery indictment against Jacob Berman and Ben Getzoff at the request of Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

With the filing of Judge McComb's answer it automatically became necessary for the District Attorney's office and Defense Attorneys Jones and Christensen to agree upon another judge to hold a hearing on the prejudice issue and to determine whether McComb will be disqualified to act further in the Berman and Getzoff case.

FIVE DAYS ALLOWED

Only five days are allowed under the law to select the second judge. A conference was held at the District Attorney's office yesterday afternoon for that purpose, but if the name of any jurist was agreed upon no announcement was forthcoming, and it is understood that negotiations will be continued today. If no agreement is reached it will devolve upon Chief Justice Waste of the Supreme Court to nominate a judge.

As the District Attorney's office and defense attorneys sought to solve the prejudice matter, preparations were made for an appearance in the Appellate Court this morning, where argument comes up on a writ of habeas corpus on which Berman and Getzoff obtained their liberty last Friday night after they were remanded to jail by Judge McComb, pending their trial.

JUDGE'S ANSWER

In answering the affidavits of prejudice, Judge McComb, in the instrument he filed with the court clerk, cited in substance, the following asserted facts:

(1.) That Berman and Getzoff were indicted about October 31, 1928, by the county grand jury, the indictment charging the offense of offering to give and giving a bribe of approximately $26,000 to former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, and reciting the names of five witnesses on whose testimony the indictment was based.

(2.) That subsequent to that time, either at the request or with the consent of the District Attorney's office, the case has been continued ten times, and that on November 27, 1929, after a suggestion was made that the case be "marked off calendar," the court had declared that the actions would not be placed off calendar, and that it was his opinion that it should be tried.

(3.) That opinions handed down by high courts establish that the matter of granting or denying a motion to dismiss an indictment lies solely in the discretion of the trial court and that officers or prosecutors have no authority to promise immunity to an accused if he would testify against others, as Berman and Getzoff did.

EVIDENCE ISSUE

(4.) Replying to Dist.-Atty. Fitts's statement in court last Friday that he had no evidence to convict even if the case were brought to trial, Judge McComb sets forth that "no satisfactory showing was made by said District Attorney to said Marshall P. McComb . . . of the reasons why the five witnesses, or any of them, who testified before said grand jury and on whose testimony said indictment was based, could not be produced or relied on to establish the corpus delicti of the offense charged in said indictment."

Judge McComb's answer continues: ". . . and the refusal of such court to dismiss such indictment upon the motion of a District Attorney be held to constitute bias or prejudice upon the part of such court, then the attorneys for the defendants acting in concert with a District Attorney would be able to oust every judge of the Superior Court of this State and prevent the trial of those charged with the commission of a felony by grand jury indictment, to the detriment of the people of the State, whose interests every judge is sworn to protect."

(5.) Judge McComb defended his action of remanding Berman and

by Harry Carr

I AM in favor of doing everything reasonably possible to help along the pipe dream about the curse that pursues the gents who dug into the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen. It is a good story and I'm for it.

But it must be confessed that the death of Lord Westbury at 78 as being a case where death "came on swift wings" isn't as convincing as might be.

This curse of the dead Egyptian kings seems to be on a par with parrot fever.

DEATH SONG

Not but what it would be possible to kill almost anybody by a similar superstition. In the South Seas, when they want an enemy to die, they gather around his house and sing his funeral dirge—day and night. That song gets monotonous in time; and the victim invariably up and dies.

I HAVE A MAD

Our old friend, John Steven McGroarty, compliments the town of San Buenaventura on its faithfulness in cherishing its old Spanish traditions.

That's the way I felt, too, until I persuaded the Southern Pacific to make an offer to restore the old town name. The offer was turned down by the tradition cherishers who preferred to be called "Ventura."

San Buenaventura was the name of a saint who was baptised by the good St. Francis of Assisi, and who became the head of the Franciscan order. His story is one of the most interesting and moving in the whole category of Catholic saints. "Ventura" means nothing.

THE DESERT SWARMS

If I have had anything to do with starting this burst of enthusiasm for the desert I wish to take it all back. It is harder to find a bed in any hotel than to find a bashful Senator.

Everything in Palm Springs is so full that the hotel clerk just gives you the dirty look. You leap out for Indio and find yourself in a swarm. At El Centro they tell you all the hotels are full and will be full until August—so, on your way.

In the end I took refuge on an old ranch, where I always contrive to wind up, anyhow.

NOME DAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Clark, whose old-fashioned western hospitality make this ranch a place of charm, have lived in the mines nearly all their lives.

Mrs. Clark's stories of domestic life in Nome are fascinating. It was so far north that they saw the winter sun only dimly for about an hour in the middle of the day. The rest of the time it was pitch dark. They gave parties and tried not to get on each other's nerves. There was one woman who had a frightful-looking plaid waist; and they all but murdered her before the sun came again—having to look at it every day of a bleak winter.

In summer it was just as bad the other way. It got a little dusky about midnight; otherwise they had to make nights out of black calico window curtains. They completely lost track of the time—whether it was night or day; and one's friends were quite likely to drop in for a social call at 2 or 3 a.m.

MARINES TAKE TEA

The world seems to be singing into an eternal night of chaos and disaster; the Yank marines on duty at the London naval conference have taken to afternoon tea.

BAUER HEADS AUTO CLUB

Officers Chosen at Meeting of Directors After Membership Elects Three to Board

Harry J. Bauer, prominent in legal, business and civic circles, will head the Automobile Club of Southern California for the coming year, it was announced yesterday following the annual meeting at which three directors were elected for three-year terms and officers for the year chosen at a meeting of directors.

Mr. Bauer succeeds Edward D. Lyman as president, the latter remaining on the board of directors. The new president assumes his new duties equipped with a broad experience. He is a director of the Southern California Edison Company and the Title Insurance and Trust Company, president of the Pacific Mortgage Guaranty Company, vice-president and trustee of the University of Southern California and trustee of the California Institute of Technology, in addition to holding places on the directorate of other business and civic organizations.

Other officers named include H. W. Keller, first vice-president; W. L. Valentine, second vice-president; Standish L. Mitchell, secretary; Ralph Reynolds, assistant secretary, and Carl E. McStay, field secretary. Directors elected are A. C. Balch, Mr. Bauer and Alexander B. Macbeth. The two former have served on the board for years, while Mr. Macbeth fills the vacancy caused by the death of the late Senator Frank Flint. He is president of the Southern California Gas Company.

Annual reports indicate the motoring organization has had a successful year. The membership mark has passed 137,000, holding the organization well in the lead as the largest of its kind in the country. It is now in its thirtieth year of activity, having come into being in 1900 with a charter membership of forty-six.

Gains were registered in the amount of insurance written, while the touring bureau, legal department, sign posting, car forwarding, map making, road charting, safety work and other important activities kept pace with the demands of

POLICE TO BLOOM IN NEW ACCOUTERMENTS IN SPRING

When the annual spring inspection of members of the Los Angeles Police Department is held all members of uniform rank must be in the new uniforms from cap to toe, wearing the new police badge, the Police Commission decided yesterday, when it fixed May 15, next, for the inspection.

The decision provides that present members or new men taken on the force will not be required to purchase uniforms of the old model before that date.

The commission yesterday concluded specifications for the new uniforms by requiring black shoes, black socks, white shirts, white collars and standard ties with the new blue-serge military-type uniform adopted.

Next Tuesday the commission will decide on new uniforms for motorcycle officers, which will be olive drab and not much different from those of the present, except that open collars will be allowed.

On that date the commission also will inspect metals to be used for badges, one gold color and the other chrome nickel.

The new police badge ordinance approved by the commission, providing penalties for use of badges without authority, will be sent to the City Council for action when certainty of the date of issuance of the new badges is known.

JULIAN USURY CASES KILLED

State Supreme Court's Decree Makes Mandatory Dismissal of 137 Actions Now Pending

Dismissal of 137 usury cases which grew out of the collapse of the financial structure of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and have been pending in Municipal Court was decreed yesterday with the receipt by the local clerk of the State Supreme Court of a copy of a decision of the high tribunal granting Michael Harris, defendant in one of the actions, a peremptory writ of mandate. Supplementary decisions were obtained in the cases of E. M. Hackel and Herman Gutterman.

According to the defense counsel the writ will be served on the courts of jurisdiction in the time prescribed by law, and the dismissals follow as perfunctory action without recourse or appeal.

In all, 143 cases were referred to in the copy of the decision received here yesterday, but six of the defendants have been tried. Of them, four were acquitted and two convicted, leaving 137 pending.

It was stipulated earlier that the cases of Harris, Hackel and Gutterman should constitute a test, with attorneys for the trio and Judge Pope agreeing to abide by one set of facts and law in all of the cases. Judge Pope continued the cases awaiting trial until a decision should be handed down in the cases in question.

The Supreme Court granted the petition for a writ of mandate upon the ground that the defendants had been denied a speedy trial. One other major point had been raised by the petitioners' attorneys—that is, that the Municipal Court had no jurisdiction to try the cases in view of the form of John Doe warrants and complaints issued. The court held that the first ground was amply sufficient for a decision in favor of the petitioners.

It was set forth that the warrants against the defendants were issued, in "John Doe" form, on October 5, 1927, but that they were not served until May 1, 1929.

"It would be most unreasonable to hold that a delay of eighteen months was not in violation of the constitutional right to a speedy

CHINESE KILLING CLEWS STUDIED

Robbery Believed Motive for Slaying of Three

Trio Beset in Ranch Shack Southeast of Downey

Men First Beaten Down and Throats Then Cut

Robbery apparently was the motive behind the killing of three Chinese in an isolated ranch shack three miles southeast of Downey, William J. Bright, chief of the Sheriff's homicide detail, announced last night after a day's investigation.

The dead were Ng Kee Yuen, 62 years of age, "boss" of the truck-gardening outfit; Lem Shew Chong, 60, cook, and Jew Cheung, 54, a farm hand.

THROATS CUT

The trio apparently was attacked by unidentified assailants as they sat down to their evening meal Monday. All were beaten down with clubs first, Bright's investigation disclosed, and later their throats were cut with a ten-inch razor-edged meat cleaver.

On discovery the bodies of Cheung and Chong lay in the cook shack where they were struck down, but the murderer or murderers dragged Yuen over the other bodies into an adjoining shack, obviously, Bright said, in an attempt to make him tell the hiding-place of money before being finally slain.

MONEY NOT FOUND

The "boss" of the outfit is understood to have drawn $350 from a Downey bank Monday and secreted it in the shack. It was not found yesterday by the officers. The killer or killers had ransacked the pockets of the dead men, and thoroughly searched through the dwelling.

Bright announced he has a number of good clews in the triple murders, and expects to make arrests shortly. He is aided in the case by several countrymen of the dead. The bodies were taken to a Downey mortuary.

MABEL NORMAND RITES AWAIT WORD FROM KIN

Definite arrangements for the funeral services for Mabel Normand, once the most popular comedienne on the screen, probably will be completed today, according to announcement yesterday from the Cunningham & O'Connor funeral parlors.

Attempts are being made to get into telegraphic communication with Miss Normand's mother, Mrs. Mary Normand, and her sister, Gladys Normand, now en route from Staten Island, N. Y., in order that Lew Cody, her husband, may proceed with plans for the services, tentatively set for Friday morning at a Beverly Hills church.

The place of interment rests entirely with the decision of her mother, according to Cody's statement made at the undertaking parlors yesterday. Cody declared no plans have been made for her burial.

Through Norman Kerry, a friend, Cody requested yesterday that the public not attempt to participate in the last rites for Miss Normand.

"The funeral services, when conducted, will be private, and out of respect for Mrs. Cody the public will be asked kindly to remain away," Kerry stated. "It is Mr. Cody's wish that only relatives and a few close personal friends attend."

Kerry's statement definitely sets at rest any reports her body is to lie in state. Again yesterday scores of curious were turned away from the funeral chapel where, too, the body of the late Rudolph Valentino and other prominent persons were viewed before burial.

In view of the fact that Miss Normand's father was buried in Staten Island some three weeks ago, it appeared possible her mother may request that Miss Normand's body be shipped east for interment.

Miss Normand died early Sunday morning at a Monrovia sanatorium following a long fight against tuberculosis.

JULIAN USURY CASES QUASHED

trial," said the court, "when, as here, it is admitted that the petitioner was at all times available for service of process and that the delay was not at all traceable to him."

In a stern paragraph, the decision continued:

"The only reason for a delay found in the petition herein is that the prosecution was launched for the purposes of coercing the payment of a money claim from a person so sought to be prosecuted and that the cause was not brought to trial in order to effect that purpose.

ABUSE OF PROCESS

"Such a course of action was an abuse and perversion of the criminal process, was wholly unjustifiable and constituted no excuse for delay."

The decision stated that "under the admitted facts there was no justifiable reason for the respondent court to refuse to dismiss the action against the petitioner. An abuse of discretion was thereby committed, to correct which, under the authorities in this State, the writ of mandamus is available to the petitioner."

It was pointed out in the decision that a speedy trial is a fundamental right granted to the accused and has been the policy of the law since the time of the promulgation of the Magna Charta and Habeas Corpus Act. The right was carried down to recent legislation in mention of numerous constitutional provisions.

COURT WRIT GRANTED

The question then remained for the court to determine what constituted a "speedy trial." Authority was quoted specifying a period of sixty days in felony cases.

It was stated that this has been applied and enforced by writ of mandate in cases of misdemeanors charged in the Superior Court and, further, that, although no reference was found to midemeanors in lesser courts, no reason appeared to justify a refusal to enforce the self-executing provision of the constitution in such a case.

Referring, then, to the eighteen-month delay in the case at hand, the court granted the petitioner's writ of mandate.

The financial history of the Julian Petroleum Company was set forth in the decision, it being stated that the company was in need of a large sum of money and was obliged to obtain it from unusual sources. Harris was said to have lent the concern $45,000 in one transaction and $48,500 in another, charging asserted usurious interest therefor.

STATEMENT OF NIX

City Prosecutor Nix, when advised of the Supreme Court's action, issued a statement in which he disclaims responsibility for failure to prosecute the usury cases promptly.

"When I assumed the office of City Prosecutor I found that among my inheritances in that office were 143 Julian usury cases filed eighteen months prior to my taking office. The delay mentioned in the opinion of the Supreme Court undoubtedly referred to that eighteen months of no action by the prosecutor."

The suits were originally filed in August, September and October, 1927. Nix assumed office fifteen months later, on January 7, 1929, and the first arrest in the Julian cases was made more than three months later, on April 12, 1929.

JUDGE POPE COMMENTS

Judge Pope, in a statement pointed out that Nix made two blanket efforts to have the Julian usury cases dismissed. One was a motion to dismiss on the ground that refusal of Jack Bennett to testify made it impossible for him to prove a case. The second followed dismissal of the first two cases tried and was denied by Judge Pope on the ground that these two cases might have no effect on the 141 remaining. Nix then withdrew from the cases and two of his deputies, Brockman and Lindley, obtained a conviction in the first case they tried.

Getzoff to jail by quoting the opinion of a chief justice, whose decision was that such action was proper and good practice and would "prevent an escape and would subserve the ends of justice."

(6.) Countering a statement made by Fitts in court last Friday that his ruling was tantamount to forcing the perpetration of "legal fraud" upon Berman and Getzoff, Judge McComb declared that granting the dismissal in reality, "would be contrary to the welfare and best interests of the people and a legal fraud upon their rights under established law."

WITNESSES NAMED

The names of the five witnesses attached to the Berman-Getzoff indictments include those of Joseph Sherman, Milton Pike, John Rettenger, R. H. Hardy and Donald MacKay. Sherman, Pike and Rettenger were employees in Getzoff's Spring-street tailor shop and their testimony occupied a large space of the records of the trial at which Keyes, Ed Rosenberg and Getzoff were convicted of conspiracy to bribe a year ago. Getzoff received probation when he turned State's evidence and testified against other public officials. MacKay, former chief trial deputy District Attorney, is now facing his second trial for bribery. Hardy is an employee of a telegraph company. Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart declared yesterday that the names of both MacKay and Hardy were attached to the indictment by mistake and that their testimony would be worthless, while that of Pike, Sherman and Rettenger would be practically valueless.

ARGUMENT TO QUASH EXCHANGE SUIT CONTINUES

Arguments on a motion to quash made by counsel for the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in the $15,000,000 Julian stockholders' suit in Superior Judge Tappaan's court dragged through the third full court day yesterday and probably will not be completed until some time late today. At the conclusion of the debate S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, will resume the witness stand for cross-examination on a deposition given just before the motion to quash was made.

With Walter K. Tuller, one of the attorneys for the stock exchange, opening yesterday morning, Joseph P. Loeb, also for the exchange, and Herman Selvin, in behalf of the exchange, and the other defendants in the action, all argued. Court adjourned with Selvin still on his feet and far from completed. Joseph L. Lewison, who, with Guy R. Crump, represents the plaintiffs, probably will answer the counsel for the defendants' arguments.

During the days of argument attorneys on both sides carried their debate back through musty law books for a period of more than 600 years. Laws dating to 1375 were dragged out by Crump and Selvin and marched up and down the courtroom. Not to be outdone, Loeb and Tuller picked on various laws and customs in effect in 1849 and tramped the camps of the gold miners and discussed the old laws of "dam and ditch."

But it remained for Judge Tappaan to go all of the counsel one better when in commenting on some of the arguments he made reference to the old laws of Rome.

This display will be on view at all times of the year and is under the supervision of the Imperial Valley Board of Trade. The collection will grow in interest and value as time goes on and will serve as a daily reminder of the annual midwinter fair.

Tomorrow will be known as United States Army Air Corps Day when all of the various types army planes will be placed for inspection.

GOVERNORS TO ATTEND

Maj. Carl Spatz, Capt. H. M. Elmendorf and Lieut. F. B. Valentine will be in command of the ships. This coupled with other aerial attractions, and the fact that the great Imperial county airport is just across the highway from the fair grounds makes of this one of the great attractions of the fair.

Thursday will be devoted to the cities and service clubs of the valley with special attractions and entertainment provided on the racetrack and in the grounds. Friday will be "North-End Day," when the fair management will be host to citizens from Brawley, Calipatria, Westmoreland and Niland.

Saturday, Governors' Day, will be the red-letter day of the fair. Gov. Young of California and Gov. Tapia of Baja California, will be honor guests on the occasion. Dairy and live-stock judging, a great stock parade, and awarding of premiums will go to make the interesting program. The fair will close Sunday with an automobile day at which time the fleet-footed horses will surrender the racetrack to the fast-flying auto. The auto-racing events are with the approval of the Automobile Association of America and promise to be productive of fast time and close finishes. Racing events will divide honors with special vaudeville acts provided for holders of grand-stand seats.

As a whole, the Imperial County Fair is a wonderful display by a wonderful folk of a wonderful valley and more than merits the patronage present and promised.

Agreement on Bond Election Not Effected

Agreement on a date for the $38,800,000 water bond election was not effected at a conference yesterday which included the Water and Power Commission, Council Water and Power Committee and the Citizens' Water and Power Committee, but it is expected that an accord will be reached at a meeting this afternoon.

The date of April 29 is being discussed, as is May 20.

HANSEN DAM WORK BEGUN

Crowd Sees Turning of First Dirt for Big Tujunga Flood-Control Project Costing $1,000,000

In the presence of representatives of chambers of commerce and civic organizations in the territory to be benefited by the project, County Supervisor Wright yesterday turned the first shovelful of dirt in the construction of the Hansen county flood control dam on the Big Tujunga.

Although preliminary construction work has been going on at the dam site, yesterday's ceremonies marked the opening of the official construction program. The Hansen Dam is the first of what will be a series of flood-control dams on the Big Tujunga to handle flood waters that in the past have caused damage to portions of the San Fernando Valley and territory adjacent to the upper reaches of the Los Angeles River.

The new dam will be a concrete structure, partly of the gravity type, arched upstream. It will rise 200 feet above the stream bed, and its foundation will extend forty feet below stream bed. It will be eighty feet thick at stream bed level and will reach about 500 feet along the top from canyon wall to canyon wall. It will provide a reservoir with a capacity of 7500 acre feet. The total cost is estimated at $1,000,000. The contract for the work was let to the Los Angeles concern of Edwards, Wildey & Dixon.

Chief County Flood-Control Engineer Eaton said yesterday that although the contractor has a year and a half in which to do the work, with good fortune it can be done in a year. Yesterday's ceremonies were arranged under the direction of Charles L. Wood, manager of the Major Development Association of the San Fernando Valley.

OIL PACT AGAIN DELAYED

Five Santa Fe Springs Operators Will Meet To-day to Discuss Curtailment Area

Unanimous acceptance by Santa Fe Springs oil operators of an agreement calling for State-wide curtailment of oil to stimulate daily was again delayed yesterday when five operators who failed to attend a meeting Monday morning to discuss the matter again.

H. R. Macmillan, chairman of the Santa Fe Springs field's committee, announced last night that with the exception of the Wilshire interests, unanimous acceptance may be expected before noon today. He is optimistic concerning results obtained yesterday when the companies met in the offices of Umpire Paul Grimm.

The five operators who took the new agreement under advisement include George F. Getty, Inc.; Mendota Petroleum Company, Star Petroleum Corporation, E. K. Allison Syndicate and Twin Bell Oil Syndicate. While they did not vote no on the resolution presented, they requested that certain details pertaining to curtailment of various wells be discussed further.

The general committee headed by Paul Boggs will meet at 2 p.m. today to hear a final report on the session yesterday.

At a meeting called by S. B. Mosher, president of the Signal Oil and Gas Company, the operators in the Maricopa Flat district voted yesterday in favor of curtailing that field's production 43.2 per cent of its potential flow, which Mr. Mosher informed the operators has been estimated by the general committee as 20,000 barrels a day.

Russell Havenstrite was appointed to act as field chairman. Curtailment of production will begin as soon as a pro-rata agreement can be drawn up and signed by the various operators. Umpire Grimm will be in charge of [illegible] agreement enforcement.

Child Stealing Charge Dropp

Charges of child stealing, theft and driving an automobile without the permission of its owner were dismissed against David Levine, 29 years of age, by Municipal Judge Turney yesterday. He was accused by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman of stealing his nephew from the home of his estranged wife, Mrs. Courtney Devine, at Heliotrope Drive, and taking him to San Diego in a rented automobile which he failed to return to the agency here.

In court yesterday Mrs. Devine declared that she and her husband have become reconciled. The automobile charges were dismissed by Judge Turney when Devine proved that the machine broke down while he had driven it to San Diego and he was unable to return it.

OLD GRANTS REVIEWED IN LAND ACTION

Suit Involving Millions in Beach Property Now Before Judge Hollzer

Old Spanish documents, including land grants and surveys, some of them dating back to 1839, are being introduced as evidence in the trial of the suit brought over land valued at $10,000,000 by Stuart A. McLeod against Isidro Reyes and others, now on trial before Superior Judge Hollzer.

The property involved is a strip of land along the ocean front of what was formerly the Rancho Boca De Santa Monica, north of the city of Santa Monica. The strip extends for a distance of five miles and ranges from fifty to 300 feet in width. The dispute is over the ocean front boundary line in the original survey of the Spanish grant, when the property was given to Francisco Marquez by the Spanish government, and the mean high-tide line of the Pacific Ocean. It is asserted that the United States government survey contains the same mistake as the Spanish survey inasmuch as the land of the rancho does not extend to the ocean tide line.

The defendants assert they have a right to the property by adverse possession and in some instances by deed.

TRIAL BOARD FOR POLICE SUSPENDED

Commission Decides That It Will Hear Cases Instead of Letting Officers Do So

On the ground that officers are not the proper persons to sit in judgment on other officers, the Police Commission yesterday voted to rescind its action on January 29, last, by which the police trial board was restored. Hereafter, the commission will handle the situation as before, with the Chief of Police making recommendations and the commission conducting the trials.

The commission deferred action on the restoration to duty of Officer George Baumfalk, suspended on charges of beating a prisoner with jail keys in the Georgia-street jail. Baumfalk's reinstatement was recommended by the police trial board, which found the officer was compelled to defend himself when the prisoner, William Lucas of San Diego, booked for intoxication, mangled the policeman's finger with his teeth.

Boy Hangs Self Using Rope Off Punching Bag

Albert Schindewolf, a 15-year-old boy, hanged himself last night in a shed at the rear of his home, 326 South Lincoln Park avenue. His father, Ernest Schindewolf declared the boy had tried to kill himself once before when he was 12 at Mount Clemens, Mich.

The youth cut his punching bag from the ropes, tied the cords about his throat as he stood on his baby crib which was at one side of the shed and then jumped. He was discovered by his mother and his sister Anna. The Hollenbeck Heights police surgeon who was called declared the youth's neck was broken so no attempt was made to revive him by the Fire Department inhalator squad which was called.

No motive was known, according to the boy's parents except that he had been reprimanded for staying out late at night. The body was taken to the county morgue.

Rezoning Plan Hearing Slated

The Board of City Planning Commissioners yesterday announced a public hearing on the proposed rezoning of property in the Five-Finger Plan in Hollywood, including Hollywood Boulevard, Vine, Yucca, Ivar and Argyle streets. The hearing will be conducted March 5 at 9 p.m. in Room 150, City Hall.

TWO DEAD IN SAFETY ZONE RAID

Thomas Bell, Accused of Running Down Seven on Street, Held for Murder

A second death resulted last night from the traffic accident which formed the basis of a charge of murder filed yesterday against Thomas Bell, 36 years of age, of 1046 West Washington Boulevard. His car ran down seven persons standing in a safety zone at Avalon Boulevard and Fifty-ninth street on Sunday night. Alvis Kuebler, 53, of 800 East Eighty-seventh street, one of those injured, died last night in California Lutheran Hospital. Four others who are seriously injured may die, it was reported. The complaint charging murder was issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson.

Bell also is charged in a complaint issued Monday with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The murder complaint is based on the death of Judson I. Bailey, 60, of 209 East Ninety-seventh street, who was one of seven persons struck down by Bell's automobile.

PAIR SHOT IN MYSTERIOUS STREET ROW

One Dying and Other Has Fifty-Fifty Chance After Possible Liquor Deal

Desperately wounded last night in a mysterious shooting affray Robert Leslie, 32 years of age, of 604½ East Fifth street, and James Murphy, 45, of 511 San Julian street, were picked up at the corner of Griffith and Clanton streets. Leslie was reported dying in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital at a late hour. Murphy, shot through the right chest and liver, was given an even chance at life or death.

Police attributed the shooting to a liquor transaction. Leslie, who said that he is a butcher, declared that he and Murphy went to meet a mysterious "Carlson" regarding a "deal," undescribed. While talking with Carlson, he said, a man, who was a stranger to him, though known to Murphy, stepped between them, and fired a revolver. Leslie was shot through the right breast, the bullet passing through his body. His condition was so serious that a priest was called, when he reached the hospital.

Murphy, who described himself as a rooming-house proprietor, refused to give any information. He announced that he will "get" the man who shot them.

Three telephone inquiries from a woman who concealed her identity, were received at the hospital during the first fifteen minutes after Murphy and Leslie were admitted. Police of the Newton-street division returned to the scene of the shooting to examine Leslie's car. Other detectives were trying to locate Carlson at midnight.

Menn Named to Building Board

Major Porter yesterday announced the nomination of William H. Menn to the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners to fill the seat of J. W. Toms, who resigned. The nomination will come before City Council this morning and in all probability will be referred to the Building and Safety Committee.

The nominee is a member of Menn & Van Kuik, insurance, 707 South Broadway. He is a native son and is past president of the Ninety-first Division Association of California, having served overseas with that outfit.

POLICE LIEUTENANT RAISED TO CAPTAIN

Promotion of Lieutenant of Police Howard Nicholson to captain of police in charge of the Hollenbeck Heights division, succeeding Capt. L. L. Carmen be promoted to captain of detectives was put over one week pending an investigation.

ARMED GUARD TO RAID ISLAND

Sea Ambush Slayers Will be Hunted by Cutter

Landing Decided on After Shooting of Fishermen

Desolate San Nicolas Isle Believed Outlaw Haunt

An armed party of eight men from the United States Coast Guard cutter No. 255 will make a landing on the desolate San Nicolas Island this morning, in search of the supposed band of smugglers who Sunday afternoon murdered one member of the crew of the fishing boat Taiyo, and seriously wounded another. Tom Lobospoff, captain of the boat brought the dead man, Steve Semerank of Lancaster and the owner of the boat who was wounded, John Heise of San Pedro, into Avalon, Catalina Island, Monday with a wierd tale of shooting.

According to the story Lobospoff told police at Avalon, the three men on the Taiyo spent nearly all of Sunday resting in their bunks with their boat at anchor in one of the island's coves until Semerank went to the deck. A moment later Heise and the skipper heard a shot and when Heise rushed to the deck he found Semerank sprawled dead against the rail of the boat and he himself fell wounded from another bullet which came from the shore.

ESCAPES IN DARK

Lobospoff said he heard the shots and cautiously peered out of the companionway and dodged back when a volley of shots greeted him. He told police that he waited until dusk and then cut the anchor rope and made his way to Avalon.

Although Avalon police were inclined to doubt the story told by Heise and Lobospoff they decided after a conference with Deputy Sheriffs Croushon and Cloud of Los Angeles county and Deputy Sheriff Clark of Ventura county to ask the aid of the Coast Guard for a thorough search of the island.

ISLAND UNDER SUSPICION

Officers at the Coast Guard base in San Pedro last night said that the crew of the cutter will make a landing on the island early this morning and search its barren wastes for a possible headquarters of a rum or dope-smuggling gang.

San Nicolas Island is a part of Ventura county and is rarely visited by any of the fishing boats that ply out of San Pedro. Coast Guard officers said that the place has often been under suspicion as the base of rum-running operators.

BALLOON MEN FACE QUIZ

They were granted temporary permits.

OLD KILLER SUSPECT TAKEN

Man Accused of Arkansas Murder Twenty-eight Years Ago Held in Los Angeles Jail

Guns that barked out death and injury twenty-eight years ago in an Arkansas fight between bank bandits and a Sheriff's posse re-echoed here yesterday. A posse deputy arrived "with his man" on the way back to the scene to face trial for murder.

At 2 a.m. February 5, 1902, Sheriff John Powell, Deputy Joe King and others engaged in a gun battle with four bandits who blew the safe of the First National Bank at Clarksville, Ark., and got $1100. Powell suddenly spun on a boot heel and went down in a heap, dead with a bullet through his heart. The gun of one of the bandits flew into the air, he reeled, grasping one hip, and fled under cover of the fire of his three companions. They all escaped.

BELATED TIP COMES

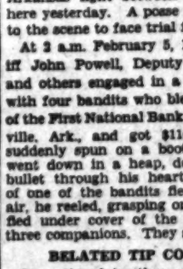
Some time later three of the bandits were caught, eventually two were hanged and one escaped from the penitentiary with a life sentence hung over his head. The other and wounded one was located in a Wichita (Kan.) hospital but again eluded capture and so the crime passed into the records and out of the minds of almost everybody.

Then one day last October the Sheriff's office in Clarksville got a letter from Las Vegas, Nev.. The writer did not wish any of the $3800 reward for the capture of John Dunn, who had killed Sheriff Powell more than a quarter of a century ago. Sheriff Fred Russell looked up Joe King, now a court clerk in Clarksville, and the two took up the old trail of the robbers.

It was a winding trail and a bit long and among the trackers were W. J. McClement, chief special agent here for the Union Pacific System, and A. W. Woody, Union Pacific special agent at Las Vegas, as well as Sheriff Russell and Joe King. But in the end they arrested a man at Las Vegas Monday. He walks with a limp. He has scars on the hips, made, officers say, by a bullet. He says his name is James Brown. But Joe King and the rest of them say he is John Dunn.

ANOTHER ARRESTED

After leaving Brown in the Los Angeles County Jail the Arkansas officers, accompanied by Capt. Fox and two local deputy Sheriffs went to North Hollywood where they arrested Noah B. Chism, who has been living at 11541 Moorpark avenue. The Arkansas officers say Chism killed Deputy Sheriff Bill Campbell in Clarksville, Ark., five years ago, that he was adjudged insane, and was committed to an institution, from which he escaped July 3, 1925. Chism is 36 years of age. He and Brown will be started back for Arkansas today.



NOAH B. CHISM

Last night in jail Brown said he never had heard of the Clarksville incident. He said he was born in New York sixty-three years ago. Only once was he ever in Arkansas, he said, and that was years ago when he was on his way to Louisiana.

Open Bids Urged on Four Cement Curing Methods

The Board of Public Works yesterday transmitted to the City Council its recommendation that specifications on concrete-curing methods be amended to permit open competition among the several systems. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee.

The board stated the dirt-and-water treatment, the Hunt process, the Seal-Kote process and the Pave-Cure process are successful, and recommends that the contractor be allowed to use whichever method he pleases.

The Bureau of Standards is making tests to determine the gallonage of the several cures.

INFLUX OF TOURISTS FORECAST

President Alexander of Pacific Steamship Line Anticipates Record Year

Pacific Coast tourist travel for the 1930 season will far exceed last year's record, is the prediction given yesterday by H. P. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, in Southern California on a vacation and business trip. Mr. Alexander said the indications of a good passenger-traffic season are contained in the increased business for the first two months of the year.

"Last year all of the companies operating cargo ships on the Coast were under the handicap of a rate war," Mr. Alexander said. "This was true for most of the traffic between Puget Sound and Columbia River ports, and San Francisco, but the differences between the companies have been adjusted and we all are looking forward to a prosperous year."

Mr. Alexander said the rate war accounted for the unprofitable operation of the Pacific Steamship Company for 1929, but he added that the company is entering 1930 with the confidence that it will be one of its best years.

No age of wrinkles! Wrinkles about the eyes and mouth are caused by a sluggish circulation. By a parched condition of the skin, brought about by exposure and neglect.

The sincerity of Clara Bow's "off-again,-on-again" romance with Richman seems to be proved by the fact that when it is "on" the star is willing to pose with the man in all sorts of love-making postures and when it is "off" she shuns the cameras and the reporters. But that's the temperament that has made her a favorite with millions of flappers and youths who are leading the same "true-course-of-love-doesn't-run-smooth existence" in a less public way.

TRY TO GET IT
Down in a little Arkansas town a dog that was nameless, that was kicked around and nobody would have for a gift, got caught in a narrow aperture between two walls and the whole town turned out to rescue it and succeeded, spending much valuable time and effort in the work. Pity did the trick. But let a humane society try to collect money from those same people to provide a refuge for such strays and the usual answer would be, "Take it to the pound," knowing that the pound would mean death for the creature in most cases.

THE PRESIDENT'S WARNING

In his conference with legislative leaders on the appropriation bills, President Hoover demonstrated that he has his finger on the pulse of legislation and that he proposes to be as careful about the state of the Treasury as was his predecessor. The proposed expenditures to which the President objected have by no means reached the enactment stage—in fact, no appropriation bills have yet passed both houses, because of the Senate jam on the tariff—but the time to head off mistakes is before they are made, and the caution was timely.

The expenditures over and above the budget, which seemed to the President in danger of being enacted, totaled $1,725,000,000, exceeding in themselves the total annual expenditure of a few years ago. Further proposals for spending money now before Congress would add another $1,500,000,000, but were considered as having little chance of getting through.

But if merely the $1,725,000,000 of appropriations was authorized, new taxation which would increase the national income by 40 per cent would be required. The recent tax slash going into effect March 15 next would not only have to be rescinded before the taxpayers got its benefit, but rates would have to be advanced all along the line.

Such cautionings of Congress by the President would not be necessary if the President had the authority possessed by the chief executives of many States, to veto individual items in appropriation bills. In the Federal government there is no such authority; the President must sign or disapprove appropriation bills as they come to him; he cannot make changes. To give the President this power, which has proved to work very well in the States where it has been tried, would with little doubt be advantageous, but it would require a constitutional amendment.

Some captious and fault-finding members of Congress may be inclined to criticise President Hoover for reminding them of their duty to stick to the principles of the balanced budget; there are some who object to the executive budget itself and want to return to the old haphazard method in which Congress appropriated money for everything it felt was desirable and trusted to luck that the money would be available. But the country at large favors the executive budget, having seen its good results; and assaults on the Chief Executive for his words of caution will find no popular echo.

The country knows that protection against a spendthrift national policy has to be provided somehow, and that individual Congressmen are only too inclined to act irresponsibly in the matter of spending money. The President is the logical person to put on the brakes, since he is the only man responsible to the whole country, and President Hoover has acted wisely in taking the initiative.

PUTTING ON THE SCREWS

The new conditions under which the musicians' union will graciously permit radio broadcasting to continue do not, of course, set forth the ultimate aims of the union. There will be new turns of the screws, until this body has exhausted the capacity of the public for being a sucker. Having killed off theater music by rapacity, the musicians have found a new cow to be milked and they are milking it. When that cow has gone dry they will seek another.

The new rules probably will kill off several stations which might employ musicians if they could get the number of musicians they need when they need them, or drive them to exclusive use of phonograph music. Amateur musicians—and there are some very fine ones—are not to be heard at all on any sponsored program; nor any nonunion players. No musician may donate his services even for charity.

The policy of the musicians' union, as other unions working on the American Federation of Labor plan, is continually to give less and less for more and more. The radio broadcasters who have permitted this union to gain dominance need be under no illusions that the demands will ever stop—every concession gives the union a fresh basis for new demands.

The studios have two alternatives, to one of which they will eventually be driven; the open shop or cessation of broadcasting of musical programs. Meanwhile the public is damaged by the limitation of good programs which the new rules enforce.

Another direction in which screws are to be tightened, according to report, is on the motion-picture lots. It is said a demand will soon be made that none but union craftsmen be employed about the studios after June 1. In view of the attitude of the producers in permitting past union encroachments, what will happen to the demand is problematical. The success of the producers against Equity ought to induce them to take this opportunity of declaring the studios unequivocally open-shop. If the demand is granted it will be followed by other and stiffer ones, until the business is choked.

"JIM HAM" LEWIS AGAIN

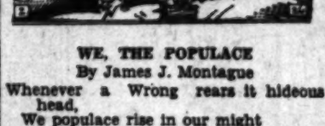
Blithely emerging from a political obscurity which dates from his defeat as Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois in 1921, James Hamilton Lewis, he of the florid neckties and purple vests, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from that State. "Jim Ham" can be counted upon to lend his old-time picturesqueness to a campaign which should be picturesque enough anyway, with Ruth Hanna McCormick and Charles S. Deneen contesting for the Republican nomination.

"Jim Ham," although out of politics for more than eight years, seems to have lost none of his justly famous modesty. He says he "accepted" the invitation to be a candidate against his own inclinations, because "material necessities" forced him to take such action. He says he wants to stand on a platform denouncing the G. O. P. and flatly characterizing prohibition as "a national tyranny."

As a representative of the State of Washington in Congress in 1896 Lewis proved himself even a more effervescent geyser of forensic superfluities than Willie Upshaw and almost as amusing, though often unconsciously, as Sunset Cox. House members always prepared to laugh when "Jim Ham" sprang to his feet to propose some weird measure or to denounce somebody or other.

Nor was he less the artless comedian when, after he was elected to the Senate from Illinois in an off year, he held down the job for a full term during which he rarely failed to flaunt his pink whiskers and his efflorescent ties for the edification of his colleagues at times when they had need of relaxation and good cheer.

If elected "Jim Ham" probably will assume the position of Democratic whip which he held in the Senate fifteen years ago, and his voice will still be for something or other most of the time.



WE, THE POPULACE
By James J. Montague

Whenever a Wrong rears it hideous head,
We populace rise in our might
And sternly protest that we never shall rest
Till we banish the same from our sight.
We meet in town halls and assemble in squares,
Our earnest-souled orators shout,
And we loudly declaim that this triple-dyed shame
Shall be swiftly and promptly stamped out.
So the Wrong hides its hideous head for a while,
But soon reappears with a confident smile.

Whenever a charlatan masters the mob,
Which every few years is the case,
We cry in a rage that we mean to engage
In putting him back in his place.
We write to the papers denouncing the wretch,
We beseech that he get his just dues
As a fake and a fraud, and we bravely applaud
When some statesman indorses our views,
Then the demogogue suddenly slips from our ken,
But inside of a year he is at it again.

There is nothing our anger can't sweep from our sight;
There is nothing our wrath will not slay;
As long as we're strong in pursuit of the Wrong,
So long will the Right hold its sway.
We can crush out the rascals, destroy all the crooks,
Strike wickedness down on the spot,
But, if you're familiar with history books,
You feel fairly sure that we'll not.
Our arm is far-reaching; our power is vast;
The trouble with us is forgetting too fast.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

LAST night we got proof of something we long had suspected.

We attended a gathering at which there were more empty seats than filled seats, and the same seems to be true of heads.

A little knot of people huddled near the front, but half a dozen folks scattered out like sentinels along the rearmost seats, unconsciously suggesting to the speaker of the evening that they were close to the exits and prepared for flight at the first dull moment.

But it soon became apparent that they had chosen those distant seats for another purpose—probably from force of habit.

The speaker was introduced and his voice rumbled through the almost-empty room. The people close to him could hardly hear him for the noise of it. But from the extreme rear came the call:

"Louder!"

The speaker began to strain his voice, turning his head in that direction as much as possible. But from the extreme rear, right, came the imperative demand:

"Louder!"

Then we realized that no matter how many vacant seats there are close to a speaker, the people who can't hear very well cannot be lured into them. The habit of a lifetime is stronger than all else. No matter at what cost or inconvenience, they will persist in getting as far as possible from the speaker, so that they may shout: "Louder!"

It Must Be the Climate

Lee: You're fond of claiming world championships for Los Angeles. Well, here's proof that Los Angeles people are the healthiest, strongest and ablest to endure in all the world:

No other city is so full of health cranks, food cranks and systems-of-living cranks. You can't go far on any downtown street without coming on some sort of lecturer, and all have crowds listening to them.

An incalculable number of our people try first one fad, then another, and then a couple more at once.

Yet they live through them all and keep on enjoying life.

Roman senators couldn't have done it. Hardy Norsemen couldn't have done it. But Angelenos keep right on doing it all the time.

Any people who can survive so many different and curious fads must be the hardiest on earth—you can't deny it.—Adam Sinnick.

Trick That Never Fails

"How can we make old vaudeville stuff Go over as bright and new?"
The manager grinned. "That's easy enough—
Just bill it as a 'Revue.'"

SEYMOUR SEITZ.

Masters of Diction

As further evidence that Los Angeles goes in as strongly for culture as for cults, there will be a convention at the Biltmore, in the latter part of April, which will bring book people—publishers, sellers and even mere authors—from all parts of the Pacific Coast. And the banquet speaker, it is expected, will be America's most popular author—Will Rogers.

Hope First Year's the Hardest, Rob

Rob Wagner's Script, the voice of Beverly, was one year old the other day and Alfred Hustwick and Aubrey Stauffer composed a song called "Beverly Hills" in honor of that event. The first stanza:

Out in the West where sunny skies
Smile on the foolish and the wise
There is a ritzy town that lies
Surrounded by a city.
All by itself it goes its way,
Happy in work but fond of play.
Turns up its nose at old L. A.
And sings this little ditty.

All right, boys, have your fun. But the Bev. press agents couldn't be half so ritzy if it weren't for the big surrounding city.

Dream Stuff

We suspect that if anybody ever made a hole in one on the Santa Monica municipal golf course it was some poor girl who was playing in her last pair of silk hose. But Stanley Hoffland sends us this poetic account of a thrilling accident there which, he says, "explains why the game remains so popular among us dubs."

He swore he'd throw his clubs away
But was back at Clover Field next day.
He played eighteen from tee to green,
And all the sand traps in between;
And a dusty squall blew his doggoned ball
Out of bounds (when it moved at all)
But he gritted his teeth and did his stuff
And he piled his divots high enough
To equal his medal score.
And the caddy says he swore
When he broke three clubs. But 'twas worth the price,
For 'on seventeen his chronic slice
Got a lucky break. The wind was strong
And sent that curving ball along
To crash the sand trap on the hill,
Then cross the green and, bless that pill!

It hit the pin and bounced and spun
And sank in the cup—for a hole in one;
Which somehow reminds us of a polite girl who used to say: "Darling, you're a liar!"

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

JAILS AND SCHOOLHOUSES
[Detroit Free Press]

The Detroit Times is trying desperately to have the several States deprived of control over their educational affairs in order that it may be vested in the Federal government. It accuses Mr. Hoover of advocating "millions for prisons but not one cent for education." It exhorts Congress "to do its constitutional duty," which it interprets to be to create a Department of Education with a seat in the Cabinet.

The constitutional duty of Congress is to leave the control of education with the States, where the framers of the Constitution left it. They spent $2,026,000,000 on their public schools alone in 1926, against $1,036,000,000 in 1920. The increase of nearly a billion dollars in the expenditure on public school education in seven years ought to have lowered our crime figures, if education cures crime, as the Times says it will; but it didn't.

Schoolhouses have never emptied the jails in any age or country. We have far too many of them in this country today, for which teachers who are qualified to make good citizens out of boys and girls, can't be found. What the nation needs is character. The expenditure of billions of dollars annually on schooling hasn't provided it. A centralization of education in Washington, with its vicious potentialities, will not provide it. The enlargement of jails won't; but the enlargement of jails will, while we are waiting for the millennium to arrive, afford some protection from the depredations of those that lack it.

TO ENFORCE THE LAW
[Portland Oregonian]

There is no hint of defeatism in the preliminary report of the President's crime commission on the subject of the prohibition law, or in Mr. Hoover's accompanying letter, and there is no indication that the expediency of prohibition in the abstract will be gone into at any stage of the proceedings. A fact that does stand out, however, is that both the President and his commission are assuming without further discussion that laws which have been regularly written into the Constitution or put on the statute books are meant to be enforced. There is not the slightest doubt as to the mind of the President and his commissioners upon this phase of the subject. The President is forthright in saying that "every responsible citizen supports the fundamental principle that the law of the land must be enforced." And except for this brief interpolation, it is important to bear in mind the entire message relates to matters of administration and detail, all with the ultimate end of better law enforcement in mind.

WHAT SAY THE SPIRITS?
[Kansas City Times]

We trust that in announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Senator from Oklahoma ex-Governor Johnston is not relying on the same sort of advice that was given him when he ran for Governor. At that time, as we recall, a lady medium had information that the spirits of Washington and Lincoln were strong for his candidacy. And look what happened.

Washington and Lincoln were able men, but evidently they don't know conditions in Oklahoma. We suggest ruling them out this time and calling in, say, Jefferson and Jackson.

Street-Car Manners

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Americans who wonder why Mexicans regard us with some misgivings should have been on the recent Mexican cruise of the Dorothy Alexander. At Mazatlan the Mexican Governor and his staff joined us for the trip to La Paz. When we dropped anchor six miles off La Paz the Governor invited all the Americans ashore to a dinner and furnished free launches for the trip. Ordinarily passengers pay a dollar each for launch service. But when the first free launch came alongside and the Governor and his staff were preparing to go aboard the Americans crowded in ahead of them, went surging down the ladder and hogged all the seats on the launch. The Governor finally got aboard on the forward end of the launch, but nobody offered him a seat. As the launch shoved off for the six-mile run he was standing up.

Truly, we are a great people!

A Word of Thanks

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reply to my letter to The Times a few days ago, asking aid in finding certain information about the Bible, I have received so many courteous and competent replies that I shall be unable to acknowledge them unless you give me space in your columns once more.

I am under obligation to all who have written to me, not only for the information given, but for the pleasant and courteous manner in which the responses were made.

No Rubbish Behind Billboards

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of February 13 is a letter signed by A Lot Owner in which he mentions that the property behind advertising structures "is more surely to have many years' accumulation of weeds and rubbish behind."

We feel that while these statements may be true in many instances, they do not apply to the Foster and Kleiser Company property, for as you know, our structures are all on private property for which we pay an annual rental and immediately upon securing the lease to such property, it is cleaned and kept clean during the period of time our advertising structures occupy it.

Should there be space in your column, we certainly would appreciate it if you would correct what might be an erroneous impression concerning our business.

FOSTER AND KLEISER COMPANY,

Suggests Sewage Farm

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Instead of pouring more city and county sewages into the beaches at our beautiful oceanside why not salvage it as Pasadena is doing. A municipal park between our fine city and Long Beach could salvage our city wastes.

Our large and valuable supply of garbage when sorted, ground and dehydrated is of value for poultry, pig and plant feed.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Costume Purses?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The up-to-the-minute woman who must count the cost will find it a great saving to make her own costume purses. These run from $5 to $20 each in the best shops, but a few evenings at night school can result in modern purses of exclusive design. At the Belmont Evening High School, 1575 West Second street, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9, there is free instruction in designing and making purses, as well as other articles of leather.

Students who are interested in design are encouraged to create their own ideas and then suggestions are offered for improvement. The class is in charge of Blanche Miller, who finds time to design new and intriguing color combinations and patterns for those who need her assistance. She has even secured an assortment of zipper fasteners at reduced rates and students who wish may have these at cost. For beginners there is detailed instruction in lacing, wax-padding and dyeing. There is no charge for instruction and materials may be brought from home or purchased in class for about one-third of the cost of a finished retail product. People of all ages receive a friendly welcome by teacher and students.

PARENTAL WISDOM $5

BY ALMA WHITAKER

It does sound enticing. My small boy brings home a "Dear Parent" letter from school, in which I am invited to invest $5 in learning how to raise my lambkins by correspondence.

It is signed very cordially mine, by Mrs. Frank R. Shaefer, president Tenth District P.-T. A., and Edwin Price, in charge of the correspondence courses. And I am assured it is approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, the local Board of Education, the principal of the school and P.-T. A. presidents.

So it had better be good.

I am to learn what makes children courteous, punctual, responsible, industrious, truthful . . . what makes them finish jobs, assume responsibility in the right spirit, move promptly when asked to do something, be thorough and accurate, properly obedient and respectful.

And I am to fill up a form, underlining Yes or No, according to whether I want to study my child or not. If I do, I am to inclose $5. If not, I expect they will know just what to think about me.

"And I must take it back signed, mother. If I don't I shall get into awful trouble," explains my young hopeful, anxiously.

But I'm a coward. I'm afraid to take that course. I simply could not bear to fail them. Suppose I absorbed all that wisdom and put it earnestly into effect . . . and then my youngster failed to move promptly when asked to do something. We should disgrace the course. Then again about that "assuming responsibility in the right spirit." So much might depend upon maternal example. And oh, I do feel that responsible parties should be allowed to grouch a bit on occasion. That is almost the sole reward of responsibility so often.

There is always the awful chance, too, that I should be required to earn the lambkin's "respect." One wonders, too, just what is "proper obedience" . . . the boy that stood on the burning deck, for instance! It is all very well to immortalise the dear boy in literature, but father ought to have felt rather badly about it.

Besides, before undertaking to imbibe all the wisdom these dears yearn to thrust upon me . . . for $5 . . . I should rather like to have the authors investigated. I want to take a look at their children. The letter talks about "recent scientific studies" . . . which probably means psychoanalysis, and so far, in so many cases, I have the poorest possible opinion of psychoanalysts.

Again, I have noticed that there may be a dozen children in a family, every one with a separate distinct personality. Are they trying to tell me that one set of rules will make any child "move promptly when asked to do something"? And does that mean he is to hop promptly no matter who gives the command? There is a large boy in our neighborhood, for instance, who issues all sorts of orders to the small boys. I'm sort of glad when mine declines to hop in such cases, even at the risk of a cuff from the big boy.

I can't find a word in the letter about teaching our children to be fine, independent pioneers. Oh, dear. I do so love independent pioneers and I am so afraid the ones who founded the U.S.A. never had the benefit of this course via their parents. I would much rather my youngsters were independent pioneers than that they should hop promptly when asked to do something. Which is probably rotten bad taste on my part, but there you are.

On the other hand, of course, I may regret not taking this $5 worth for the rest of my life. Especially, when, for instance, the boys are both responsible and truthful and yet seem to fall in "proper obedience" and "courtesy." One almost cannot be completely truthful and courteous and properly obedient as well . . . anyway, not always. The truth is often so very discourteous . . . unless, perhaps, mamma has taken this course.

Parents are apt to feel a bit infallible as it is. I can imagine how very much more infallible one would feel on that $5 worth of wisdom. And I have been conscientiously fighting against feeling infallible, ever since I suffered from the infallibility of grown-ups in my own childhood. One really should not be quite infallibly sure that "mother knows best."

And yet . . . dare I underline that large "No" on the letter? Perhaps if mamma had taken the course when I was little, I should obediently sign "Yes" . . . and thus "move promptly" whenever I am "asked to do something."

YOUR FINANCIAL AGE

We have heard much of our moral age, our mental age and our physical age. Now we are to learn of our financial age through the American Provident Society, a social service institution recently formed to teach Americans how to save, how to spend, how to invest and how to be financially independent at the age of 65. A small booklet has been published called "How Old Am I Financially?" which shows exactly how much cash or assets you should have at a certain age. Monthly savings at the age of 20 from the minimum of $7.25 to the maximum of $22. If you are, say, 35 (a nice respectable age) you should have reserves of $2557.06 minimum, or $7632.84 maximum—all this leading to a competence at the age of 65 of a minimum of $21,000, or a grand maximum of $75,000. I hope we will not have the unhappy discovery of finding ourselves financial morons!

California has a high death rate for the same reason that beds seem dangerous. So many people go there to die.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

THE VEGETARIAN

George Bernard Shaw regards with scorn the man who lives from beets and corn, when he would fill his frame; asks how the dumb creature must be fed that this man's stomach may be filled, which seems to George a shame. An ox is to the slaughter led, that hungry mortals may be fed and nourished for the day; and they'd be better off, George notes, if they would help themselves with oats, or prunes or prairie hay. A turkey's how we amputate, Thanksgiving Day to celebrate, and Christmas Day as well; and we could celebrate, no doubt, by eating succotash and kraut, and sound as creature's knell. When I'm not hungry I reflect that George's views are quite correct; views we all should share; it's a ghastly thing, indeed, that some unhappy brute must bleed to make a bill of fare. It is a crime, a stark abuse, death should overtake a goose, turkey or a hen. It is a crime, thing accurst, that Airedale terrier so wienerwurst may be consumed by men. The sweet charger comes to grief as well, may have our cans of beef and this is doubly wrong; we should forsake this evil plan and eat large porringers of bran, as still be hale and strong. George, these truths I decline to feel when I have had an ample meal, and do not yearn for more; but when I'm hungry I require a good beef roast hot from the fire, or T-bone steak galore. When I am hungry I regard a spread of herbs fresh from the yard, with something like a pain; "I'm not a cow," I sadly say, "I am not fond of scalloped hay,—such grub's not safe or sane." I eat the stew, the goulash and the rich ragout, and when I'm fully fed I say with George that it's a shame how butchers fill their gory game and leave the trail of dead.

TAKE TO WAR ON SINECURES

Commissioner Would Purge Department

"Farmers" Slated for Removal, He Says

Traffic Deaths Rouse Board to Action

Following the Police Commission decision to make a "fair financial survey" of all jobs in the Police Department, Commissioner Pierce declared he expects to find a number of excess positions and that he will vote to remove them from the department who "don't earn enough work to do."

He believes that Mayor Porter's economy is one for economy and that "Chief Steckel has inherited a lot of excess baggage and overhead and will have to go."

"EASY CHAIR WARMERS"

Pierce took action on the matter was made this week at the request of Chief, who said he wants to look after sundry "chair warmers."

Commissioner Pierce stood up and counted the number of killings in Los Angeles by automobiles. He described "appalling scenes in the streets as the result of fatalities occurred" and declared the dollar cannot be valued above human life. He said if deaths by autos continue for the rest of the year at the rate they have since January 1 the list will total 1000.

He would paint red marks on side streets, limiting speed at crossings in the business district to fifteen or twenty miles. He declared most of the accidents are in smaller streets in suburbs. Arrest of drunk drivers, he asserted, would cut the accident list 20 per cent.

He also asserted there are "too many drunks and not enough men and vehicles in the Police Department."

TO REDUCE SPEED

Pierce asserted the Automobile Club of Southern California is in favor of reducing speed limits in the city, particularly on cross-streets.

He declared more boulevard stop signs are needed where side streets enter those heavily traveled.

The commission voted to instruct Chief Steckel to see that the speed limit is enforced in the city, Commissioner Pierce voting in the negative. He said the City Council turned the commission down when it asked for more motorcycle officers and is not in sympathy with a drive against accidents.

The proceedings followed a request by Chief Steckel for a rise for employees on his staff, action on which was deferred pending investigation.

Miss Baclanova rented the house on January 25, 1928, and vacated it on July 24, 1929, the complaint sets out.

Bay City Plans Land Show Role

Newhall, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, notified A. G. Arnoll, secretary-manager of the Los Angeles chamber, that a budget for the purpose has been passed by the Bay City body.

When You Over-indulge

one woman and child will admit over-indulge. But don't suffer for your indiscretions. It's folly to let one so easily sweeten and quiet stomach with a little Milk of Magnesia.

Doctors have long since learned to respect this perfect anti-acid and laxative. They know how it neutralizes acidity, helps bring back a sweet taste; guards against gas. Women know what it does when over-eaten—are bilious, nauseated or otherwise upset—give them the same, pleasant-tasting and milky-white Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

You'll be through with crude methods once you learn the perfect way. Nothing else has the same quick, gentle effect. Doctors prescribe it for sour stomach, indigestion, heartburn, gas, nausea, headache. It has been standard with them for over 50 years. Insist on genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. A less perfect product doesn't act the same.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered Trade Mark of the Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

ONE OF SUSPECTS AND HIS ACCUSER

Paul Phelps and Alick Karam

TWO HELD IN SCHOOL BOY DEATH

Prisoners Charged With Procuring and Selling Liquor to Youths

Two arrests yesterday marked police action in the alcoholism death of Donald Ashworth, 16-year-old high school pupil of 324 Kendall avenue, who died suddenly after drinking moonshine whisky while motoring with three other boys and two girls on Sunday.

Frank Nicholas Burns, called Smoky Burns, 23, of 1406 Bixby street, was booked on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter. Detective Lieutenant Pittman accused Burns of selling the liquor which Ashworth drank. Alick Karam, 20, of 3106 Darwin street, was booked originally on a similar charge, but it later was changed to contributing.

Paul Phelps of 1946 Oak Hill street, one of the youths on the fatal ride, is reported by police to have identified Karam as the person who bought the liquor for the party. According to the police, Phelps said he tried to buy liquor of Karam, whom he knew slightly, and that Karam had none, but could help the boys locate some. It is asserted that Karam guided Phelps to Burns.

Police reports are that the liquor was consumed by Ashworth, Phelps and Charles Post of 428 Redfield street. Post and Phelps became ill but have recovered. The others of the party, who did not drink, are Lyle Said, 17, 514 Gladys avenue; Evelyn Cameron, 15, 320 Avenue 60, and Anabel Miller, 15, 5922½ Pasadena avenue.

An inquest into the death of Ashworth will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today.

BUSINESS BUREAU TO ENLARGE

Committee Appointed to Direct Reorganization on Larger Scale

Aiming to enlarge its scope and increase its efficiency through a separate corporation and with a greater budget, the Better Business Bureau yesterday formed a reorganization committee consisting of eleven widely known commercial leaders. The appointees are Paul Armstrong, California Fruit Growers' Exchange; Russell H. Ballard, Southern California Edison Company; Clarence Barker, Barker Brothers, Inc.; George A. Brock, Brock & Co.; John G. Bullock, Bullock's; George Eastman, Fidelity Savings and Loan Association; Reeve Gartzmann, Motor Car Dealers' Association; Harry E. Goodman, California State Association of Optometrists; John Earle Jardine, Los Angeles Stock Exchange; Don Lee, Don Lee, Inc., and Tom May, the May Company.

Formation of the group was authorized by the board of directors of the Advertising Club, of which the Better Business Bureau heretofore has operated as a committee, the movement having been sponsored by the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association. The bureau now will be incorporated and maintained by voluntary subscriptions. It will be independent of group domination. Headquarters have been established in the National City Bank Building, and a budget of $30,000 set for the ensuing year.

Venice Officer to Go on Force

A. J. Pierrotte, police officer in Venice before annexation to Los Angeles, was ordered placed on the Los Angeles police force yesterday by the Police Commission, following an opinion from the City Attorney's office that such action is mandatory. The order provides for no back pay.

Pierrotte was granted indefinite leave of absence by Venice and became investigator for the District Attorney's office under Keyes. He applied for reinstatement but the commission deferred action.

City Attorney Werner held that Pierrotte was legally a member of the Venice police force when it became annexed to Los Angeles, and, therefore, should receive the same consideration as other Venice officers.

WINE MAN'S WIFE NAMED AS TRUSTEE

Mrs. Baumgarteker, Given Control of Estate, Posts $10,000 Reward Offer

Mrs. Mary Q. Baumgarteker, whose husband, Frank Baumgarteker, has been mysteriously missing since November 25, 1929, yesterday received a temporary appointment as trustee of her husband's estate, which is said to be worth more than $500,000, on application of her attorney, S. S. Hahn, in Superior Judge Stephens's court. Hearing to make the order permanent was set for March 18.

Besides a winery near Cucamonga and one at Humbolt street and Avenue No. 19, worth $100,000, and two vineyards worth $80,000, the property consists of 1,000,000 gallons of wine, and 400,000 gallons of brandy, according to Attorney Hahn.

Mrs. Baumgarteker's first act on getting control of her missing husband's estate, was to offer a reward of $10,000 for any information leading to the discovery of her husband, or his body. She was required to post a $50,000 bond. Her husband was insured for $750,000, she said.

New Suit Faced by Mae Murray Over Valuables

Mae Murray, stage and screen dancer, changed her mind and refused to accept a black coat, black turban, necklace and bracelet after purchasing them from Natacha Rambova, former wife of Rudolph Valentino, film actor, according to a complaint filed for Miss Rambova in Municipal Court yesterday by Bradner W. Lee, attorney. Lee asks $1562, which he asserts is the value of the articles purchased from the dancer.

MAE MURRAY

The complaint charges that the articles, purchased on December 12, 1929, were ordered delivered to "Mae Murray Mdivani" at 6300 Ocean Front, Venice. When they arrived she refused to accept them, Lee declares, and they are still in storage at a local express office.

Sick Excuse Fails to Win Jail Release

Because a man is ill and finds confinement in prison injurious to his health is not enough reason for his being granted probation, in the opinion of Superior Judge Hahn, who yesterday continued for one week the hearing on the petition of Henry Raymond Heckinger for his release from County Jail.

Heckinger was found guilty in January, last, of grand theft in connection with a real estate deal in which it was asserted a number of widows were victims. His brother, Ferdinand Heckinger, tried at the same time, was found guilty of petty theft. Later the charge was dismissed. A third defendant, Edward J. Manion, was acquitted.

Judge Hahn declared, when continuing the hearing, that he will request the probation officers to investigate all the facts in the case, especially those relative to the defendant making restitution.

Stenographer Loses Suit for Eyelid Damage

Miss Doris Mackenrot, stenographer, 18 years of age, is not entitled to $35,650 damages for an injury to one of her upper eyelids, a jury decided yesterday in the court of Superior Judge Bowron. She was injured in an automobile accident on May 25, 1929, at Manchester avenue and Alameda street, when the automobile in which she was riding collided with one driven by T. C. Price.

Miss Mackenrot contended the collision was due to the carelessness of Price and that as a result of it she received a cut two and one-half inches long on one of her upper eyelids which left her unable to wink.

The car she was riding in was driven by her sister, Mrs. Vivian Smith. Mrs. Smith also brought suit, but Judge Bowron granted a nonsuit on the grounds she was guilty of contributory negligence.

Germany's Eyes Said to be Fixed on United States

Germany is turning its eyes to America for inspiration, according to Ludwig Hirsch, representative of a German export concern, who is a guest of the Biltmore.

According to Hirsch, Germany is the most Americanized of European countries, with homes, business and industrial plants reflecting the influence of American ideas.

Hirsch said that conditions in Germany are not of the best, although the people are working hard and signs of improvement are multiplying rapidly.

LAMP THEFTS CHARGED

Meri Doughty, 24-year-old quartz expert, is charged with grand theft of sixteen valuable cold quartz generators from his employers, in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman. According to the complaint, the lamps, which are used in electrical therapy treatments, were sold to Robert A. Fischer and K. L. Minges of the Physiotherapy Products Company. Doughty was employed by the Electric Therapy Products Company.

Epidemic of Contagious Foot Disease Frightens Millions

CALLED ATHLETE'S FOOT

It Is Caused By Tinea Trichophyton A Vegetable Parasite

The Symptoms
Eruption Under Toes—Between Toes—
Intense Itching—
Skin Cracks and Blisters

Stop Infection Before It Spreads

Look at your feet to-night and especially under and between toes—they may be infected with the vegetable parasite known to science as Tinea Trichophyton—let us hope they are not.

The United States Public Health Service assert in a recent bulletin that at least one half of all adults suffer from it at times—men, more than women.

And bear in mind it is no disease to trifle with for many of its victims have been disabled for weeks.

They call this modern disease Athlete's Foot because the germ Tinea Trichophyton breeds on the floors of the dressing rooms of gymnasiums and athletic clubs—also on shower boards and mats and near swimming pools.

When this parasite first attacks, there is an eruption following by itching (often intense) the skin cracks—it blisters—when the blister breaks there is an oozing of liquid.

If not caught in the time the disease usually spreads along the sole and sides of the foot—the skin reddens and may peel off.

CAUTION: The disease is infectious—someone in your own home may have it—(find out to-night). Beware of bathmats, either at home or in hotels—use a newspaper—it's safer. Wear your own slippers and walk as little as possible in your bare feet.

TREATMENT: After bathing the feet apply Moone's Emerald Oil generously, not only under and between the toes but over the bottom and sides of foot. This powerful oil soothes and penetrates—stops the itching and checks the growth of the germs of the vegetable parasite.

Pharmacists everywhere in America dispense Moone's Emerald Oil—a bottle lasts a long time. The Owl Drug Company can supply you.—[Advertisement.

Household Suggestions

Soiled Shades

If your window shades have become soiled and greasy looking, take them down and remove the shade from the roller. Make a hem in the upper end and tack the lower end to the pole. You will be delighted with the difference in the shade, as all the soiled portion will be up under the rolled portion, unless the shade is pulled all the way down, which is rarely necessary.

Protection from Thieves

Never leave doors or windows unlocked.

Strange men and women who come to the door seeking work should never be engaged.

Have the loose window catches fixed. A knife will open an insecurely locked window.

Never trust any workman to lock your cellar window for you after he is through. See that it is done yourself.

Do not leave a peddler standing at the open door while you go to another part of the house for your pocketbook. Shut him out first.

Household Nuggets

Medicine stains can usually be removed with alcohol.

Few housewives realize what a necessity a sharp knife is.

A well-fed cat and one that has plenty of fresh water to drink will result in a good mouser.

Before beginning to sweep the kitchen, look around and see that there is no uncovered food in the room.

Thorough rinsing is one of the biggest factors in the whiteness of white clothes and the clearness of colored clothes.

The lasting softness of Kotex: the fact that it absorbs so quickly, are other reasons you will prefer this sanitary protection

YOU can't imagine what a relief it is to know that your sanitary protection is inconspicuous, that it is fashioned to fit correctly, leaving no revealing outlines. That is just one of the many reasons why smart women prefer Kotex. Then, too, it deodorizes, and gives a feeling of perfect daintiness. It is soft—a lasting kind of softness that means comfort through hours of wear. It won't bulge or twist about, because it's made scientifically to answer your needs in every respect.

Hospitals use Kotex absorbent

Because it is so wonderfully absorbent, hospitals are using Kotex absorbent instead of surgical cotton. 85% of them now use this substance, known as Cellucotton absorbent wadding. This is not to be confused with cotton. It is a cellulose product that performs the same function as the softest cotton but with five times the absorbency.

Why Kotex absorbs so well

Cellucotton is laid in many thin, air-cooled layers, each one a quick, complete absorbent in itself. These layers take the moisture quickly away from the surface. That's why it stays comfortable for so long a time in contrast to ordinary pads. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson, chairman of music, is to present William Edward Johnson, baritone, in a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Guy F. Bush, and Sylvelyn Jarvis, lyric soprano, with Alexander Kosloff at the piano.

Program Conference

Programs for small and large clubs will be topics of discussion at 10 a.m. today in district headquarters, when Mrs. Harold Ide Cruman, program chairman, will present several artists.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. Miss Florence Woodhead, deputy District Attorney, will speak on "Social Relations" before the social and industrial relations conference in headquarters, and at 10:20 a.m. the restoration of the Abila Adobe and the paving of Olvera street with padre tiles will be discussed under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Mackay, history and landmarks chairman.

G.A.R. Ladies Meet

Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, will be the setting at noon today for a luncheon given by the Sunshine Club of Columbia Circle 24, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, after which a patriotic program will honor the memories of Presidents McKinley, Lincoln and Washington. Ida Andrews, president, and chairman for the luncheon, states that the public is invited.

The House in Order

If you have not the time to dust and mop before leaving the house, be sure to put everything away and all the things in order. You stand a good chance of the dusting being overlooked for a day, but things out of place just cannot pass unnoticed.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

LAMB PATTIES

Have the butcher grind two pounds and one-half of shoulder or breast of lamb, mix with it two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onion, a seasoning of salt and paprika. Mix it into small cakes, about one-inch thick, wrap around the outside edge one strip of thin bacon and fasten with a toothpick, dredge it lightly with flour on both sides, heat, shortening in a saute pan, and brown the patties on both sides, then place them in the oven and finish the cooking. Garnish with parsley and serve.

PINEAPPLE MERINGUE PIE

One can of shredded pineapple, one-half a cupful of sugar, the yolks of three eggs, four tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-third of a cupful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a cupful of the pineapple juice, one tablespoonful of butter, drain the pineapple, place in a double boiler, mix the cornstarch and pineapple juice and stir until thick. Add the grated lemon rind and allow to cook slowly for fifteen minutes, beat the egg yolks until light, add them to the pineapple, and cook for two minutes longer. Add the butter and lemon juice, remove from the fire, pour into a baked pie shell; make a meringue of the egg whites, cover the pie, return to the oven and slowly bake for twenty-five minutes.

QUICK BRAN NUT BREAD

Three cupfuls of white or wholewheat flour, two cupfuls of bran, one teaspoonful of baking soda, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of melted shortening or butter, one egg, one and three-quarter cupfuls of sweet milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, three-quarters of a cupful of molasses, one-half a cupful of boiling water, and one-half a cupful of chopped nut meats, sift the flour, soda, salt, together; add the bran and mix well, add the shortening, melted to the molasses, and mix into the flour mixture. Then add the well-beaten egg, milk, boiling water and nut meats, beat well, place in oiled and floured baking tin, and bake in a moderate oven for one and one-half hours.

MOLDED VEGETABLE SALAD

Take two bunches of small carrots, scrape, cut in slices, add to them two cupfuls of water, and cook until tender, drain out the carrots, and press them through a ricer, or coarse sieve. To the water in which they were cooked add a seasoning of paprika, salt, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of chili powder, and two level tablespoonfuls of gelatine, reheat and stir until the gelatine is dissolved, wet a ring mold with water, place it in a cupful of any cooked vegetable, on top of it a layer of the cooked carrots, then cover with the gelatine mixture, allow to chill in the ice box; when firm place on a lettuce-covered plate and fill the center with small cubed pickled beets.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to recipes reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

HISTORY OF MASSAGE

Massage is a form of treatment that has been used in some form in every country in the world by scientist and savage alike. Even in the far-off parts of the world like the Sandwich Islands, if you wish for a massage you have only to ask for a "lomi lomi." If you are among the Maoris of New Zealand you ask for a "romi romi," and if you are on Tonga Island you must mention the magic words, "toogi toogi."

Some say that the word "massage" comes from the Arabian word "mas'd," meaning to press, while others say that it is derived from a French word "masser" to shampoo, and others that it comes from a Greek word, "massein," to knead.

Massage is possibly the oldest method of treatment in existence. Over 3000 years ago there was a book written in Chinese called "The Kong Fu," dealing with massage. The subject is dealt with in the sacred Sanskrit writings, and it is well known that the ancient Persians, Venetians, Japanese and Laplanders all made use of this healing art.

The Egyptians first anointed the body with precious oils and then rubbed it in. Massage was famous in the baths of both Greece and Imperial Rome. Plutarch relates that every day Julius Caesar had his body pinched all over to relieve his neuralgia. Pliny, a well-known Roman naturalist, employed a masseur to treat his asthma. Roman physicians used a sort of gentle whipping with twigs for the purpose of stimulating the skin and aiding the circulation. This treatment is still used by the Finns and Laplanders. Socrates refers to the beneficial olive-oil rub. Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, and Galen, two names luminous in medical history, recommended massage. Hippocrates says, "Much rubbing causes the parts to waste; moderate rubbing makes them grow." Massage was used to revive the gladiators of Rome and the warriors of Greece. Massage was also given to the personal attending slaves of Rome to make them rounder and more filled out and, therefore, easier on the eyes around the Roman households. The Turks and Russians both used massage. Among the Swedish it has become a byword, for the name "Swedish massage" stands for perfection in the art.

Massage has today become a well-developed art, but it is well to remember that the value of the treatment depends upon the knowledge at the skilled fingertips of the masseur. One man may be able to bring about seemingly miraculous cures with the art of massage alone, and is able to do more good for the patient in a few minutes' treatment than another could do in an hour.

Almost every doctor who uses some form of massage in treatment has developed his own technique. For example, in my own office I have developed a technique for for manipulation in cases of adhesions, especially in cases of internal adhesions of the abdomen. The success following this method of treatment is phenomenal. In many cases even severe adhesions can be relieved by skillfully stretching the adhering tissues with the fingers in just the right, scientific way to stretch and break them.

Massage also is of special benefit in cases of paralysis or where a patient must lie in bed for several months as sometimes occurs in severe accidents or diseases. During the period of inactivity the muscles lose their power from not being used, and massage keeps them nourished and finally reawakens the muscular motivity.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers teaching on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, persons, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, eyes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ARE WE TRAINING CHILDREN TO BE HYPOCRITES?

"If you could only be nice like your sister. See how sweet she is about helping mother to set the table and wash the dishes. Why can't you be nice like she is, so we would all love you?"

Has a familiar sound, hasn't it? Some way we wonder why people continue to think that pointing out some other person's virtues will stimulate imitation. Everywhere families are using this utterly ineffective method of trying to make their children all replicas of the most satisfying child in the family. The most satisfying is the child who conforms most easily to the wishes of the adults.

One mother says: "My 11-year-old girl is so bright in school and so ambitious. She gets her lessons and comes home and helps me with the housework without a murmur. She is very saving, also. Her sister, two years younger, is just the opposite. She is so mean and whines and grumbles at everything we ask her to do. I can't understand why she isn't more like her sister.

IGNORE BAD POINTS

No doubt from her earliest recollection she has had to gaze upon this paragon of an older sister with admiration. The poor is a little hard to retain. Instead of being loved and appreciated for her very differences, her own personality has been minimized because it didn't take the same lines as the older sister.

Often it is the other situation. The older sister is made to copy her younger sister. The older boy is told if he would only be as sweet as baby everyone would love him as much. Instead of inspiring a child to imitate the other child, all these things simply antagonize him. He wants to be liked for himself alone. He wants his good points stressed and his bad ones ignored. If he chooses his older brother or sister as a pattern it is not because the parents have told him it is an admirable pattern to follow, but because he finds the older child so sweet and likable that he longs to imitate him. This has to come from within the child, not from pressure without.

All that admonitions to be like some one else have ever done for a child is to make him go farther and farther in the opposite direction. He glories in refusing to help his mother when this priggish sister does it so sweetly. Let her do it, thinks he to himself. She must like it. I don't. And so he upholds his own difference.

FIND SOME VIRTUES

Inside of him there is a hurt place, too. He feels that he is to be liked also, and he wants to win his parents' affection without performing what he considers hypocritical acts.

The parent who grumbles at a child, exhorting him or her to be like some one else is certainly blind, for she cannot but see that it doesn't work. One may try anything once or even twice, but after that if it is still unsuccessful it is a most unintelligent person who refuses to change her tactics.

Try another method with the child in the family whose behavior is antagonistic. Begin trying to find some virtues that can be applauded and praised even if one has to make a real effort to find them. There is always something about every child that can be drawn out and sunned by the family approval. It is surprising how quickly the "bad" child will begin to live up to these virtues.

If the garment has become spotted with machine oil during the making, sprinkle it thickly with Fuller's earth and let stand overnight. Brush off in the morning with a soft brush and all oil traces will have been absorbed.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

MR. WREN SOLVES THE MYSTERY

Pray cultivate the open mind,
And to the truth be never blind.
—Mr. Wren.

Jenny Wren had forgotten all about the House Centipede she had twice tried to catch in the shed back of Farmer Brown's house. The first time she had succeeded in merely pulling off one long leg. The second time she pulled off two legs.

She was reminded of it, however, when Mr. Wren came bringing a House Centipede which he had caught in the shed. "Did you ever see anything with so many long legs?" he asked.

"Yes," said she. "That is exactly like that queer insect I tried to catch and told you about. Where did you get it?"

"In the shed," replied Mr. Wren.

"Well," said Jenny, "I don't think the children will like all those legs."

"Then we'll pull them off," replied Mr. Wren.

So they pulled off the long legs, killed the Centipede and fed it to one of the babies. "Listen!" said Jenny. "Do you remember that funny little squeak in the shed when we couldn't find any insect anywhere around?"

"Of course, I remember it," replied Mr. Wren, who was sitting with his head cocked to one side. "I hear it this instant."

"So do I," said Jenny.

Both sat with their heads cocked to one side. You know the ears of birds are very keen. They can hear what you and I might not be able to hear. The tiny squeak that would sound very faint to you and me would be much more easily heard by Jenny Wren. Just now she was hearing not one squeak often repeated, but many squeaks.

"Look at those legs!" said Mr. Wren suddenly. "One might think they were alive the way they are kicking."

Jenny looked at the legs they had pulled from the House Centipede. All those legs were kicking, just as if they were alive. Just then Mr. Wren flew down close to them and cocked his head to one side. Then he hopped over to another and did the same thing. There was a funny expression on his face as he looked up at Jenny Wren. "My dear," said he, "here are your squeaking insects."

"What do you mean?" Jenny asked.

"I mean that it is these legs that are making the squeaking that we thought was made by insects," replied Mr. Wren.

"Who ever heard of such a think?" cried Jenny.

"All the same, it is true," replied Mr. Wren. "Come listen to one of these legs yourself."

Jenny did. Then it was her turn to have a funny expression as she looked at Mr. Wren. She hopped over to a leg that had stopped kicking and listened. There was no little squeak. "You are right, my dear," she said. "I remember now that when I saw that queer fellow in the shed and tried to catch him, I pulled off three of his legs. I got one the first time and two the second time and both times I noticed those kicking legs and heard the squeaking. It's a queer performance. Well, we can't stop and listen to these legs any longer; the babies are crying for food."

"Well, we can't stop and listen to those legs any longer"

She spread her wings and off she went and Mr. Wren followed. Now that the mystery was solved, they no longer had any interest in it.

And the mystery was solved, for the House Centipede does have legs that squeak after they are pulled off. They do not squeak before, but afterward. They kick and squeak and so draw the attention of a possible enemy away from their owner, who thus has a chance to escape. You know there is a Lizard who throws off part of his tail, which twists and wiggles and thrashes about while its owner escapes.

NAVY SETS DATE FOR LAUNCHING

Giant Submarine Will Glide Off Ways March 15

Craft Has Cruising Radius of 20,000 Miles

Plans to Scrap Thirty-one Others Also Told

Launching date of the last of America's huge submarine-cruisers, the U.S.S. V-6, at the Mare Island navy yard March 15, together with plans for scrapping thirty-one older submarines, was announced yesterday by the Navy Department.

The V-6 will be christened by Miss Jean Koesling of 690 Market street, San Francisco, and is scheduled to be commissioned June 1, next. Her sister ship, the V-5, now completing at the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy yard, will be commissioned next month.

The V-6, like the V-5, has a submerged displacement of 3960 tons and a surface displacement of 2760 tons and is reported to have a cruising radius in excess of 20,000 miles. Costing approximately $7,000,000, the giant submersible is 371 feet long and has a cruising speed of seventeen knots, six twenty-one-inch torpedo tubes and two six-inch high-angle guns. She will carry a crew of eighty-eight officers and men.

The V-7, V-8 and V-9, last of the nine fleet submarines authorized by the act of August 29, 1916, will displace only 1550 tons and will carry only a single four-inch gun—marking the decreasing trend in submarine sizes. The V-7 is already under way at the Portsmouth navy yard.

The thirty-one submarines announced for decommissioning in advance of the London naval conference outcome cost the Navy Department nearly $30,000,000 during the World War period. They include the following craft: N-1, N-2, N-3, H-4, H-5, H-6, H-7, H-8, H-9, O-1, O-2, O-11, O-12, O-13, O-14, O15, O-16, R-21, R-22, R-23, R-24, R-25, R-26, R727, S-2, T-1, T-3, S-49, S-50, S-51 and T-2.

Launching of the light cruiser Chicago at the Mare Island navy yard April 10, next, also is scheduled. The Chicago is the seventh of the eight "treaty"-type 10,000-ton cruisers under the 1924 authorization.

Elopers Have Been Wed for Half-Century

People have been inclined to frown on elopements, but when one lasts to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary, it hardly could be classed as foolish or hasty, according to Mr. and Mrs. Martin O. Dolson of 207 East Twenty-fifth street, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday. Never have they had a moment's regret over the dash they made from her home in Kansas City to Forest City, Mo., in 1880.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolson have been residents of Los Angeles for the past thirty-five years, having come here from Wichita, Kan. Mr. Dolson has had an active career in business and also has patented a number of inventions.

Last evening the couple had open house, when many friends called to extend congratulations. Assisting them was their only child, Mrs. H. E. Hart, her husband, Dr. Hart, and three grand-daughters.

Stone Laying Price Boosted

An increase in the price of brick and stone laying has been declared by the bricklayers' and stone masons' union. It proposes on June 1 to increase the wage from $1.37½ an hour to $1.50 an hour.

The present price will prevail, the union decrees, until completion of all work contracted for before Saturday, regardless of whether completion takes place after June 1.

FRED NIBLO TO DIRECT HAINES

Malena Dietrich, German Star, Arrives in Hollywood; R.K.O. Will Make Special of Noel Coward Comedy; E. H. Griffith Assigned to Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

"Easy Going" is the title of the picture which Fred Niblo will direct next for Metro-Godwyn-Mayer, it was announced yesterday.

FRED NIBLO

William Haines will be the star, and this will be the first western for both star and director, so there ought to be a lot of enthusiastic interest on both their parts. In chaps and sombrero, Haines will play a swash-buckling cow-puncher in a romantic comedy.

Byron Morgan and Alfred Block wrote the story, and the entire picture, which is to be an M.-G.-M. special, will be filmed in Arizona and New Mexico, the company leaving for location early in March.

Niblo had planned to film "Red Dust" with Greta Garbo starred, but "Romance" was put on the schedule ahead of the Garbo feature, so he was assigned to direct the Haines picture before the other one.

GERMAN STAR TO BE WITH PARAMOUNT

A noted feminine German star has just come to Hollywood, and unless all signs fail she will be with Paramount.

Malena Dietrich is the name of the German luminary. She played the leading feminine role in a picture produced in Germany by Josef von Sternberg, with Emil Jannings starred.

Miss Dietrich is known to have appeared in a number of U.F.A. pictures, and is said to be beautiful and talented, and to be able to speak English nicely.

R.-K.-O. Casts Feature

Another special production is being planned by R.-K.-O. It is nothing less than the picturization of a well-known stage play called "Second Man." So far the picture has not been titled.

Alice Joyce

The picture will be directed by Hugh Herbert.

Alice Joyce has been cast in the leading feminine role, while Lowell Sherman will have the principal male role. Both parts will, of course, be featured. The part which Sherman will play will be that taken by Noel Coward, author of "Second Man," in London, and by Alfred Lunt in New York.

Griffith Directs Pathe Star

When Ina Claire starts work on her next picture for Pathe, namely "Holiday," the stage play which recently has been making a success in New York, she will have as her director no less capable a guide than E. H. Griffith.

E. H. GRIFFITH

Griffith recently signed a long-term contract with Pathe, and the Claire picture is his first assignment.

"Holiday" is by Philip Barry, and as a Pathe talker it is to be given an elaborate production, with musical sequences and color photography.

Harrons Expecting Stork

If all goes well, the stork will descend on the home of Johnny Harron and his beautiful young wife, professionally known as Betty Egan, former dancer, some time in August.

Harron is one of the most successful of the younger leading men. At present he is playing the juvenile lead in Universal's "Czar of Broadway." Miss Egan retired from professional life when she became Mrs. Harron.

Alice Day With Warners

That charming young actress, Alice Day, is to have a nice featured role in the Warner Brothers production of "Viennese Nights."

Miss Day, who has been studying singing and dancing assiduously, will play the role of the hero's wife in the Romberg - Hammerstein screen operetta, Alexander Gray being the hero. Vivienne Segal has the leading role.

Tod Browning's First

Tod Browning's first assignment under his new contract with Universal, we learn, will be adapted from a story of his own, not yet titled. Wells Root is writing the adaptation and dialogue.

The story is an underworld yarn with a Chinese angle, and is to be made a special production.

Browning recently left M.-G.-M. While there his best screen efforts were in the direction of crook stories.

George Fawcett Signs

It looks as though Pathe is going to have a top-notch cast in "Swing High," its circus picture.

Now George Fawcett has been cast in an important role, according to word just received.

Billie Butts In It

That infant phenomenon child actor, Billie Butts, whose voice has been lifted successfully in several talking pictures of late, has won another nice role.

This time Billie will provide the child interest in Tiffany's "Medicine Man," according to the announcement from the studio and Phil Goldstone yesterday.

Albert Gran Busy

Albert Gran is a busy man these days. No sooner will he have finished his current role in First National's "Mlle. Modiste," than he will move over to Paramount studios, where he is destined for the father role in "Follow Through."

Four at First National

Four noted actors were assigned to roles in First National's "Under Western Skies," yesterday.

Kenneth Thompson and Olive Tell were given featured roles opposite each other, while Clyde Cook and J. Farrell MacDonald were entrusted with the two featured comedy parts.

ACTRESS BEGINS WORK

When Betty Compson begins work at Universal in "Czar of Broadway," it will mark her first appearance at that studio in several years. Only the postponement of an R.-K.-O. picture for which she had already been signed brought about the present opportunity.

CAST COMPLETED

Luther Reed has completed the selection of the cast for "Dixiana," his next production for R.-K.-O., which he is adapting and directing. It is an operetta laid in Louisiana.

Celebrities on Honor List at Late Matinee

With Gov. C. C. Young appearing as the guest of honor at the American Legion Luncheon Club's gala midnight show at the Orpheum Theater Saturday night, announcement was made today that Eddie Borden, noted stage and screen comedian, had been obtained to act as master of ceremonies for the affair.

One of the latest additions to the list of celebrities to appear is Master Jay Ward, 8-year-old mascot of the Second A.E.F., who was taken to Paris two years ago to attend the national convention of the American Legion and there adopted by the organization as its official mascot.

Seats for the gala extra performance, which will include all of the regular Orpheum features, headed by Richard Dix's latest all-talking laugh thriller, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," are now on sale.

Musical Comedy Contributes to Paramount Film

The New York musical comedy stage contributes five of its favorites to motion-picture audiences in "Roadhouse Nights," the film that opens a run at the Paramount Theater tomorrow. The five are Helen Morgan, Charles Ruggles and the three comedians, Clayton, Jackson and Durante. Fred Kohler is another outstanding player in the cast.

Miss Morgan introduces a new song, "It Can't Go On Like This," while Charles Ruggles, who scored in "The Lady Lies," is again seen as a drunken reporter. The comic trio, known as the "Three Schnozzles," is the same that made a hit with "So I Ups to Him, and He Ups to Me." Their feature song in this picture is "Hello, Everybody, Folks."

Submarine Story Enacted by All Masculine Cast

The first motion picture of feature length to have an all-masculine cast will be the attraction at the Criterion Theater starting March 6.

"Men Without Women," John Ford's Fox Movietone drama of the submarine service, is not only the first talking screen production of a submarine story, but is also the first picture without a woman in the cast.

"Men Without Women" is said to be an unusual production, due to the reality of its drama surrounding the lives of sixteen men doomed in a sunken submarine. The cast of the picture includes Kenneth MacKenna, Frank Albertson, Paul Page, Walter McGrail and Farrell MacDonald.

'PARTY GIRL' HAS LOCAL PREMIERE

Million Dollar Theater Presents Production of Halperins

BY PHILIP E. SCHEUER

"Party Girl," an unconvincing representation of a so-called "racket," was projected on the Million Dollar screen last night. Poorly produced, its intial local appearance at advanced prices left some cause for wonder; "Party Girl" is, at best, a less than average program feature. Its theme is the exploitation of systematic "selling" to "out-of-town buyers" by high-powered saleslades of the evening. Barring a few self-conscious directorial "touches," it has been filmed unimaginatively and often offensively. Its offending qualities, however, are not so much evident in any special individual scene as they are in the entire theme.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is the best-known member of the cast. He plays the son of one John Rountree, who, because he has refused to employ "party girls" to convince out-of-town prospects of the value of Rountree Glass Products, is made the subject of a ghastly hoax. In other words, the son—portrayed as a general ne'er-do-well from the beginning—is forced into a marriage by one of the girls after a night which, starting innocently enough, ends with his sudden collapse in the girl's apartment. No explanation is offered for either his guilibility in swallowing the girl's story whole, or his about-face awakening to what we may suppose is his honor as a gentleman.

The particular party girl under discussion is played by Judith Barrie. Marie Prevost, absent from the screen for many months, is seen as one of her coworkers. Jeanette Loff, as the father's secretary, makes a pretty heroine. It develops in the course of the story that she was once a party girl herself.

John St. Polis, Lucien Prival and others also have roles.

Victor Halperin directed, from a yarn by Edwin Balmer. The picture is a Tiffany release.

The premiere was largely attended by members of the Breakfast Club. Sid Grauman, present, evoked memories of the past, hearkening back to a day twelve years ago when, a stranger in the city, he swung open diffident doors on a new, hopeful enterprise—Grauman's Million Dollar Theater.

Fashion Show Ends Today at R.-K.-O. House

"Modes of Spring, 1930," revealing the latest fashion creations on the stage of the R.-K.-O. Theater, will be shown for the last time today. Concluding performances also will be given of the vaudeville show headed by Charles Derickson and Burton Brown, and "The Racketeer," a film starring Robert Armstrong with Carol Lombard.

An entirely new stage and screen program will be presented tomorrow. Helen Twelvetrees and Fred Scott are co-featured in "The Grand Parade," dealing with a singing minstrel who fights his way back to fame.

Among the stage features is the Pavley-Oukrainsky ballet, with Edris Milar as premier danseuse, and fifteen dancing artists. William and Joe Mandell, comedy specialists, headline the vaudeville show.

Unique Malady Appears Among Screen Players

Two cases of "western-bootitis" have been discovered among the cast of "The Texan," Paramount's companion picture to "The Virginian."

The sufferers are Oscar Apfel and James Marcus. The malady is not serious, but is puzzling. The sufferers feel off balance, up in the air, tilted forward and uncertain of footing.

High heels as are found on western boots is the cause and neither Apfel nor Marcus has worn western boots for several years. Gary Cooper, who wears this type of boot off the screen more than he does on, is immune to the malady.

CONCERT CHOIR TO SING INDIAN EPIC

Fifty singers in Indian garb will present "Hiawatha's Departure" in the Biltmore Hotel music salon Thursday evening. This will honor the memory of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who wrote the poem. This first presentation in Los Angeles of the Indian epic set to music by Coleridge Taylor, will be made by the Zoellner-Blakeslee concert choir under the direction of S. Earle Blakeslee. The words of Hiawatha will be sung by George Walker, bass, recently returned from singing Wagnernian roles in Germany. Other soloists are Edna Darch, dramatic soprano, and Leon Rice, tenor. Frances Bates is accompanist.

NEAR FINISH

Within the next ten days William Bakewell will write finis to the longest assignment that has been his good fortune since joining the screen's ranks. As one of the featured members of "All Quiet on the Western Front," which Lewis Milestone is directing as a super-special for Universal, Bakewell has been engaged for over three months.

LEROY RETURNING

Having seen sufficient plays on Broadway to satisfy his insatiable appetite for stage presentations, Mervyn LeRoy is planning on returning immediately to Hollywood. It is understood First National has purchased a successful current attraction as LeRoy's next directorial effort.

STUDIO BUSY

Tec-Art studio at present is the busiest since the coming of talking pictures, according to Alfred Mannon, president. There are now seven independent productions under way.

Romance Told in Novel Setting

Ronald Colman and Ann Harding

In a scene from "Condemned," the film which depicts adventures on Devil's Island, a prison settlement, and which starts a popular run today at the United Artists Theater.

HOLMES TO APPEAR IN NEW ROLE

Favorite Comedian Will Return to Local Stage in "Your Uncle Dudley"

Taylor Holmes, star of a score of comedies, is coming to the President March 9 in his latest comedy success, "Your Uncle Dudley." This amusing play, written by Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson, has had a long run in New York.

Few actors have shown the versatility that Taylor Holmes has exhibited in his career, it is said. Beginning as a Shakespearean actor, he progressed to stardom via the route of stage and musical comedies, vaudeville bills and a series of motion pictures. He was seen here last in "The Sap."

In "Your Uncle Dudley," Holmes has the role of a middle-aged bachelor who has more friends and less credit than any other citizen of the small town in which he lives. Featured in the cast will be Florence Roberts, character actress, who has a leading comedy role.

Short Visit of Actor Results in Long Stay

George Arliss came to America from England in 1901 to play four months. He stayed for twenty years without ever playing in his native country during that time, and made himself the dean of the American stage. His return to England was with the play, "The Green Goddess," which has been universally popular in America and which proved to be equally popular in England. Now he appears in the same play, but this time as a film. It is showing at Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood.

Assisting Arliss are such well-known players as Alice Joyce, H. B. Warner, Ralph Forbes and Nigel De Brulier. Al Green directed.

FIVE SOLOISTS ON CONCERT PROGRAM

Hazel Rhodes

One of the most outstanding programs of the season of the Philharmonic Orchestra of Los Angeles, Dr. Artur Rodzinski, conductor, will be given tomorrow evening and Friday afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

At this pair of concerts five soloists, who have made names for themselves in the world of music will appear. They are Dan Gridley, tenor; Hazel Rhodes, soprano; Rita Raymond, contralto; Dr. Carl Omeron, tenor, and Tudor Williams, bass. In addition to the soloists the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, which has been diligently at work for several months under John Smallman, director, will appear in the "Psalmus Hungaricus," by Kodaly, as well as the prelude to Act III, quintet and closing scene from "Die Meistersinger."

Young Players to Appear on Midnight Bill

Modern youth will run rampant at the Hollywood midnight frolic at Grauman's Chinese Theater Saturday in connection with Lawrence Tibbett's starring picture, "The Rogue Song."

LOLA LANE

In addition to several stars whose names will be announced soon, the late show will offer Dorothy McNulty, who scored in the original "Good News;" Lola Lane, one of the stars of the younger generation, and Billy Taft, stage star just recruited for the screen. These three youngsters are all starred in the screen version of "Good News" which M.-G.-M. is producing and will present entertainment bits in musical and comedy form.

Cooper Vehicle Opens Tomorrow

"Seven Days' Leave," first starring picture for Gary Cooper, will be the attraction at Grauman's Egyptian Theater for the week starting tomorrow. The picture is a screen version of the play, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," by Sir James M. Barrie. It features Beryl Mercer in support of the star.

The stage offering on the new bill at the Hollywood Boulevard house will be Fanchon and Marco's "Sunshine" Idea, featuring a large cast of variety headliners. A Fox Movietone Newsreel will complete the bill.

HOFMANN PRESENTS ROMANTICS

Noted Pianist Retains Old Skill; Varied Numbers on Concert Program

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Josef Hofmann, for many years an idol among pianists, played at the Philharmonic last night a generous program of Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Saint-Saens, Chopin, Liszt and Rachmaninoff, with many encores of the same period. Hofmann has lost none of his skill, but the power to sway his hearers by inspired interpretations was not present last night. He no longer animates his performance with a spiritual influence. The burdens of life seem to weigh him down. He is cold and studied in his musical utterance.

Josef Hofmann has become the intellectualist and paradoxically he plays only the romantic composers. There was much of Chopin on this program and the great difficulties were played with a mastery seldom heard, even in this generation of astounding technical feats. The well-known B minor Sonata, the Nocturne in B major, Valse in A flat were programmed and added to. They were polished down to the last detail, not a note in the most terrific passages was missing. There were moments of light, too, but all too rare. These sparks did not kindle into real fire.

Probably the sun of Southern California will cause the art of this great artist to glow with its old beauty on Sunday afternoon when he will play again in the Philharmonic Auditorium. Then he will play Schumann's "Faschingschwank aus Wien," and for fine Schumann playing she has long been noted.

Devil's Island Reproducd for Colman Vehicle

There is no spot on the globe which has a more sinister reputation than has Devil's Island, it is said, and it is this terrifying location which forms the background for "Condemned," Ronald Colman starring vehicle, which today opens its first local popular run at the United Artists Theater. Ann Harding has the chief feminine role.

Production of this picture at the United Artists studio involved the construction of massive sets representing the entire prison, as well as several acres of almost impenetrable jungle, through which Colman and his companion, Louis Wolheim, are tracked by officers during their attempt to escape.

Colman's characterization in "Condemned" differs entirely from his previous roles, and is said to present a new side of his many-faceted character.

Virginia Sale Takes New Role

The list of character roles portrayed by Virginia Sale has been augmented with that of a Moroccan scrubwoman. The young actress today begins work in the Fox picture, as yet untitled, which is directed by Alexander Korda, and the locale of which is a seaport in Morocco. The part, though not a long one, is said to offer ample scope for Miss Sale's recognized comedy appeal. The actress is even now booked for her next role, a quite different characterization, for another major company, upon which she expects to start work within a week.

TO THE PEOPLE OF LOS ANGELES

For the second time in my three years as Director of Fox West Coast Theatres . . . I am going to give my personal recommendation to a motion picture attraction.

That picture is . . . "Men Without Women" . . . a John Ford-William Fox all talking movietone production . . . to open at the Fox Criterion Theatre . . . on March 6.

"Men Without Women" is the greatest thrill drama I have seen in years . . . there is an element of greatness in the picture . . . there is a human touch . . . there is a flash of genius . . . these attributes are so manifest that I believe John Ford will win the gold medal of 1930 with "Men Without Women."

Thank you

Tentative plans taken up with the engineer of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation by the Los Angeles Railway Company on a program of service improvements and extensions to cost approximately $1,300,000 were referred to the board informally yesterday for consideration and study.

The plan, submitted by Vice-president R. O. Crowe provides the following for the present year:

Rail extension on Central avenue from Seventy-seventh street to Manchester avenue.

Motor coach line extension on Santa Fe and Florence avenues and Pacific Boulevard from Firestone Boulevard to Clarendon street.

The motor coach extension on Normandie avenue from Florence avenue to Manchester avenue may be included in this year's program.

Orders have been given for equipment and necessary construction material, according to Crowe, who stated the work will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible, following approval of the board.

Some rerouting in the westerly section will follow construction of the West Third-street link to reduce left-turn operations at two busy intersections.

Crowe said the company plans call for a new substation, with a modern 3000 kilowatt unit in the east Slauson district, construction of a new 3000 kilowatt silent type substation in the Westlake district, increase in capacity of the central substation by addition of a 1500 kilowatt unit, and increase in power capacity of Washington and Garvanza cars from ninety horsepower to 180 horsepower.

An illustrated lecture on early motion pictures will be given by Hobart Bosworth, actor, at 3:15 p.m. today in Science Hall of University of Southern California, Thirty-seventh street and University avenue.

WOMAN WINS LARGE AWARD

Jury Gives $50,000 Verdict for Plaintiff in Suit Over Injury in Store

After four physicians testified that Mrs. Nora Kirkland is suffering from an incurable disease as a result of being struck by a metal cash carrier in a grocery store at Sixth and Main streets, a jury in Superior Judge Schauer's court gave Mrs. Kirkland a verdict for $50,000 damages.

Attorneys for the store admitted the carrier was not properly fixed to its wire track, but their physicians sought to show that Mrs. Kirkland's ailment was not caused by being struck by the carrier.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Joseph L. Painer.

Glendale Craft Declared Damaged in Test Flight

May Never Fly

The all-metal type airship designed by Capt. Thomas Slate (inset.)

DIRIGIBLE BUILDER QUIZZED

Securities Act Violation Charged to Glendale Man; All-Metal Ship's Damage Disclosed

Questioning yesterday of Thomas B. Slate, inventor and builder of the City of Glendale, giant revolutionary-designed dirigible, at the District-Attorney's office on a complaint filed with the State Corporation Department charging violation of the Corporate Securities Act, resulted in Slate declaring that the present craft may never fly, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark.

Slate, according to Clark, declared that on the recent attempted trial flight of the City of Glendale a valve stuck and several metal ribs of the craft were sprung by expanding gas in the envelope to the extent that it will be impracticable to repair the craft.

He declared that during construction of the present ship he has found it advisable to alter the dimensions of a new dirigible that will be constructed as soon as the affairs of the corporation are straightened out, Clark pointed out. Several other improvements will be embodied by Slate in the new design as the result of experience with the present craft, according to Clark.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED

At the same time it was announced by David C. Moore of the University of Finance, representatives of approximately 300 of the 1877 stockholders in Southern California, that Slate has agreed on a reorganization plan for the corporation with the purpose of starting immediate construction of the second dirigible.

Clark called Slate yesterday following receipt of the complaint filed on December 18, 1929, by L. P. Hopkins of Glendale, a stockholder.

The complaint sets forth that Slate organized the Slate Aircraft Corporation in Nevada on August 3, 1927; that it had an authorized capital stock of $600,000, divided into 600,000 shares of no par value; that Slate entered into a contract between himself and the corporation to build and fly an all-metal dirigible; that Slate's patents were of an experimental and speculative value, and that through the disposal by Slate of 122,833 shares to finance the City of Glendale's construction Slate has violated the Corporate Securities Act.

Extreme fluctuation of the aircraft stock is revealed in the complaint in the assertion that shares have sold from $2 to $20 since Slate started financing the metal bag.

COMPLAINT PASSED ON

Slate has ruled the corporation with an iron hand, Hopkins asserts in the complaint, by controlling the board of directors through voting, as personally owned stock, 477,167 shares. The complaint further asserts that Slate has taken from the corporation all of its treasury stock and has deprived the corporation of any anticipated source of revenue other than the possibility of certain royalties and a small amount of possible income from commercial navigation.

Hopkins requested a hearing before the Corporation Commissioner, the complaint was passed on to the District Attorney for investigation without comment from the commission. Clark said he will call Hopkins to his office today.

Engineers have inspected Slate's 212-foot dirigible and pronounced the propulsion principle sound—that of air displacement by means of a blower at the nose to create a continuous vacuum through which the craft could slide without the usual air resistance.

MEETING TONIGHT

A meeting will be conducted tonight at the Slate hangar, Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, by the stockholders for a vote on whether to accept the reorganization as outlined in a letter from Slate to Moore. Slate has offered, Moore pointed out, to cancel his contract and turn back to the corporation 400,000 shares of stock. Two-thirds of the corporation's voting power will be given to the stockholders and one-half of the total earnings of the corporation.

Under the new proposed arrangement an application will be made to the Corporation Commission for the sale of this stock, or another corporation will be formed.

The City of Glendale, its hangar and construction equipment are valued at $185,000, Moore said an audit of Slate's books revealed. It will cost between $100,000 and $125,000 to construct a new ship of improved design, he declared.

JUVENILE AVIATION MEET SET

Trphies to Be Awarded Saturday in Boys' League Backed by "The Times"

Climaxing class instruction of 2000 boys in the Los Angeles city area and more than 4000 youngsters in various Southland towns, the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League will hold its first annual indoor miniature airplane contest and graduation exercises at the Exposition Armory commencing at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The juvenile aviation school sponsored by "The Times" is the largest in America. Plans for the second league are now being formulated and enrollment blanks may be found in the Junior Times section of The Sunday Times.

The Saturday meet is the conclusion of a four-month intensive program. Winners of first, second and third places will be awarded bronze, silver and gold wings by The Times. In addition the two special Helen A. French club trophies are to be competed for.

Arrangements to take care of visitors to the fleet are in charge of Louis A. Orsatti, director of the league. There is no admission charge.

"Times" Film Shows Scenes in Shipwreck

Shipwrecked passengers awaiting lifeboats aboard the storm-lashed steamship Admiral Benson, aground off Peacock Spit, Or., are shown in the latest issue of the Times-Universal Newsreel. Graham McNamee, talking reporter and newscaster of the Times-Universal Newsreel, describes the disaster with dramatic effect.

Other thrills in this issue of the Times-Universal Newsreel include scenes of maddened bulls goring a crowd of merrymakers at a Spanish fiesta, neck-risking ski jumps in Sweden, an automobile's crash against a New York elevated railroad pillar, a dive of 108 feet into an icy New Hampshire pool, a campus scrimmage, and flood scenes in Germany, where hundreds perished.

GLAB CASE COMPLETE, SAYS CATO

All Evidence in Murder Mystery Turned Over to Deputy Prosecutor

Belief that the police have gathered sufficient evidence in the new investigation of the Glab murder case to warrant its presentation to the grand jury was expressed by Capt. Cato of the police homicide detail yesterday. All the police records in the case were turned over to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan, who was told that the detectives on the case have proceeded as far as they believe possible in an effort to establish the identity of the murderer of John R. Glab on June 16, 1928.

Jordan was inclined to discount the value of the evidence presented to him and demanded that a renewed search be made for the gun that was used in the murder. A missing "mystery witness," whose story has never been told, is expected to return to Los Angeles during the week, according to the detectives. He was located in another State and indicated he would return willingly if guaranteed police protection.

The identity of the witness was not disclosed, but it is believed he has knowledge of how the missing pistol was disposed of. Intimations that an attempt had been made to intimidate the missing witness were made in his communications to the detectives. The time of his expected arrival was withheld by the prosecutor and the police.

EVIDENCE-HIDING CHARGES DISMISSED

Felony charges of conspiracy to conceal evidence against W. R. McIntire, former policeman, and Fred C. Simmons of Burbank were dismissed by Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday at the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell, who told the court the State did not have sufficient evidence to prove the conspiracy.

The two men were charged with hiding the automobile in which the former police officer, whose arrest revived investigation of the two-year-old Glab murder case, is asserted to have struck down and killed Mrs. Margaret Towers. McIntire is facing trial on charges of murder, drunk driving and hit-and-run driving growing out of Mrs. Towers's death.

REALTY PROFESSION NOW

Business of Future to Command College Degree, National Expert Tells Advisers' Group

More than 250 members of the realty advisers, brokers and salesmen of the Los Angeles Realty Board, attended the second annual banquet of the advisers held in the Realty Board Building last night.

The realty advisers is a new group within the Realty Board, composed of salesmen holding either broker's or salesmen's licenses and operating under another broker who is an active member of the board.

Predictions as to real estate conditions in 1940 were made by Stanley McMichael, nationally known authority on real estate, who was the principal speaker of the evening. These, he stated, will partially develop from the education of the men engaged in the real estate business.

"At present there are some sixty-five major colleges and universities engaged in giving part or full time real estate educational courses. By 1940 there will be two or three times that number with a score or more of the larger ones giving complete three and four-year courses which will confer the degree B.R.E. —Bachelor of Real Estate—upon hundreds of students who annually complete their courses and gravitate into the real estate offices of the country which, more and more, will require the services of those who have expert educational training for the work they expect to engage in," he said.

Other changes from present conditions will come about through further use of the automobile, the increased utilization of aerial transportation and mass production of houses, reducing costs.

Greetings to the advisers and their guests were extended by Harold G. Ferguson, president of the Realty Board. Work of the local real estate board, the California Real Estate Association and the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in all of which the advisers hold membership, was outlined by W. H. Daum, president of the California association. Brief addresses were also made by Mason Case, past president of the realty board, and Stephen Barnson, State Real Estate Commissioner.

Entertainment was supplied by the T. I. Glee Club, Harvey Humphrey, baritone; Rosa Disraeli, coloratura soprano and the Hollywood Starlets.

Details for the banquet were in the hands of a committee composed of H. R. Bergh, chairman of the advisers; Hascel Freeman, Elmer C. Woodward, Robert Swope, W. C. Wickenden and Frank Baker.

FLYERS SEARCH FOR THREE LOST

Pasadenan Among Missing on Los Angeles Liner

Twelve Pilots in Air Today Continue Quest

Three men instead of two will be the object of a concerted air search today following a fruitless quest from the sky by twelve planes over the rugged territory between here and Kingman, Ariz., for the Western Air Express Los Angeles-bound transport that flew away into a storm last Sunday morning from Kingman.

John W. Slaton, former head waiter in the Franciscan Hotel of Albuquerque, N. M., who moved to 1061 Acova street, South Pasadena, two weeks ago, is now reported aboard the plane when it left Kingman with Pilot James E. Doles and Copilot Albert W. Bieber, Western Air Express officials announced last night.

CONDITIONS POOR

Although visibility was declared perfect over the mountains yesterday, searching pilots reported on landing last night that the weather gave indications of closing in today and it may be noon before the ships can take to the air again.

Enough food and water were aboard the missing plane to last the three men for two weeks if they succeeded in making a safe landing, it was stated by company officials here.

Yesterday's search embraced the air route and 100-mile strips on each side. The twelve pilots, three of them officers from March Field, Riverside, reported that there is no snow on the ranges under the Los Angeles-Kingman route.

PILOT RECOVERING

Meanwhile Fred W. Kelly, former champion hurdler, was recovering from the effects of his mail-plane crash. Kelly is in the Good Samaritan Hospital suffering a fractured vertebrae, received when he was catapulted from the ship when it struck a mountain near St. George, Utah, in a snowstorm.

Kelly will be in the hospital at least two weeks, according to a Western Air Express report, and will be kept off his night mail run for two or three months.

SEARCHERS' NAMES

Flyers who criss-crossed the passenger route in search of the red trimotored Fokker monoplane yesterday and who plan to fly again today include George Rice, Alexis Klotz and Ted Hoffman, company pilots operating out of Kingman; Lasuta, O'Connor, Bodel and Carlson, operating out of March Field; Jack Laas, R. G. Fry and Fred Kelly, (not the injured pilot,) company pilots operating from the company's Alhambra terminus; Tom Fowler and Dudley Steele, Richfield Oil Company's pilots, and Keith Scott, private pilot, operating out of Los Angeles.

LOVELAND REPORTED IN PASADENA

Friend of Missing Clubman and Architect Says He Saw Him on Street

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—W. Paul Loveland, missing local architect and clubman, whose body was reported erroneously to have been exhumed in Mexico a month ago, was seen walking on the streets of this city last Friday, according to a report received by authorities here today.

One of the architect's relatives received an anonymous telephone call from a man who said he was a friend of Loveland and that he had just seen him walking along Colorado street. The police were called and officers searched the business section without seeing anyone resembling Loveland.

Mrs. Loveland, former president of the Pasadena Browning Society, has been in a state of collapse since her husband disappeared December 31, last, when he left a Yuma (Ariz.) automobile camp after writing his wife that he was going fishing in a reservoir about twelve miles from Yuma.

Later a $1000 reward for information of the missing man's whereabouts was offered, and the following day telegraphic dispatches were received here from Yuma stating that the architect's body had been exhumed from a shallow grave near Cuervas, Mex., and identified. Mrs. Loveland later proved by comparing spectacles found on the body with the prescription for her husband's glasses that it was that of some other person.

Loveland, a veteran of the World War, was active here socially before his disappearance, being a member of the Valley Hunt and other clubs. The family residence is at 788 South Grand avenue.

District Bond Issue Carries

The proposed bond issue election for the supply of city water to Municipal Improvement District No. 75 yesterday, carried 135 to 9 ballots, the City Clerk's office announced last night.

SOUTHLAND CLIMATE ATTRACTS OPERA STAR

Southern California climate was one of the inducements which persuaded Edward Marshall, Metropolitan opera star and internationally famous baritone, to come to Hollywood for appearances in talking pictures, he said last night as he stepped from the Chief from New York.

Marshall comes to Hollywood under contract to R.-K.-O. Productions, Inc., to appear in Radio Pictures.

GRAND JURY SET FOR Q

Committees and Auditor on County Books for First Investigation Begins Today

After selecting an auditor who will inspect the books of county departments during the ensuing year, and naming committees, the county grand jury yesterday adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow when it will meet again to take up its first official investigation.

Among the first matters to be brought before the new grand jury for investigation will be charges of numerous former patients of the General Hospital that they were neglected or mistreated while being confined in that institution for treatment.

The grand jury also is expected to continue the inquiry started by the 1929 grand jury into the financial affairs of Angelus Temple and possibly may renew the investigation into the murder of John R. Glab, wealthy retired druggist, two years ago.

A. D. Macleod was chosen as accountant. He has served in this capacity on five previous occasions.

All Hollywood Regulars Signed for 1930 Season

EMIL YDE, LEE COME IN FOLD

Stars All Set for Opening of Training Monday

Oscar Vitt Due Friday for Talk With Bill Lane

Two Angel Hurling Rookies First to Get Ax

BY BOB RAY

Mr. H. William Lane, the grizzled, gruff-voiced boss of the Hollywood Stars, can now center all his worrying on his golf game. If the Hard Rock Miner insists on worrying it'll have to be about his golf for his contract worries ended yesterday when Emil Yde, the star southpaw and slugger purchased from Detroit, and Dud Lee, the flashy Sheik shortstop, signed for the 1930 campaign. Yde and Lee were the last of the Hollywood regulars to exercise their fountain pens on the dotted line so now the Stars are just marking time until they begin spring training at San Diego next Monday.

EMIL YDE

"You're got to give the Hard Rock credit for getting the boys all signed up so soon," said Secretary (Spider) Baum yesterday. "It's generally a tough task getting the athletes to sign up early after they've won a pennant, but Bill Lane did it and that ought to constitute some sort of record.

GOOD NEWS FOR VITT

"The news ought to be pleasing to Manager Vitt because it means he can start right in working on his training campaign next Monday. All the regulars will be there and the longer the boys work together the better their team work will be perfected by the time the season opens.

"I've already sent out the transportation to all of the athletes and they've all indicated that they will be on hand early at San Diego. Wouldn't be surprised if those cool beers across the border weren't an inspiration for the players to arrive a day before the training siege begins."

Oscar Vitt is scheduled to check in from Oakland at Wrig-

Coast League Head Predicts BannerSeason

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast League, announced today that baseball appeared due for a big season this year. Making a swing around the circuit, Williams said interest was running high at this early date. "Early in December I was in Portland and at that time fans were making requests for opening-day reservations. In Los Angeles the request for reservations, I am told, is double the number at this time last year. On paper the league appears better balanced than it did last year."

MORTENSEN LAUDED BY BRUIN BOSS

Works Picks Trojan Hero at Center on All-Star Basketball Team

Jess Mortensen of the University of Southern California basketball team is this year's greatest center and one of the best players in the history of the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference, in the opinion of Caddy Works in announcing his all-conference selections. Works, the varsity cage mentor of the University of California at Los Angeles, placed "Big Jess" at the pivot position on his first all-league five.

JESS MORTENSON

Coach Works placed two of his own players on the first team, Carl Knowles, captain-elect for next year, and Carl Shy. Saying that he didn't believe that Knowles could be left off the team because of his first-class shooting ability and general floor work and dribbling, he moved him from center to forward, where he is paired with Kent Purcell, bald-headed forward for California at Berkeley, who is high-point scorer in the southern division.

Carl Shy and Johnny Lehners, the Southern California captain, were given the guard positions on the first squad, while Capt. Harlow Rothert and Web Caldwell of Stanford and Southern California, respectively, were assigned as guards to the second team.

Frank Smith of the Trojan quintet and Wilson Tripp, the melancholy Golden Bear, were given the forward positions on the second team.

WOODBURY FIVE CLICKS

The Woodbury College basketball team defeated the Throne Commercial College quintet from Pomona last night in the California Christian College gymnasium by the score of 60 to 33. Houghton, Woodbury forward, was high-point man of the evening with 20 points caged.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The second group of the National League champion Chicago Cubs, under the direction of Dan Cahill, an official of the club, today headed for Catalina Island, to join batterymen and others who composed the first squad a week ago. Cahill, a Cub enthusiast and member of the Chicago Fire Department, had with him Riggs Stephenson, Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, Lewis (Hack) Wilson, regular outfielders; Woody English and Charlie Tolson, members of the 1929 Cubs, Danny Taylor, recruit outfielder; Herman Jones and Lester Bell, obtained from the Boston Braves, on whom Manager Joe McCarthy is depending to fill the gap at third base.

BRUIN HURLERS BADLY FOOLED

AVALON (Cal.) Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Despite somewhat adverse weather today the conditioning of the Chicago Cub athletes progressed nevertheless. McCarthy's early birds performed despite high wind and lack of sunshine with two hours of asserted, heated labors, which undoubtedly helped materially in the hardening of muscles.

In a way the drill given the nineteen athletes today was of a tricky nature. As is well know pitchers love to hit even though they are flops in the attempts and McCarthy took advantage of their weakness. He let them take turns hitting against a quartet of the new hurlers and each time a ball was hit the batter had to run the sacks as far as third base. The fellows doing the hitting thought they were having a good time. In reality they were working about twice as strenuously as they thought. The running was what they needed as it helped to work out leg soreness, which is the only complaint any of them have to date. There is no such thing as a sore arm

RUTH OBJECT OF DEEP-LAID PLOT

ST. PETERSBURG (Fla.) Feb. 25. (AP)—A deep and dark plot to force Babe Ruth to put his signature to a New York Yankee contract has been scented by baseball reporters covering the Yankees' spring training here.

At the first workout of the season yesterday, it was discovered that Babe's famous uniform, with its well-known "3" hemstitched on the back, was being worn by a rookie, Allen Cooke, who may or may not play left field for the Yanks this year. Sports writers, with a facetious turn of mind, believed the Babe would never stand

MAGNOLIA TO RULE BOUT

Referee Will Have Sole Power to Terminate Miami Go if Phil Scott is Unable to Continue

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MIAMI (Fla.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Canadian and British sailors were landed in substantial detachments today from the men-o'-war anchored in Biscayne Bay but, as it turned out, it was not necessary to call upon them to settle a renewal of a controversy between Phil Scott's camp and the Miami Boxing Commission over the issue of procedure in the ring by Referee Lou Magnolia Thursday night, when the British heavyweight will fight Jack Sharkey.

Playing a lone hand in his attempt to break up the peaceful serenity of fight preparations, Scott's manager, Jimmy Johnston, tossed defiance at all orthodox ring regulations in a demand that he first be consulted by the referee before any possible action is taken to stop the bout because of Scott's condition. Johnston insisted that if anything happened to "my Phil," he wanted it to be the count of ten, not any technicality of ruling or judgment on the part of the referee.

LOU MAGNOLIA

NOT SATISFIED

Not satisfied with a flat rebuff this morning from the commission and going so fas as to threaten to call off the fight, unless his demands were met, Johnston argued the issue out again this afternoon at another conference with the boxing authorities and Referee Magnolia.

So far as the commission is concerned, the whole matter was disposed of with this flat statement:

"Lou Magnolia is to have entire responsibility in refereeing the Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott boxing contest with no

W. W. BEEKWITH

Senior champion of Ohio State, and the Cleveland District as well, Deibel added a consistent 38-40-78 to his 77 of Monday over the tricky fairways of the Midwick Country Club for a thirty-six-hole total of 155.

Deibel, winner of more than 100 trophies and scores of medals during his golfing career of almost a quarter of a century, will putt in the future with a twelve-ounce, solid silver putter, emblem of his senior championship.

The Ohioan won the title by five strokes from F. W. Converse of the California Country Club, who won first place in Class A for golfers between 50 and 55 years of age with a total of '77-83—160. Converse was 15 down to par.

BECKWITH SCORES 78

W. W. Leithead of Annandale finGolf Club, a former senior champion, came through with the best round of the tournament yesterday, a splendid 38-38—76, to annex first place in Class B for golfers between the ages of 55 and 60. Beckwith finished two strokes back of Deibel with 81-78—161. Beckwith wound up 13 down.

W. W. Leithead of Annandale finished 22 down to par to win in Class C, 60 to 65 years, while W. D. Kraft of San Diego was 34 down to par in Class D for golfers of 65 and over to win first prize.

George Quam, one-armed Minneapolis star was defeated by B. Markwell of Kansas City, 9-21, 21-7, 21-17.

Coach Harry Trotter's University of California at Los Angeles track team loafed through to an 83½ to 47½ point victory over the Los Angeles Junior College in its first dual track meet of the season yesterday afternoon on the new Westwood oval. A number of star Bruin tracksters were not entered in the events, including Bill McCarthy and Johnny Talbot in the quarter-mile, both of whom are several seconds faster than the winning time.

The outstanding performance of the day was by the Bruin sprinters. Two heats were run in the 100-yard dash, and in both of them Westwooders captured all three places and both times in 10s. flat. "Chuck" Smith won the first heat, nosing out Capt. Johnny Hill, and also captured a victory in the 220-yard dash in 23 3-5s. Jerry Stewart and Freddy Kuhlman

WARNER TO ATTEND MEET

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 25.—Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, Stanford's veteran grid mentor, will leave the campus in a few days, to attend the annual meeting of the football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, in Absecon, N. Y., from March 21 to 25, he announced today.

Although Warner does not have a vote in the deliberations of the committee, the Card coach sits with the other members in an advisory capacity, along with Knute Rockne of Notre Dame and Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech.

No important changes in the rules are anticipated so far as the fundamental principles of the game go, according to Warner.

The purpose of the meeting will be to reclassify and reorganize the existing regulations, ironing out some of the difficulties over which disputes arose last fall.

"Pop" plans to leave early for the meeting, in order to visit friends on his journey east. He will return to Stanford in time for the opening of spring grid practice on April 1.

SAUNDERS AND HARTMAN TO RECEIVE UNIVERSITY AWARDS

Russ Saunders of Southern California and Poke Hartman of Pomona will be given the University Club football awards at today's noon meeting of the organization. Saunders was adjudged the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast Conference, while Hartman, for the second successive season, was awarded the honor in the Southern California circuit. Officials who worked the games in which these players performed, voted on the selections, Saunders and Hartman leading other candidates by a wide margin.

Harry Cooper Makes Fast Finish to Tie Mike Turnesa for Lead in Orlando

RIVAL GOLFERS REGISTER 68'S

Horton Smith Stroke Behind Two Leaders

Penalty Gives Al Watrous Total of 70

New York Pro Gets Ace on 125-Yard Hole

ORLANDO (Fla.) Feb. 25. (AP)—The smooth par-shattering golf of Mike Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., and the fast finish of Lighthorse Harry Cooper, Los Angeles, gave them 68's to lead the pack of sixty-three golfers half way in the $3000 Central Florida 36-hole open tournament here today.

Turnesa scored two 34's each, one stroke under the mark. Cooper developed par golf in the outbound nine with a 35, but scurried back to the clubhouse with a 33 to tie for first place.

Horton Smith, debonair shot maker from Detroit, seemed headed for triple tie for first honors as he came to the eighteenth green, but a tiny tuft of grass forced an extra putt for a 69.

Al Watrous, Detroit, who played with Smith and Johnny Farrell, former national open champion, had a 35 and 34, but after play was completed the judges gave Watrous a penalty stroke, running his score up to 70.

Bobby Cruickshank of Purchase, N. Y., took two 35's and Roland Hancock of Lynchburg, Virginia open champion, had a 36 and 34 for the same total. Tony Manero, Elmsford, N. Y., with 39-35—71, and Ed Stokes, Denver, who had 36-35—71, edged their totals in just ahead of a list of 72's and 73's.

Carl Morris Dann, Jr., Orlando, amateur, with a 39-34—73, led his class in the field.

Bill Mitchell, Syracuse (N. Y.) professional, dropped an ace into the 125-yard third hole this morning with a mashie niblick.

Scores generally were high. The play was conducted under a blazing sun, with an occasional breeze to stir the pine trees that dot the well-trapped Dubsdread course.

Tomorrow's concluding round will be over the 18-hole Orlando Country Club course. Prize money will be divided on the basis of $600 for first, $400, $300, $200 and $100, with a number of smaller prizes.

ley Field Friday morning for a chat with Lane about the coming season's plans. Vitt, Lane and Baum will drive down to San Diego Saturday to complete final arrangements for spring training.

The Stars will make their spring training headquarters at the New Waldorf Hotel in San Diego.

ANGEL AX FALLS ON TWO YOUNG HURLERS

The ax, bugaboo of all aspiring baseball rookies, fell twice out at Wrigley Field yesterday and Pitchers Reed and Daley, two youngsters trying to convince Manager Jack Lelivelt they had hurling possibilities, were the victims.

Lelivelt sent the Cherubs through another snappy workout yesterday on their second day of spring training and believes that his batterymen will early round into shape for the exhibition games coming up with the Chicago Cubs next month.

The Seraph skipper is pleased with the crop of youngsters trying out at Wrigley Field and believes that he'll be able to dig up a few real "finds" for his club.

Lelivelt is particularly impressed with Charley Moncrief, a youthful right-hander, and Roy Moore, a willowy young southpaw. Both chuckers hail from Fresno and therefore loom as "iron man" possibilities if there's anything to those raisin rds you see.

ROOKIES TO GET CHANCE

"I see some of the boys are writing that there's not much chance for the young hurlers to catch on with the Angels this year because of the flock of experienced pitchers on the club," remarked Lelivelt after yesterday's workout. "Well, I'll admit that the youngsters have a lot of competition, but you can say that I'll see to it that they all get a chance to show their stuff. All of the rookie moundmen that display any talent in spring training will get an opportunity and I may even give them a shot against the Cubs. I'm looking out for the future and today's rookies are tomorrow's stars, so I'll try to see to it that no good-looking prospect gets away from us."

The Angels are slated for another two-hour workout, starting at 11 o'clock in the morning. When the Angel regulars check in Monday morning Lelivelt plans on splitting the squad into two sections, the youngsters doing their stuff in the mornings and giving the field to the regulars in the afternoons.

BOB ACKLEY WINS SQUASH LAURELS

Bob Ackley won the Los Angeles Athletic Club singles squash-handball championship on the Mercury Club courts yesterday when he defeated Charles Hilliard by scores of 21-16, 21-17 in the finals match.

Ackley replaces Hal Vance, club squash commissioner, as the L.A.A.C. champion. Vance did not compete this year.

YOUTH WILL HAVE ITS SWING

Wearing his fifty-six years with the grace of a debutante, C. W. Deibel of Youngstown, O., yesterday won the annual Southern California senior championship at the Midwick Country Club with a total of 77-78—155 for the thirty-six holes. Deibel was a mere youngster in the tournament which attracted a brilliant field of 150 veterans of the links. [Photo by D. Scott Chisholm] marksman around the greens, and hits a fine ball off the tee.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Seldom off line, Deibel had ten pars yesterday, and seldom faltered. When he was short, he usually chipped up for one, and not more than two putts. He had only one three-putt green, the twelfth. On the fourteenth he chipped far over the green to find his ball in deep grass on a sloping lie. It looked as if he was sure to lose two strokes and perhaps three, as the island green is surrounded by traps, but his chip back was a masterful golf shot and he holed a thirty-footer for his par.

The card:

Par (Out)	443	545	344	—35
Deibel	544	454	444	—38
Par (In)	445	344	534	—36—71
Deibel	456	345	535	—40—78

Deibel is one of the most interesting golfers to visit Los Angeles in some time. He took up golf at the suggestion of his physician, gained twenty-five pounds the first year, and has been a golf bug ever since. His collection of golf trophies was started in 1908, when he won his first cup.

MANY CHAMPIONSHIPS

At the end of his watch chain, Deibel carries a flock of gold medals that testify to his claims as champion of the Mahoning Golf Club of Youngstown in 1910, champion of the Youngstown Country Club in 1918, 1919 and 1920, to low scorer at the Youngstown Country Club in 1923, and leading amateur in the Pennsylvania open of 1926. In addition, he and his son, who is 26, hold the father-and-son championship of the Cleveland district.

Deibel also holds the amateur record for his home club, a 66. The professional mark is held jointly by Walter Hagen, Al Alcroft and Emmett French at 65.

The Youngstown amateur has some interesting data on how long a man can expect to keep up a championship game. Deibel says his own game has been practically the same for the past ten years. He expects to be shooting in the 70's for another ten years, or until he is 66. After that, Deibel says that loss of distance is too much of a handicap, and a man's game gradually falls off.

Deibel plans to remain in Los Angeles for six weeks or so to play a bit of golf. He was enthusiastic about the weather at Midwick, and says he won't go home until it gets warm in Ohio. If he only stays here long enough, Los Angeles may get another citizen.

CONVERSE SHINES

Converse, who tied Deibel at 77 on Monday, had several tough breaks yesterday, but played exceptionally well to score his 83. Converse is the father and instructor of Mrs. F. M. Slade, nee Hazel Converse, 5 handicap golfer of the California Country Club, and one of the Southland's finest women players.

Although practically out of the running at the end of nine holes, when he required a 43 going out, Converse displayed his fighting spirit on the fourteenth hole by bagging a par after driving a ball out of bounds. He scored a beautiful birdie 4 on the long sixteenth and finished with a 40 coming in.

The card:

Converse (out)	544	565	464	—43
Converse (in)	555	345	445	—40—83

The winners in each class were as follows:

Class A—F. W. Forsman of Midwick won the trophy for net match play against par, being 3 down. The trophy for least putts was won by Edward Kelly of Mountain Meadows with 58 putts. Kelly tied with James McAuliffe of Midwick, but won the play-off.

Class B—H. C. Denson of California won the net match play against par, 4 down, the trophy for least putts going to Ed V. Weakley of the Fox Hills Country Club, 1929 senior champion. Weakley had 57 putts.

Class C—W. A. Watts of Mountain Meadows won the net prize, 6 down to par, while O. T. Mendenhall of Hacienda proved to be the most expert with his putter, requiring only 60 putts.

Class D—J. R. Martin of Annandale carried off the silverware for net par in this class, 3 down. Frank P. Ewins of the Los Angeles Country Club had the least putts, 61.

SMITH WINS TROPHY

The memory of J. D. Cox, who passed away recently, will be perpetuated in his trophy for golfers over 70. Frank Stewart Smith of Rancho won the Cox award.

Among the exceptionally fine performances of the day were Beckwith's 76 and Dr. Hardy's putting. Dr. Hardy, who is a member of the Los Angeles Country Club, had fourteen putts for the first twelve holes yesterday, which ought to be something of a record.

(Out) .....644 464 234—38
(In) .....556 344 533—38—76

Following the tournament, the seniors were guests of the Midwick Country Club at a banquet in the grill room.

SENIORS ORGANIZE

Judge Lewis R. Works, president of the Southern California Golf Association, presided and organized the seniors into an active section of the S.C.G.A., which will be known as the Senior Golf Association of Southern California.

A board of directors of nine was elected, and the following officers will be in force during the year: President, Judge Lewis R. Works of Brentwood; first vice-president, S. W. Forsman of Midwick; second vice-president, H. E. Boyer of San Gabriel, and secretary and treasurer, Darsie L. Darsie of Sunset Fields.

Darsie was only selected for his important position after a committee had thoroughly scrutinized his birth certificate. Darsie testified that he was not a day over 70, and hereafter will be known familiarly as "granddaddy" by all members of the senior association.

The members of the board are Dr. F. S. Hardin of Los Angeles, H. C. Denson of California, Frank Smith of Rancho, E. E. Sanborn of Mountain Meadows, H. H. Jones of San Diego, Judge Works, Blair Boyd of Redlands, Boyer, and Forsman.

FERNANDEZ LOSES TO BAT BATTALINO

ELECTRIC SCHOOL WINS

The Junior Chamber of Commerce basketball team suffered a 22-to-16 setback at the hands of the National Electric School five last night in the Beverly Hills High School gym.

Hemming, of the winning team, scored sixteen points to take the individual scoring honors for the evening.

Twogood Will Scout Husky Cage Outfit

Forrest Twogood, Trojan freshman basketball coach, will leave tonight at 6 o'clock for Seattle, to scout the Washington Huskies in their two-game series with Oregon. He will return here Tuesday with reports for Head Coach Sam Barry, and the two will go into a huddle to prepare the Trojan defenses for the conference championship series, scheduled here March 7, 8 and 10.

Twogood also announced yesterday that he probably would sign with the St. Louis Cardinals within the next few days. Although most local fans don't know it, Twogood is a capable southpaw pitcher, who has been laid up the past few years with a bad throwing arm. He has been working out with the S.C. diamond squad the past few weeks, and declares he is in fine shape.

ally be. There are too many things that can happen.

In the sprints this chap Rowe is being picked by Mercury fans to win third in the 100, but Mr. Rowe is very much of an unknown quantity locally.

MAY RUN ALF

Boyd Comstock may elect to run Ray Alf in the 440 in an effort to surprise Johnny Morrison. Alf has done better than 49s. flat, which would mean quite a race.

As for the 880 and mile you can't dope the club's strength because Jack Burton, L.A.A.C.'s main hope here, has done no competitive running this year. He has good records from the past, but can hardly be picked over runners who are in shape and capable of doing around 2m. flat and 4m. 30s., as are Neikirk and Parker. Of course, if Burton should run as he can run Stanford would be pretty well sunk.

In the two-mile, Chaca and whatever Indians run might clean up all three places. At the same time Brown might win for the Cards.

Giving Pomeroy first over Smith in the highs is considerable of a gamble. There is little to choose between the two athletes, although I favor Pomeroy because he is a conscientious trainer and has had more experience.

In the lows Bob Maxwell has the stuff to win and probably will, although Templeton could cross things up here by running Hec Dyer in this race. Dyer would likely beat Maxwell, but then Alf would probably take the furlong, as Dyer could not be expected to run one race right after another.

HOUSER WOULD HELP

Not much argument about the shot, although Templeton claims Rothert may surprise Brix. Hardly likely this week-end. As for the discus the club is hoping that Bud Houser will be able to make the trip. Houser would be practically a cinch for second to Krenz and this would help a lot. With Houser not there Stanford may take all three places as Rothert is capable of right around 140 feet.

Hoover of the L.A.A.C. may beat Rothert out for third in the javelin, thus giving the club a clean sweep here. In the high jump Gill and Keefer are better than Madison and French, although the Card leapers will have the advantage of jumping in their home grounds, often quite a help.

As for the broad jump, Stanford has four men capable of bettering 23ft. and giving the L.A.A.C. any points here is stretching things. In the pole vault Smith might beat Barry of Stanford for the extra digit.

If Comstock's old-timers perform as they did at Stanford in 1926 the Redshirts will be soundly thumped. But that team had more early-season training than the present squad and it will be surprising if the 1930 outfit is able to upset Templeton's aggregation—a team which is much stronger than a lot of folks realize.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

polo quite a bit, because "Prof." William Muldoon and the other members of the New York Boxing Commission ruled that Johnny wasn't big enough or good enough to play around in New York with such a splendid, upstanding and ferocious fighter as Victorio Campolo, who, strange as it may seem, was once knocked out quite completely by none other than our old college chum, Monte Munn. So you see how embarrassing it would be if Risko, who was good enough to beat Sharkey, Paulino, Godfrey, Von Porat and Delaney, should wallop the daylights out of the big man-mountain from Argentina.

On the other hand, there is a Campolo-Carnera bout on tap for this summer if Victorio beats Risko, and I'd hate to see anything happen to spoil that little party before the two big Italians get a chance to spoil it themselves. They are already speaking of it as the "Battle of the What-Of-It?" but I now offer, free of charge, the musical and nautical sounding title of "Battle of the High C's," Carnera being 6ft. 6in. and Campolo 6ft. 6½in. as the crow flies. That will be the height of something or other. "The Alps vs. the Andes," too.

But how about this elongated gent whose name ends in Polo, and who socks like Tommy Hitchcock but doesn't use a mallet? The kiddo must have something, otherwise he never would have knocked out good old Thomas Heeney, the hard cake of soap from down under the world. Phil Scott outpointed Victorio at Ebbets Field last summer but there were many present who thought that Campolo deserved the decision. He certainly is almost as big as Carnera. I've seen them standing side by side in the ring at Madison Square Garden, and the Italian from the Argentine isn't the nightmare to look at that Carnera is either.

Maybe he'll decorate them all with the V.C. (Victorio's crosa) before the year is over!...

Mermaids to Invade Florida

One swimmer and one diver from the L.A.A.C. will attempt to win the national women's indoor water championships for the Mercury Club at Miami, Fla., March 13, 14 and 15. The two girls are Josephine McKim and Georgia Coleman and if they repeat their sensational feats at the outdoor meet at Honolulu last summer, they will win the championship at Miami, according to their coach, Fred Cady.

GEORGIA COLEMAN

Miss McKim, who scored 17 points at Honolulu, will enter the 100, 220 and 500-yard free-style races at Miami, while Georgia Coleman, three times national champion, will compete in both the ten and three-foot diving events. Helene Madison, sensational Seattle schoolgirl paddler, who trimmed Miss McKim in a recent local match furiously race, will accompany the girls to Miami. Chaperoned by Mrs. L. A. Henry, the party will leave Friday.

The Mercury stars compete in an exhibition meet at St. Augustine March 5 and again at Palm Beach March 8.

Mickey Riley, men's diving champion, leaves March 21 for Cambridge where, on March 28, he will dedicate the new $350,000 Harvard plunge with exhibitions. He will then head for Chicago to compete in the men's national indoors at the Lakeshore Athletic Club, April 2-5. Buster Crabbe, Dutch Smith and John Riley join him for the latter meet.

SECOND BRUIN SQUAD ON WAY

for having his uniform worn by anybody, much less by a rookie.

BRAVES PERFORM IN FIRST WORKOUT

ST. PETERSBURG (Fla.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Fifteen of the advance squad of the Boston Braves were nursing sore muscles today. They had their first workout yesterday. Three others, Ben Cantwell, Ed Brandt and Johnny Cooney, pitchers, have not signed their contracts and Manager Bill McKechnie refused to permit them on the field. The trio watched their mates, mostly battery men, from the bleachers. They are expected to sign within the next day or so.

"CELLAR" TABOOED IN RED SOX CAMP

LID ON TIGHT IN PIRATE DEN

PASO ROBLES, Feb. 25. (AP)—Violation of the club rules will not be tolerated and it is going to be tough for second offenders, manager Jewel Ens has advised his Pittsburgh Pirates training here.

The squad had a busy day here yesterday, playing headball, fielding grounders and indulging in calisthenics. They faced the same program today. The pitchers were allowed to work a bit harder but were warned again "fancy" hurling.

INDIANS BOAST LOFTY ROOKIES

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25. (AP)—The size of the Cleveland Indians' recruit batterymen has brought a glow of satisfaction to Manager Roger Peckinpaugh. With the exception of Salvatore Gilatta, Fort Wayne midget, all of the Tribe's new pitchers and catchers are six-footers.

The first workout originally was scheduled for today, but yesterday's sunshine was too irresistible to wait. Wes Ferrell and Willis Hudlin, holdouts, and Ken Holloway, expected in a few days, are the only missing hurlers.

GIANT MAIN SPRING AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Two of the mainsprings in the New York Giants' bid for the 1930 National League pennant rolled into spring training camp today. They were John J. McGraw, the "Little Napoleon" himself, and Carl Hubbell, whose left-handed slants were a source of much embarrassment to the league's hitters last year.

McGraw landed from Havana too late to take charge of afternoon practice, but will be on hand tomorrow. Hubbell, who was due at the camp some time ago, said he had been recovering from an operation on his nose.

May Broadcast Rich Handicap

Plans to broadcast the Agua Caliente Handicap, to be run on March 23, were revealed at the Biltmore Hotel yesterday by James N. Crofton, general manager of the Agua Caliente track. It is proposed, said Crofton, to broadcast the race over a national hook-up.

Crofton said that the recent proclamation of President Rubio, of Mexico, against gambling applied only to unlicensed games.

HOCKEY MAGNATES PICK PLAY-OFF DATE

M. R. Kester, president of the Southern California Senior Ice Hockey League, and Henry Siemer, owner and operator of the Palais de Glace rink, yesterday went into a huddle and decided upon dates for the play-off which will decide the championship of the local amateur circuit.

According to their announcement yesterday, the winning teams of the first and second halves of the schedule will clash in a series starting March 10. Said series will consist of four out of seven games.

Poly Defeated by Fremont in Exciting Meet

In a thrilling meet that was marked by excellent performances and a sensational tie in the relay, Fremont High's tracksters nosed out the Polytechnic cinder squad, 55½ to 48½, yesterday on the Pathfinders' oval.

The relay was the most exciting event of the day, Clark, star Fremont sprinter, overcoming a 15-yard lead on Mack of the Mechanics on the last lap to wind up in a dead heat with the Poly octet. The time of 3m. 10 1-5s. was very speedy, Clark being clocked in about 21 3-5s. on his sensational final furlong.

Clark also won both dashes for Fremont, while Mack was a two-time winner in the hurdle events. Curtis of Poly displayed a lot of speed in winning the mile in the fast time of 4m. 43 2-5s.

In an upset Bolles and Williams, Fremont pole vaulters, both beat out Lindsay, Poly star, to tie for first at 11ft. 6in. Summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Clark (F.) Cooper (F.) second. Caminiti (F.) third. Time, 10 2-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Clark (F.) Cooper (F.) second. Cassell (F.) third. Time, 23s.

440-yard dash—Won by Collier (F.) Lotti (F.) second. Hodes (F.) third. Time, 53 2-5s.

880-yard run—Won by Graves (F.) Lazzolle (F.) second. Meltzer (F.) and Burkett (F.) tied for third. Time, 2m. 8 3-5s.

Mile run—Won by Curtis (F.) Walters (F.) second. Frost (F.) third. Time, 4m. 43 2-5s.

Half-mile relay—Tie between Poly and Fremont. Time, 3m. 10 1-5s.

Broad jump—Won by Shelley (F.) Lazzolle (F.) second. Meltzer (F.) and Cooper (F.) tied for third. Distance, 20ft. 8½in.

High jump—Won by Coates (F.) Shelley (F.) second. Maenason (F.) third. Height, 5ft. 6in.

Shot put—Won by Gibson (F.) Denis (F.) second. Wood (F.) third. Distance, 42ft. 6½in.

Pole vault—Bolles (F.) and Williams (F.) tied for first. Lindsay (F.) and Stankovich (F.) tied for third. Height, 11ft. 6in.

LOU MAGNOLIA TO RULE BOUT

At the same time a novel touch was added by the informal sanction of a "gentlemen's agreement," in the form of a concession to Johnston's position. This agreement is that Magnolia, on his own discretion and depending upon the circumstances, may cast an inquiring look toward Scott's corner if the Briton is in distress. Otherwise, Magnolia will use his own judgment and confine any consultations with the handlers in either corner to the interval between rounds.

Offhand, in no previous fight that can be recalled has any "gentlemen's agreement" existed between the referee and a fight manager of this sort. From the outset, the whole debate has smacked of the ballyhoo, traveled around a complete circle and wound up exactly where it started. In short, Magnolia will take complete command as soon as the bell rings, as the sole arbiter of all events within the ring.

Dark Sea Wins Derby Workout

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Feb. 25. Coming strongly when the stretch was reached, Dark Sea, one of the William Sharp Kilmer Derby hopes, dashed to victory in the Tehachapi, featured number of the race program here this afternoon. The race was the first mile event ever run at this track. An old-time barrier was erected in front of the judge's stand yesterday to permit of the once-around events.

Dark Sea followed the pace of Starference closely and when Joe Redding let his mount out in the stretch, came on to win by two lengths. Starference saved the place and Wahmonie won the show. Time for the mile was 1:39 3-5. Results:

First race, five and one-half furlongs: Starkist (T. May) won, Miss Whiskers (Crepo) second, Sunny Cora (McHugh) third. Time, 1:07 4-5.

Second race, mile and one-sixteenth: Verdell (Moran) won, Tia Scudder (Greco) second, Alabama Bound (Keiser) third. Time, 1:47 2-5.

Third race, four furlongs: Bright Moves (Truesdale) won, Marzocco (Privatt) second, Voila Green (Callen) third. Time, 0:48 4-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs: King Bank (Depeau) won, Northampton (Keiser) second, Miss Maxim (Redding) third. Time, 1:13 2-5.

Fifth race, mile and one-sixteenth: Billy (Depeau) won, Cimrah (Morrison) second, Magdalena (Romano) third. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Sixth race, one mile: Dark Sea (Redding) won, Starference (Baird) second, Wahmonie (Allen) third. Time, 1:39 3-5.

Seventh race, mile and one-sixteenth: Valley Joe (Redding) won, Patagrau (Keiser) second, Whimsler (Truesdale) third. Time, 1:48.

Eighth race, claiming, one mile: Sandy River (O'Brien) won, Tanist (Redding) second, Paragraph (Cleverley) third. Time, 1:39 3-5.

Trojan Nine to Face All-Stars

The S.C. baseball team will engage in its third practice game of the season this afternoon, this time under the personal direction of Sam Barry, head coach. The Trojans will play a return game with the Crowley All-Stars, whom they humbled last week, 5-3, when Doug Hanby hit a homer with one on in the ninth.

Barry had his athletes working out last night, and lined up a first string that included Capt. Joe Ward behind the plate; Garrett (Whataman) Arbelbide at first; Purcell, second; Orv Mohler, short; Jess Hill, third, and "Stan" Stanier, Hanby and "Bing" Boswell in the outfield.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA AMATEUR HOCKEY LEAGUE

	W.	T.	L.	Pts.
Gilmore Lions	10	1	0	21
Union Oil Pirates	10	1	0	21
Sunfreze Bears	8	1	2	17

The Sunfreze Bears and Union Oil Pirates clash tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. With three games remaining on the schedule, each club has two games to play. The Bears must win both of their contests if they expect to get into the play-off championship.

The league rules call for the first and second teams to play a seven-game series for the title. Gilmore is leading the circuit, but the Union squad can overtake them if they win their two games while Gilmore drops the two they have left to play.

'Ban' Johnson Returns West

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Byron Bancroft (Ban) Johnson, for twenty-seven years head of the American League of baseball clubs, has returned to San Diego for a short stay while physicians of a local metabolic clinic conduct an examination to see how the diabetes treatment they started two years ago is working out. Johnson, who from 1900 to 1927 headed the American League, came here two years ago, a victim of diabetes. While staying at the home of his brother, W. R. Johnson of Coronado, he learned of the strides being made at the clinic and determined to become a patient there. He remained at the hospital for some time and left vastly improved. It was said tonight that Johnson is in fair physical shape.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

NO PROFIT IN SIGHT

ONE reads that the gate for the Jack Sharkey-Phil Scott fight probably will hit $250,000.

Offhand, that sounds like a lot of money with plenty of "sugar" for the Madison Square Garden Corporation, promoting Florida's second annual heavyweight spectacle, and the fighters as well.

But there are other figures to be considered before writing this year's bout off as a financial success.

Last year the Sharkey-Young Stribling contest in the wooden bowl at Flamingo drew a gate of $405,000.

Out of that huge intake a profit of only $50,000 finally accrued to Madison Square Garden, plus $25,000 to Jack Dempsey, who performed in the role of acting promoter for his dead friend and pal, Tex Rickard.

Sharkey received $100,000, Stribling dragged down $63,000, and other expenses ate up the remainder.

Thus, it is apparent that unless there is a shake-up along the line in financial arrangements this year there won't be any kind of a profit for Madison Square Garden, much less one of $50,000.

I do believe there is a slight difference, the terrible Sharkey man being on a straight percentage basis instead of a $100,000 guarantee as he was last winter.

This will help the promoters to a certain extent, removing the bout from the status of being one only for the benefit of the fighters, but there still seems to be a lot of lost ground to be made up by Madison Square before the profit goal is reached.

TRACK ACCIDENT EXPLAINED

MR. BON MACDOUGALL, who still keeps a weather eye on the goings-on of the castor-oil kings although he no longer promotes at Ascot Park, has come to bat for Fred Frame in the spectacular crash at the track last Sunday.

He says that instead of being blamed for any part of the smash-up Frame should be praised for heady and skillful driving—driving which averted a more serious and perhaps fatal disaster. This is McDougall's account of the crash, over which officials, spectators and reporters disagreed at the track:

"Krieger had been having trouble handling his new Miller Special all day. (This being no reflection on Johnny's driving ability. The car was new and had not got the 'bugs' out.) Going into turn from the grand stand straightaway he lost control, the car spinning round. In the meantime Earl Hovendon, a newcomer from Oklahoma, had passed Frame on the straightaway going into the turn with Frame, in an underpowered car, trying desperately to take him in the turn. Hovendon crashed into Krieger's car, Johnny shooting to the upper rail and the Oklahoma driver's car being about midway between the bottom and center of the track, both cars being broadside with not enough space to pass between them. Split seconds courted death, at least serious injury, for all three men. Without an instant's hesitation Frame coolly put his car through the gap, clearing Hovendon but clipping Krieger's rear wheel, though going through safely. Hovendon rolled on down to the bottom of the track and the danger was passed for other drivers following.

"In clipping Johnny's car, however, Frame had damaged his own steering gear, making the car virtually uncontrollable at high speed. He crashed into the upper guard rail tearing out about 100 feet. The car rolled back to the center of the track, making another hazard for the oncoming drivers. Again Frame gave an exhibition of sheer nerve that has seldom been surpassed. Ticking with the wreckage of his racing machine, he steered it as best he could to the inner guard rail. His coolness probably saved the lives of all drivers in the race, as had he collided with Hovendon's car it would have formed a complete barrier for the other cars following and nothing could have prevented them all piling up.

"The newspaper error was excusable, both cars being identical, both painted white and from the press box at the bottom of the stand could easily be confused. Being somewhat experienced in the racing game, I viewed the 100-lap event from the top of the stand where a clear view can be had of the complete oval.

"Thanking you for past favors and hoping you will publish this in the interest of fair play, I am,

"Yours very sincerely,

"BON MACDOUGALL."

ROCKNE'S SALARY BOOST

A POST card from Miami, Fla., is brief and to the point:

"Will be out your way this spring. Feeling good. Regards. K. K. Rockne."

All of which brings up the latest story from Chicago that the famous Norwegian spellbinder who coaches Notre Dame is due for a raise in salary next year.

Knute K. probably makes more money off the by-products of football as a result of his coaching success and his naive wit than as a tutor of the gridiron.

And, according to the yarn, that is a situation that prominent and influential Notre Dame alumni propose to remedy.

It all came about as the result of a story that got into the newspapers last year saying Rockne was receiving a percentage of the gate receipts from all games played by Notre Dame.

In his prompt denial of the statement Rockne said "I don't get a cent out of football receipts. All I get from Notre Dame for coaching his football team is a salary of $10,000 a year."

Following that revelation a group of Notre Dame alumni in New York offered to make up a purse of $10,000 as a sort of token of appreciation of the fame "Rock" has brought Notre Dame.

Rockne thanked the gentlemen for their kindness but declined the "bonus." "I do not believe that any part of my salary should be paid by the alumni," he said. "If the university wants to increase my salary by $10,000 that would be a different matter."

And the university, it is said, taking the hint, plans to raise Rockne's salary before next year to a figure more commensurate with his position in his profession.

Compton Arena to Open Doors

What is said to have been the oldest amateur boxing club in Southern California—Compton—opens its doors Friday night as a professional institution, it was announced yesterday by Matchmaker Clark Wallace.

The main event will feature Peter Jackson vs. Jimmy Valentine at 133 pounds, with Bob Patrick and Vernon Gillette in the semi-windup at 140 pounds.

Wallace asserts Compton became one of the so-called "bootleg clubs" because former Commissioner Seth Strelinger refused a permit at the dawn of the ten-round game.

LOYOLA NINE WINS

Loyola High baseball team defeated the Beverly Hills nine, 9-4, yesterday afternoon on the Lions' diamond. McNab of Loyola hit a homer in the eighth with two men on. Amestoy, also of Loyola, banged out a triple, two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate.

Richfields to Tackle Sheiks

The Los Angeles Richfields meet the champion and league-leading Oakland Sheiks at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tomorrow night.

That the Oilers have a man-sized job is indicated by the scoring records, which show the Sheiks possessing four of the league's high ten individual scorers and by far the best team record both offensively and defensively.

Alexander (Bud) Cook, of course, is the chief point-getter with a total of 34 for the season, twenty-one goals and thirteen assists. Eddie Vokes has registered 26 markers to land in fourth place, while George Giroux is sixth with 22 and Joe Sandercock eighth with 19. Thus, between these four high scorers, the Oaklanders have a total of 101 points for the season, not so bad when it is considered that the whole Oakland team only has counted 151 points all season.

MALCEWICZ VICTOR

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Feb. 25. (AP) Joe Malcewicz of Utica, N. Y., defeated Joe Stecher of Nebraska in two falls out of three in the main bout of a wrestling show here tonight. Malcewicz took the first and third falls.

CRACK HURDLER JOINS TROJANS

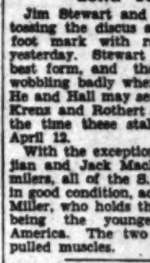
Stokes Declared Eligible for Varsity Squad

Former Prep School King to Run in Highs

Athletes to Meet Friday in Class Battle

BY RALPH HUSTON

Considerable joy in the form of a highly capable hurdler, came to Dean Cromwell, Trojan track coach yesterday, when it was officially made known that Bill Stokes would be eligible for this season's track team.



Stokes, as a student of Baton Rouge (La.) High School, won both the high and low barrier events in the annual national interscholastic meet at Chicago in 1928. He won the highs in 215 1-5s., and took the lows in 24.3s. His best times, however, were 14 4-5, and 23.7, both of them records for his high school. In 1928 Stokes competed in the Olympic tryouts in Boston, getting to the semifinal heat in the highs, where he was eliminated by Carl Ring, of the New York A.C.

CRACK HURDLERS

Cromwell is practically singing great peans of rejoicing, as he now has two talented high hurdlers, and four prospects for the low barriers. Stokes will team up very well with Jeddy Welsh, national junior titleholder in the highs, and will probably concentrate on this event, as Cromwell already has Ernie Payne, second in the I.C.4A. meet last year; Bill Carls, national junior champion, and Welsh in the lows. Until Stokes appeared on the horizon, Bert Ritchey, Moffatt, Vignolo and Roberts, to date only mediocre performers, were his lone candidates behind Welsh in the highs.

Welsh, incidentally, is putting his knowledge to good use in helping Tommy Davis, frosh mentor, to develop a totally unknown prospect. Freddy Karries, center on the frosh basketball quintet, is the hopeful hurdle candidate, although he has never run the barriers in his life. Welsh declares Karries is suitably built, has endurance, learns fast, and if he can develop speed, may be a real good hurdler.

An interclass meet is scheduled for Friday afternoon, in which all of the varsity, spartan and freshman runners will compete. The Trojan class frays usually develop into bitter battles, much more exciting than the California meets have been in recent years. In fact, most of the Trojans would rather run against some minor competition—anybody but Stanford—than indulge in a class meet, for the competition gets tremendously tough.

LONG TOSSES

Jim Stewart and Bob Hall were tossing the discus around the 140-foot mark with rare consistency yesterday. Stewart is far from his best form, and the platter was wobbling badly when he let it go. He and Hall may seriously threaten Krens and Rothert of Stanford by the time these stalwarts hook up April 12.

With the exception of Lee Bastajian and Jack MacFaden, quartermilers, all of the S. C. runners are in good condition, according to Neal Miller, who holds the distinction of being the youngest trainer in America. The two 440 men have pulled muscles.

Alhambra Wins From Hoover

The Alhambra High School track and field team nosed out the Hoover High tracksters, 57 2-3 to 55 1-3, in a meet held on the winners' oval yesterday.

The times and distances were rather mediocre, the best marks being turned in by Muller, of Hoover, who tossed the shot 45ft., and Klann, also of Hoover, who won the mile in 4m. 48s.

The result of the meet was hinging on the relay and the Alhambra lads ran a beautiful race to take the event, and the meet as well.

100-yard dash—Won by Coole (H.); Humphry (A.) second, Morris (H.) third. Time, 10.3s.

220-yard dash—Won by Humphry (A.); Dithart (A.) second, Morris (H.) third. Time, 25s.

Discus—Won by Frazee (H.) Hibbs (H.) second, Kinsley (H.) third. Distance, 100ft.

SOUTH PASADENA FIVE NOSES OUT ALHAMBRA

Staging a desperate rally in the closing moments of the game, the South Pasadena High School quintet managed to tie the score and then win an overtime game by 1 point from the Alhambra High School five, by the score of 18 to 17 yesterday in the winners' gym.

The Tigers were trailing by one basket at the end of the third quarter, from which point they put on their spectacular rally, which proved too much for the weakening Moors. Matthews of the South Pasadena squad was high-point man with 10 digits.

Daro Signs Gene La Doux

"Gorilla" Gene La Doux, the wild French-Canadian who gave Nick Lutze such a tough match here last week, was signed by Promoter Lou Daro yesterday to appear in the special event of the all-star wrestling card planned for the Olympic next Wednesday night.

Daro expects to have an opponent for La Doux today. The promoter has also wired an offer to Dr. Carl Sarpolis, the wrestling physician from Cleveland, to appear on this card in the other bout, it was announced.

The card will be topped by a finish mat battle between Lutze and Everette Marshall. It will be the first meeting between this pair of young stars, and one of the best matches ever witnessed at the Olympic is looked for.

Marshall returned from the San Jacinto Mountains yesterday, where he has been in training ever since his match with Howard Cantonwine here last week. The young star has reopened his training quarters at Glendale.

Lutze, as usual, will do all of his training at the life-guard station at Venice.

Movie Quintet Beats L.A.A.C.

In one of the fastest games of the season, the Hollywood Athletic Club basketball team evened up the score with the Los Angeles Athletic Club quintet last night in its own gymnasium, winning by the score of 51-to-46. The game score between the two local clubs is now even with one victory apiece.

The filmland club's victory last night gives it a chance to tie for first place in the Southern California A.A.U. League with the Angeleno Mercuries, which will be a fact if the local quintet drops its next and last game to the San Diego Athletic Club Saturday night at San Diego. Last night's tilt completes the H. A. C. five's season.

The game last night was fast and exciting throughout, and the final result was in doubt until the last few minutes of play. "Rags" Wilcox, the flashy center from the University of Iowa, was all over the court for the losers, and was high-point man of the evening with 20 points. Cole, forward, led the Hollywood scorers with 14 digits, being closely followed by McCormick, the other forward, with 13 points.

The line-ups:

MIAMI FIGHT TO BE BROADCAST HERE

Due to the fact that the Sharkey-Scott fight will not be nationally broadcast, and in order to give the squared-ring enthusiasts a ringside description of the event, the R.-K.-O. and Orpheum theaters have made arrangements to broadcast the event by special leased wire service, it was announced yesterday by the theater managements. Round by round descriptions of the fight will be announced from the stage of both theaters on Thursday night, starting promptly at 7 o'clock.

SANTA BARBARA BOYS ENROLLED

Channel City Schools Enter Junior Olympic Games

BY BRAVEN DYER

City schools of Santa Barbara will be entered 100 per cent in the 1930 Junior Olympic Games program, according to word received yesterday from W. H. Orion, director of physical education for the Channel City metropolis. This means that from 700 to 1000 youngsters of Santa Barbara will participate in the all-around athletic test.

Decision to enter the program was made at a recent meeting of school principals of the city, the resolution being a unanimous one and expressing a desire to co-operate to the fullest extent with the executive committee of the Junior Olympic Games.

According to word from Director Orion the following schools will take part in the program: Franklin, Garfield, Harding, Lincoln, McKinley, Peabody, Roosevelt, Washington and Wilson elementary group; Santa Barbara Junior High and La Cumbre Junior High.

Last year R. L. Glover of La Cumbre was one of the moving spirits behind the Junior Olympic Games in Santa Barbara. A. S. Pope, superintendent of schools for Santa Barbara county, also lent valuable support to the program.

During the 1929 competition Santa Barbara produced two very good senior athletes in Billy Crow and Howard Witter who made nice performances in the county finals. Billy Evans also showed well among the juniors.

Many great athletes have been developed around the region of Santa Barbara in years gone by and there is a strong possibility that this year will find one of the Channel City youngsters winning the award of that wonderful trip to Latin-American countries. This prize is to be given the four boys making the best showing in the Southern California finals slated to be held in Los Angeles during the first week of June.

The voyages will be one lasting approximately twenty-eight days and will be made from New York to Los Angeles, via the Panama Canal. Stops are planned for seven Latin-American countries. The trip will be made via the Panama Mail Steamship Company.

THE GOOD 5¢ CIGAR THAT AMERICA NEEDS

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Meriem listened to the fiery young Arab in bewilderment as he talked in low, persuasive tones. He it was who had stolen from her the little packet she had found in the Swede's camp. Abdul Kamak was no fool. At once he had noted the likeness of his captive that day, to the child in the faded photograph. But why was the Sheik's daughter clothed in the garments of the unbeliever? Then he had read the yellowed newspaper clippings.

With some difficulty he translated the story printed in French. Abdul Kamak had been to Paris. With one of his desert fellows he had gone there and he had improved his time learning the customs and some of the language of his conquerors. As he came to understand the clipping's context his eyes went wide. Then in his mind, he formed a plan cunningly calculated to enrich himself. Now he was attempting to carry it out.

With fervent passion he poured forth in Arabic his torrent of words: "From the moment my eyes beheld you they told me my heart must ever be your servant. I ask that you trust me. Come with me and we will go where my father is a sheik mightier than yours. I love you—let me take you away from him. I will take you whether you will or no for I, too, hate the Sheik—" "You hate the Sheik?" came a grim voice from behind them.

Both turned to see the Sheik standing near. "Yes," shouted Abdul Kamak, "I hate you!" As he spoke he sprang forward, felled the chief with a blow and dashed across the village where his horse stood saddled. Leaping to it, he made for the gates. The Sheik, merely stunned, staggering up, shouting to his followers to stop the escaping Arab. But with a wild whoop and with reins flying loose, the son of the desert spurred on past the gates.

MRS. TULLY WINS DIVORCE FROM HOLLYWOOD AUTHOR

On grounds of extreme cruelty, a decree of divorce yesterday was granted at Las Vegas, Nev., to Mrs. Margaret Tully, freeing her of wedded life with Jim Tully, hobo author of Hollywood and recent participant in a fisticuffs encounter with John Gilbert, film star. The decree was granted twenty-four hours after Mrs. Tully had filed suit, charging the red-haired writer's "temperament was too much to bear." On two previous occasions, she told the court, she instituted divorce proceedin in New York, but withdrew each suit as a result of her husband's pleadings.

Mrs. Tully asked neither alimony nor court costs, declaring herself content with permission to resume her maiden name, Margaret R. Myers. The request was allowed, the suit being uncontested.

Preliminary to filing the suit, Mrs. Tully went to Las Vegas, November 20, last, establishing a residence there and compiling a "Dictionary of Slang." She is the daughter of R. Holtby Myers, Los Angeles building-and-loan executive, and married Tully January 24, 1925, when she was a student at University of Southern California. Tully's first wife, Florence B. Tully, obtained a divorce in 1923 on charges of desertion after thirteen years of married life.

POLICE LIST QUESTION UP ONCE MORE

Steckel Opposes Giving Sampson Eligibility in Face of Good Report

An adverse report by Chief of Police Steckel on the request of Oscar W. Sampson for restoration to the police eligible list, in the face of a very favorable report to the Police Commission by its own investigator, raised the much-discussed question again yesterday as to the jurisdiction of the Chief and that of the commission.

Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller held that under the charter the commission could not take favorable action on an applicant opposed by the Chief, but it could approve any selection he approved.

Drake said the commission has power to direct the Chief's recommendation. The commission decided hereafter to hold conferences with the Chief on candidates for restoration to the police force, which he stated would be agreeable to him.

The commission will confer with Steckel as to his reasons for opposing Sampson.

District Deputy to Pay Elks Here Official Visit

Los Angeles Lodge of Elks, No. 99, will be visited tonight for the first time during his tenure of office by C. Hal Reynolds, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of the southern district of California. In 1928 Mr. Reynolds was president of the Pasadena Association of the Tournament of Roses.

C. HAL REYNOLDS

He will be the guest of honor at a dinner tendered him by officers and all Past Exalted Rulers of the lodge.

Mr. Reynolds was a member of No. 99 lodge of Elks for many years before becoming affiliated with the Pasadena lodge. He has been particularly active in the charitable work of the Elks' lodge throughout the Southern California district.

Students Given Blame in Lloyd Picture Strife

Agitation in Shanghai against Harold Lloyd's first talking picture was started by a group of Chinese students, according to cabled advices received yesterday by William R. Fraser, general manager of the Harold Lloyd Corporation, from representatives of Paramount in China.

"The picture was passed by the Shanghai Board of Censors without a single cut," declared the messages to Mr. Fraser, "and had played four days simultaneously in two theaters before the demonstrations caused Paramount officials to withdraw the picture pending consultation with the Chinese government officials.

"When we made 'Welcome Danger,'" stated Mr. Fraser yesterday, "we engaged Chinese experts purposely to avoid any embarrassment to the country or its nationals. In fact, we learned over backward in trying to avoid questionable situations, and felt that we had accomplished that aim in view of the fact that we had not had one single complaint from Chinese sources in this country.

"We will withhold all further showings of the picture in China until we are convinced there is no further danger of demonstrations."

ACCIDENTS GAIN BUT DEATHS DECLINE

Traffic accidents and injuries in the city during the first fifty-five days of 1930 exceeded those of the corresponding period of 1929, it was revealed yesterday by Police Statistician Rhoda Cross.

A decrease is shown in the number of traffic deaths in the period of January 1 to the 24th inst., as compared with the corresponding period of 1929. More motorists were booked for driving while intoxicated in this year's period than in last.

The comparative statistics follow:

	1929	1930
Traffic accidents	1785	1925
Injuries	2243	2404
Deaths	90	89
Motorists booked	145	177

ACTION ON MAIL CONTRACT SOON

Decision on Panama Mail's Bid Awaited

Award to Line of Especial Local Interest

Building of New Liners at Port Forecast

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Los Angeles is watching with interest the result of bids on certain mail contracts which closed at Washington at noon yesterday. Behind the bids lies the probability of new liner tonnage to be built at Los Angeles Harbor.

Listed as Route No. 37, the requirements call for the transport of mail from San Francisco to Puerto Colombia, with twenty-six trips yearly with thirteen-knot ships, and for the addition of two eighteen-knot ships within three years.

So far as is known Panama Mail Steamship Company is the only bidder. It is known that Panama Mail contemplates not only two, but three new intercoastal liners, costing $3,500,000 each, and semiofficial reports are they would be built at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, expected soon to change operation management.

Two other bids are to be closed the 28th inst., both of which will have a bearing on Los Angeles. Route No. 38 calls for seventeen trips with ten-knot ships annually from Tacoma to Valparaiso, and construction of one eighteen-knot vessel. Grace Line whose vessels call here is expected to be a bidder.

The other route, No. 39, is a weekly service between San Francisco and Puerto Armuelles with eleven-and-one-half-knot vessels, and three sixteen-knot ships to be added in three years. United Fruit Company is believed interested in this route.

Indirectly associated with such Pacific shipping, is the report of conferences at New York involving executives of not only the Dollar and American Hawaiian lines, but the International Mercantile Marine as well. A "hook-up" between the three, it is said, would change the entire complexion of shipping in the Pacific.

NEW COOLING IDEA PUT ON TUNA BOATS

Efficiency of refrigeration in big tuna fish boats is declared doubled by simple contrivances evolved by C. D. Lee, marine superintendent at San Pedro and the Campbell Brothers of San Diego. By it, it is claimed, the fish will arrive in the same freshness for canneries as is required for market fish.

Air spaces are afforded inside the skin of the ship, permitting refrigeration from the coils overhead to circulate entirely around the fish cargo. Horizontal shelves also are being installed midway down the holds, to lessen the weight on the lower fish, and notches have been cut through the bin boards under the shelves, so refrigerated air can reach the middle portion of the cargo.

These and a few other minor changes cost only $350, yet they are expected to enhance a boat's catches several times that amount, as well as save 20 per cent on ice. It is understood all big tuna boats are installing the innovation.

The Johanna Smith, employed with uncertain success the last two autumns as an offshore gambling barge, is reported sold by S. W. Beggs to Joseph A. Hartman of Bell, for use as a fishing barge off Newport. The craft was towed into port last fall from her anchorage off Huntington Beach by the Coast Guard as an asserted menace to navigation.

Dr. Pedro J. De Larralde, Venezuelan Consul at Los Angeles, has moved his consulate to 531 Beacon street, San Pedro. It is the first full consulate at the port, although several vice-consuls and consular agents maintain offices at the harbor. Dr. Larralde is secretary of the Consular Corps.

Capt. David W. Weldt yesterday paid his first visit in years to Los Angeles Harbor, where he was the first pilot back in the '70s. It was he for whom was named Weldt rock, a submerged obstruction in the outer harbor fairway, removed two years ago by the Harbor Department. Capt. Weldt is a brother of Joe Weldt, pioneer ship chandler here, but long has made his home in Oakland, where he recently retired from shipping.

MONTECITO LOSES AGAIN

Superior Court Judge Rules County Ordinance Against Oil-Drilling There Invalid; Superintendent Freed

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 25.—Judge William D. Dehy, in Superior Court here today ruled the county ordinance prohibiting the drilling of an oil well in Montecito was invalid when he freed C. M. Wright, drilling superintendent of the Lincoln Drilling Company, of charges of violating the special zoning ordinance on a writ of habeas corpus.

This is the second court action the Lincoln Drilling Company has won in its effort to spud in Meyer No. 1 on the property of Mrs. Elena Meyer, just inside the eastern boundaries of the Montecito zoning ordinance area. The ordinance was declared void on the Meyer property by Judge Edward Henderson of Ventura several weeks ago. The ordinance against oil well drilling was enacted after the derrick for the well had been erected on the property.

A test of the power of the county to control oil well drilling is to be made in Supreme Court if Wright is arrested under the law which requires oil companies to get a permit from the Board of Supervisors before drilling can be started on any well. The other case could not be appealed.

CROWN CITY DIRECTORS LAUD NURSE

Unnamed Woman Praised for Quick Wit That Led to Arrest After Hold-up

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—The Board of City Directors voted a resolution of appreciation to an unnamed Pasadena Hospital nurse and to local police officers for their efficient work in capturing two negroes who are suspected of being the bandits who staged a hold-up Saturday night in which Joe Wong, wealthy Chinese merchant, was murdered.

Late last night, Benjamin S. Smith, 30-year-old negro, was arrested in Los Angeles and lodged in the local jail on suspicion of being an accomplice of Theodore Albritton, who was jailed Sunday after confessing to Chief of Police Kelley that he fired the shot that struck Wong in the back and caused his death.

When Albritton's brothers called at the Pasadena Hospital to ask whether he had been injured, an alert nurse became suspicious and telephoned police.

Police Lieutenant Lee Culver and Sergeants Marion Pursell and Ralph Schad followed the two negroes to a Los Angeles address where they arrested Theodore Albritton after waiting two hours for him to appear.

Doctor Loses Large Diamond in Burglary

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—Two thousand dollars' worth of jewelry, including a three-quarter-karat diamond ring, were stolen last night from the home of Dr. Joseph P. Szukalski, assistant surgeon of the emergency hospital, police reported today.

The surgeon's home apparently was entered while detectives were investigating a burglary at the W. C. De Witt residence, less than two blocks away. The Szukalski home is at 124 State street. Entrance to both homes was gained by forcing open side windows.

SEXTON GETS POST IN REDLANDS BANK

REDLANDS, Feb. 25.—Announcement was made here today that Jay C. Sexton is to become affiliated with the local branch of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles as assistant manager. The announcement came from the central office in Los Angeles after the local board had recommended his appointment. Management of the local office will then be vested in Volney Kincaid, manager; Warren Roach, assistant manager; Jay C. Sexton, assistant manager, the latter occupying the desk vacated by Kincaid prior to his being selected to his present position. Sexton came to Redlands about seven years ago from La Brea to become vice-president and manager of the First National Bank of Redlands, which was later purchased by the United Bank and Trust Company, which in turn was purchased by the Merchants National Bank of Los Angeles and still later consolidated with the Bank of America, resigning last summer just prior to the merging of the two branches of that institution.

CHURCHMAN DIES AFTER LONG LIFE

Father Joshua P. Bodfish, Former Head of Cathedral at Boston, Succumbs

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—Father Joshua P. L. Bodfish, 90 years of age, former head of the Boston Cathedral, died today at his residence, 335 South El Molino avenue, following a short illness. He had been a local resident for the last eighteen years.

Although brought up under Congregational and Baptist influences, Father Bodfish studied and took orders in the Episcopal church, becoming assistant rector of All Saints' Church, Philadelphia. He then turned to the Catholic church and was baptised by Bishop Domenec of Pittsburgh in 1863. He later built up the Young Men's Catholic Society, connected with churches in New York.

Going to Boston in 1878, he was stationed in the cathedral, where he became rector. In 1889 he was appointed to the pastoral charge of St. John's Church in Canton, Mass. A founder of the Antiquarian Society, afterward known as the Bostonian Society, Father Bodfish also was a director of the Bunker Hill Monument Association and a member of the Historic Genealogical Society. A personal interview with Cardinal Newman in 1884 was among his cherished memories.

Father Bodfish leaves no relatives in California. He leaves one brother, William H. Bodfish, and five nephews in Hyde Park, N. Y., and cousins in many eastern cities. Funeral services will be announced by Wendell P. Cabot of this city.

Mexican Held to Answer; Drunk Driving Charged

ONTARIO, Feb. 25.—Santiago Mesa, 27-year-old Mexican laborer, today learned his first lesson in court procedure when arrested on the charge of driving an automobile while drunk. He was bound over to Superior Court after preliminary hearing in local court.

Mesa was arrested early Sunday morning, after he is said to have sped across an intersection at fifty miles an hour without paying any heed to a boulevard "stop" sign. He was pursued for several blocks by Motorcycle Officer Fred A. Tebo.

When Tebo stopped Mesa he opened the door of the Mexican's car, and Mesa fell out on his head, according to the officer. Six other passengers in the car hurled two bottles of asserted liquor to the pavement, but a third bottle was confiscated by Tebo.

Damage Suit for $100,000 Filed

SANTA ANA, Feb. 25. (AP)—A suit for $100,000 damages has been filed in Superior Court against the Citizens' Bank of Laguna Beach by Jose D. Carter, a depositor, who charges that action by the bank in paying out his funds to a claimant creditor without his knowledge led him into a situation where he wrote a check against his account when it lacked sufficient funds to cover the amount drawn, thereby causing his arrest on a felony charge.

Carter also sued for an additional $234.96, the amount he says the bank paid from his account to the Commonwealth Investment Company without his knowledge. The bank had no right to make the asserted payment, according to Carter. His claim for damages is based upon humiliation by reason of his arrest at Pasadena on the check charge.

Carter made a deposit in the Laguna Beach bank October 9, 1928, he stated. On October 18 he gave a $32 check to a Pasadena market. The bank having meanwhile paid out the $234.96, this check was returned marked "not sufficient funds."

The market owner filed a felony complaint against Carter, who was arrested and held in custody until his hearing on November 15, when the court dismissed the charge, he asserts. The law firm of Decker & Dawson, Los Angeles, represents Carter in the action.

GLENDALE, Feb. 25.—Discharge of an automatic pistol in the hands of his wife last night sent P. E. Switzer, 1220 South Central avenue, to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital with a .25-caliber bullet embedded in his right breast, in so serious a condition that doctors delayed probing for the bullet until the patient recovers from the shock following the wound. According to the story told Chief of Police J. D. Fraser and his secretary, F. B. Ricksecker, by both Switzer and his wife Margaret, the accident occurred while Switzer was cleaning the pistol and when Mrs. Switzer took the weapon from her husband's hands to show him that the firing mechanism was stiff and needed oiling. It was while she was trying to demonstrate the fault in the gun that it exploded, sending the bullet into Switzer's chest. Mrs. Switzer told the police that she thought her husband had removed the cartridges from the gun, but it was found that four shells remained in the breach, with one in the firing chamber and an exploded shell lying on the floor of the room where the accident occurred. Dr. O. J. Sloan, who was summoned by Mrs. Switzer, stated that he could not determine the gravity of the wound until he found it possible to extract the bullet.

Scholtem, auto-camp proprietor, to plant more trees near his place was also given official sanction.

BUS FRANCHISE GIVEN APPROVAL

LONG BEACH, Feb. 25.—Lang Transportation Company will be awarded a fifteen-year franchise to operate a city-wide bus service under an ordinance adopted on the 1st inst. and given a second reading by the City Council today. The Lang company has operated several bus lines here for three years under a permit. At the time the permit was granted charter restrictions prevented granting a franchise without a universal transfer clause.

FLOOD CREATED BY WATER-MAIN BREAK

LONG BEACH, Feb. 25.—The low area near State street and Walnut avenue, which is inundated during every heavy rain, was struck by an artificial flood this morning when a twenty-inch water main broke.

HEART DRAMA CONCLUDES

Curtain Rings Down as Aged Grandmother Has Sentence Commuted for Abduction

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 25.—The curtain was rung down today by Superior Judge Morton on one of the most unusual and pathetic dramas ever taken through the county's Hall of Justice as he modified a two-year jail term to permit Mrs. Marie Bilts, 65-year-old grandmother, to leave her cell in the County Jail and go, under court order, to Phoenix.

Nine years ago she was charged with child stealing for the "abducting" of her beloved grand-daughter, Ruth Wagner. Today she heard the court impose, as one condition of her release from the jail, the command that she should not further molest the girl. And it was to Phoenix that she first fled after picking up the small child from the streets here as the latter trudged her way to school.

Before she is removed from the State, Mrs. Bilts, Judge Morton ruled, shall be permitted to visit the grave of her daughter, the mother of the girl for whom she risked arrest for eight years and for whom she has served nine months of the two-year term in the county prison. After that she will be taken to a bus station here by Mrs. Cora Sweeters, jail matron, placed on the vehicle and the driver explicitly instructed to see to it that the aged woman does not leave the bus until it reaches Phoenix. Those were the court's orders.

She was arrested in Los Angeles last year when she reappeared eight years after her disappearance with the small motherless grand-daughter. Previous to that she had successfully withstood extradition proceedings in Phoenix after the child had been taken away from her and returned to its father here. The girl, now nearly a young woman, is attending a school in Los Angeles.

MOOSE WILL CONVENE IN COAST CITY

Mooseheart Legion Will Hold Closed Session in Santa Barbara Sunday

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 25. Approximately 1000 members of the Mooseheart Legion of the Loyal Order of Moose are expected to be here Sunday for a Southern California Coast conclave. Plans to entertain that number were made in a meeting of the executive committee last night.

The conclave is to be a closed session in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Lodge members from as far south as San Diego and as far north as San Luis Obispo are to attend the all-day meeting which will start at 11 a.m.

The forty-five piece Greater Los Angeles Moose Band will be here for the occasion. Two automobile caravans are to start from Los Angeles for this city. Plans to have a parade here are being considered by the committee.

The members of the executive committee in charge of the plans for the conclave are: J. L. Odams, G. Silva, L. M. Adreen, J. Sattler, Charles McCants, E. M. West, John De Ponio, A. A. White and Joseph Chibos.

Pioneers Will Be Invited to Attend Pageant

UPLAND, Feb. 25.—All of Southern California's pioneers will be asked to participate in the second presentation of this community's historic pageant, "The First Californians," if plans now being considered by the backers of the pageant materialize.

Several leading citizens seek to have the historical event made much larger in scope this year, and suggest using an open air amphitheater in the foothills of the mountains north of here.

Last year the pageant was presented at Chaffey Union High School amphitheater, but the spectacle was almost too large for the surroundings.

An effort will be made to have all prominent pioneers of the Southland ride in a parade of pioneer vehicles. "The First Californians" was written in pageant form by Miss Mabel Stanford of Chaffey faculty, and the musical setting was arranged by S. Earle Blakeslee, head of the Chaffey music department.

WOMAN'S KNEE CAP CRUSHED IN CRASH

REDLANDS, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Nellie M. Johnson, 8223 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, whose right knee cap was crushed in an automobile accident on West Colton avenue, was removed from the Redlands Community Hospital and taken to her home today, according to reports received from attendants. Mrs. Johnson was injured when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband, Malcolm L. Johnson, collided head on with another machine operated by E. J. Savoie, according to the report made at the police station by Johnson.

COUNTY CHAMBERS AT OASIS

Members of Riverside Area in Record Numbers Gather for Luncheon Session at Palm Springs Inn

PALM SPRINGS, Feb. 25.—A record number of members of the Riverside county Chamber of Commerce and representatives from the various chambers throughout the county, attended the luncheon given at the Desert Inn here today. Seated in the open at the banquet tables some 300 presidents, secretaries and their members reported their more recent activities to Walter Clayson of Corona, president of the county chamber and J. L. Davis of Corona, secretary of that body. Warren B. Pinney, vice president of the Palm Springs chamber presided and welcomed the visitors.

Among the latter were Mayor J. S. Long of Riverside; T. C. Jameson, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors; W. T. Moore and J. E. McGregor, County Supervisors; Jesse Wells, John Taylor, Clarence Backstrand, George Redman, G. Lodli, A. J. Pearse and F. N. Lindsley, members of the Riverside City Council.

Notable among the speakers were H. W. Postlethwaite, secretary of the Coachella Chamber of Commerce, who spoke of his district's attempt to make the Salton Sea, which is the lowest body of water in North America, being 268 feet below sea level, the scene of aquatic and motor boat events during the 1932 Olympic sports, while J. O. Percival, secretary of the new Mt. San Jacinto Chamber of Commerce, mentioned having the distinction of being the youngest chamber, of the highest elevation and with the smallest membership.

August Richards, representing Nuevo, also attended and requested everybody present to assist in making the Southern California Fair a bigger success this year, he being president of the association. E. T. Pulford, secretary of the local chamber, gave a resume of the building and progress made here during the year, mentioning a total of $1,500,000 expended on improvements, a figure which leads the whole county for 1929.

He then led the procession of some sixty cars around the various projects, ranches and private homes scattered about this oasis. The Desert Inn Trio entertained the visitors with music as did the Banning High School Girls' Chorus, dressed appropriately in white for the summery weather in a garden of palms and flowers.

Suicide Hinted in Drowning at Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 25.—Helen J. Sparks, 35-year-old San Francisco Salvation Army worker and former Santa Barbara society woman, who came here to visit her two children, was drowned in the surf off the East Cabrillo beach here this afternoon, possibly a suicide. She was estranged from her husband, Herbert E. Sparks, trust officer of the local branch of the Bank of Italy, several months ago.

She registered at a hotel here Sunday. Late this afternoon, after visiting with her children, she stopped at her hotel, then went to the beach where she rented a swimming suit despite the cold winds and rough ocean. Ten minutes later M. A. Snyder, a life guard, saw her body floating on the surface of the water. Efforts to revive her were futile.

Police found an empty box of heart stimulant open on her dresser and expressed a thought she took a heavy dose with intentions of going to the beach to drown herself. Chief of Police George Sloan and Officer Harlin Kimsey investigated the drowning. Inquest will be tomorrow.

ALHAMBRA COUPLE SAVED FROM RIP TIDE

LONG BEACH, Feb. 25.—In a sensational double-rescue in the surf off the foot of Redondo avenue this afternoon, two Alhambra residents were saved from drowning in a rip tide. Elaine Christian, 21 years of age, of 1217 Garfield avenue, and James Edwards, 23, of 509 Lincoln avenue, both of Alhambra, were discovered in distress several hundred feet off shore. An unidentified bather brought Miss Christian to shore after a hard battle with the surf. Life guards reached Edwards in time to hold him up until the life-saving launch arrived. Both bathers were revived without difficulty.

Pioneer Woman Dies at Home of Inglewood Son

INGLEWOOD, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Julia A. Pardee, a pioneer resident of California, passed away yesterday morning at the home of her son, Fred R. Pardee, 243 North Locust street. Mrs. Pardee came to California forty years ago, first settling in Newhall and later moving to Los Angeles. She was born in Meadville, Pa., on December 30, 1850.

She leaves two sons, Fred R. Pardee of this city, Leslie Pardee of Breckenridge, Tex., and a daughter, Mrs. Blanche Lehman of Hermosa Beach.

The late Mrs. Pardee had been a subscriber to The Times ever since a few days after her arrival in this State, and her son Fred, was one of those who took part in the taking out of bodies at the time of the explosion that wrecked the Times Building.

Peabody Estate Accounting Ends

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 25.—Some $2,000,000 was turned over to four children of the late Frederick Forrest Peabody in Superior Court today when the final accounting of the trustees of the estate was settled. The portion of the estate for the son, Frederick G. Peabody, is to remain in trust for two years until he becomes of age.

In his will, the deceased left five-eighths of his estate, after a number of bequests were satisfied, in trust for three years for his five children. The law firm of Heaney, Price and Postel filed the final papers for probate yesterday. Peabody died three years ago on February 23.

The children who received their portions of the estate are: Helen Peabody Downing, Rachael Peabody Ogilvy, Josephine Peabody Byrne and Ruth Peabody Fleming.

The trustees of the estate were: Mrs. Kathleen Burke Peabody McLean, John M. Curran and Mrs. Dewitte...

THOUSANDS OF "AGGIES" STOLEN

Onyx Company Plant Raided At Huntington Park and Marble Output Taken

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 25.—Some one is liberally supplied for next summer's marble tournaments in backyards and vacant lots. Police were informed today that the California Onyx Company plant here was robbed over the week-end of 10,000 agates, having a value of 9 cents each, or $900 for the lot.

PROBLEM OF LABOR PUZZLES

Farm Bureau Official Back from Washington Says Hope is Congress May Act

SANTA PAULA, Feb. 25.—The hope is that Congress will pass an act to authorize President Hoover to appoint a commission to develop facts and indicate to the people of the West and Southwest a solution of their difficult labor problem, A. C. Hardison, State Farm Bureau official, who recently returned from a trip to Washington, said today.

He said further that R. N. Wilson of the State Chamber of Commerce is in Washington at this time for that particular purpose.

Hardison pointed out that an evil result of restricting Mexican labor would be an influx of Filipino or Porto Rican laborers.

Federal Aid for County Highway Will Be Sought

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 25.—Federal aid will be asked for the Mountain-to-Desert Highway down the eastern slope of the San Jacinto Mountains, the Board of Supervisors decided as County Surveyor Fullmer conferred with them briefly regarding the project. Fullmer's comprehensive report of his survey of two possible routes was not filed and Fullmer asked that he be granted another week in which to complete new details that have arisen.

The Supervisors determined to appeal to the Federal Bureau of Roads officials for an appropriation to make possible surfacing of the thirty-mile road following its completion by county prison labor. Action to this end was prompted by the government's reported inclusion in its 1930-31 road budget of an appropriation for paving of the Idyllwild high-gear road from the forest boundaries of Idyllwild.

Originally the board expressed opposition to seeking Federal assistance on the mountain-to-desert work. When the matter was first brought up, it was proposed that a communication be sent at once to the government asking what aid could be given, but a delay was agreed upon until the route for the road has been selected by the Supervisors.

LONG COURT SESSION DECIDES THEFT CASE

MONTROSE, Feb. 25.—It took Justice Charles R. Dyer of Crescenta township all afternoon and a night session that lasted until close to midnight to decide the merits of the case in which George Q. Dewey accused C. E. Sloan, R. I. Sloan and C. D. France of grand theft. Besides the witnesses brought into court by both sides, the courtroom was littered with parts of mining machinery, bed rolls and cooking equipment, and other property that was asserted to have been taken from a mine owned by Dewey. Judge Dyer finally found the defendants not guilty.

Jackson, secretary of Pasadena Y.M.C.A., eighty-five workers began the task of canvassing here today in the annual $7500 friends and funds week for the Y.M.C.A. Walter M. Babcock, druggist, is in charge of the campaign, with J. S. Armstrong, nurseryman, his adjutant. Division commanders are Hobart Alter, A. L. Davenport, R. D. Newton and W. W. Stevens. The slogan adopted in the drive is "$7500 or bust."

HIT BY TRAIN, HE GETS UP AGAIN

Hurled Seventy-five Feet, Japanese Proves Pluck

Staggers Back to Wreck of Truck Before Collapse

Southern Pacific Padre in Mishap at Burbank

BURBANK, Feb. 25.—After being struck by the Southern Pacific's crack train, the Padre, and hurled a distance of seventy-five feet, Kiso Fugikawa, 43 years of age, picked himself up from beside the track, staggered back to the point where his truck had been demolished by the speeding train, and collapsed after swaying for a moment over the wrecked automobile. At the Burbank hospital, where he was taken after the accident, it was stated that Fugikawa was suffering from a possible skull fracture, a deep laceration on the forehead, and bruises all over his body, received when he rolled along the ground after being thrown from his seat.

Fugikawa, who lives at 2343 North Hollywood Way, was driving a load of farm fertilizer to the ranch of Dr. Elmer Thompson, on Hollywood Way, where he is employed, and as he approached the Southern Pacific tracks at North Hollywood Way, he saw the train speeding southward. Fugikawa, police stated, slowed his car and attempted to apply the brakes, but by mistake stepped on the accelerator, with the result that his truck spurted right into the path of the flyer.

Fugikawa was thrown clear but the truck was reduced to a twisted mass of wreckage and was thrown against a telegraph pole alongside the track, part of it being wedged so firmly against the cowcatcher of the locomotive that it had to be removed by force. Dr. Merrill, who treated Fugikawa at the hospital, gave him an even chance to recover from his injuries.

Officers Adams, George and Dixon, who investigated the accident, questioned W. J. Kenner, the engineer, and T. B. Hamburg, the conductor, before allowing the train to proceed.

ANOTHER DEATH ADDED TO TOLL OF TRIPLE CRASH

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 25.—Death today of John N. Cochrane, 1143 Fifteenth street, from injuries received Saturday night in a triple-car crash north of Oceanside, brought the death toll for the accident to three, Coroner Kelly announced.

John A. Witcher, 48 years of age, and Roderick Argo, 23, are the others who were killed. Both died several hours after the crash.

Harry A. Johnson, one of the drivers, is recovering from minor injuries in the County Hospital. He is being detained under guard pending the inquest.

All three bodies are in the Benbough funeral establishment where a triple inquest will be held late this week. Miss Nell Churchill, seriously injured in the crash, is in a San Clemente hospital.

Eliot Rogers Weds Countess

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 25.—Countess Constance de Jumilhac, the daughter of David Coolidge of Boston and Santa Barbara, and Eliot Rogers, brother of Cameron Rogers, the author, and a nephew of Charles Fernald, prominent Chicago banker, and Reginald Fernald, local newspaper publisher, were married here over the week-end. JUNIOR COLLEGE PLEA MADE BY HAWTHORNE

HAWTHORNE, Feb. 25.—A request that the plan of converting the new Adolph Leuzinger High School at Lawndale into a junior college to serve the Inglewood and South Bay district be given consideration has been forwarded the Inglewood Union High School officials by the City Council here. The suggestion has been put forward following the announcement of the school men that the junior college is being sought for this district. Active work on the proposed institution, according to Supt. George M. Green, will await legislative action favorable to the State Board of Education which at the present time is not approving any more junior colleges because of existing regulations.

STATE PARK STEP TAKEN

Election Set to Sever Beach Area at Manhattan as Move Toward Sale to State and County

MANHATTAN BEACH, Feb. 25.—Petitions asking an election to permit severance of the beach area from the corporate limits of this city, as a step in its sale to the State and county as a public playground, were filed with City Clerk M. P. Crandall today. The election, a requisite where the State takes possession of property within an incorporated municipality, will be set for April 14, in connection with the regular city election, if the petition is found sufficient.

The sale of the beach to the State and county jointly, now understood to be practically consummated, was handled by George Kern, local broker, who represented both sides in the transaction.

The property is in two parcels, that owned by George H. Peck, and the Manhattan Beach Development Company property, together with 3700 feet of beach south of the municipal pier in Redondo Beach, held by the Pacific Electric. The frontage is being secured by the State at a figure approximating $700,000, Kern said.

Options for all three tracts are in the hands of Attorney Henry W. O'Melveny of the State Park Commission, and will be exercised as soon as the legal technicalities involved can be met with, according to Kern.

The purchase, together with the municipally owned beaches at Redondo and Hermosa and the county tract at El Porto, will secure as a public playground an almost unbroken stretch nearly six miles in length in this district.
